

I MAKE UP $7000 IN BANK DEPOSITS JUST BEFORE IT CLOSED

Hardest of Luck Is That of Albert Shriver, Philomath, Who Has $3000 in Checks Returned; Cashier Watched

(Special to The Journal.) Corvallis, Oct. 24.—(Special to The Journal.) Corvallis, Oct. 24.—(Special to The Journal.)

Bank Examiner Bennett states that he has been rather slow in auditing the accounts of the bank because of the fact that he is constantly delayed by depositors who want interviews or who call him on the telephone.

Shriver, his wife and another relative, own 1110 of the stock of the bank and he also owns about two thirds of the stock of the Philomath creamery.

Albert Shriver, a prune dealer of Philomath, sold his prunes to Tillotson Bros. of Salem and for them received a little over $7000. This money Shriver deposited in the bank on Tuesday afternoon of the week that the bank closed.

Shriver believes Cashier Evans knew at the time he accepted his deposit on Tuesday that the bank was insolvent.

Salem, Or., Oct. 25.—When court adjourns today it will adjourn to sit again in Portland, Monday, November 24, on the University of Oregon referendum case.

Shaniko, Or., Oct. 25.—There was no apparent immediate quarrel between Mayor J. C. Fowle and D. A. Howell, which led to the fatal shooting of the former in this city last night.

Howell stopped and told Mr. Fowle that some one had called him, Howell, a thief. The mayor replied that he did not know anything about that and added, "I think you ought to go to bed, Dell."

Howell did not know at the time of his departure for The Dalles with the sheriff this morning that his victim was dead and expressed regret that he had shot him. He said, "Boys, I wish it had been Fowle that shot me instead of my shooting him."

Biography of Fowle. The public schools and all business houses are closed today out of respect to the dead man.

Fowle has been a resident of Shaniko about seven years, the last two of which he has served as mayor. He was born at Tipton, Iowa, on May 8, 1874.

Umph! "Jim" Sundown No Good. Umph! 4 Times Horse Buck "Jim"—In Picture

Risks of the Pendleton Round-Up where terrible horse busts for all red brothers within trailing distance.

(Special to The Journal.) Pendleton, Or., Oct. 25.—This is a story with a climax.

By way of explanation, let it be known that "Jim" Sundown was the Indian entrant in the Pendleton Round-up buckaroo contest.

"Jim" rode with consummate skill. But to add more to his seeming victory, he struck his spurs into the rearing horse just to show the judges what he really could do.

HIP POCKE PLEA MADE FOR SLAYER

Ernest Robinson Represented as Believing Life in Direct Danger.

(Special to The Journal.) Portland, Oct. 25.—The prosecution in the case of Ernest Robinson, charged with the murder of Lewis M. Atkinson in this county over a ditch right for a mining claim near the Ochsone river last May before Judge Bradshaw, is about to start here this morning after the entire day yesterday had been spent in selecting a jury for the special venire summoned to this case.

Judge Bennett of The Dalles was asked the position of the defense throughly in the hearing statement and made it plain that his conviction would be that the shooting was done under conditions in which the accused believed his own life was in immediate danger.

The trial will continue the remainder of the week as the number of witnesses is large.

ARLINGTON BOOSTERS PLAN GOOSE DINNER

C. C. Clark, president of the Arlington Commercial club, has written to the Portland Commercial club, suggesting plans for the coming week, when the tri-county convention to encourage greater development of Sherman-Morrow-Gilliam road is to be held.

Other plans for entertaining the delegates will make the occasion one of pleasure as well as important business, said Mr. Clark.

To plan for Portland's part in the development convention James J. Beyer, field secretary of the Oregon Development league will call a meeting for luncheon in the Commercial club probably Thursday.

Many letters are coming from various points in the three counties expressing great interest in the development movement and giving pledges of support and cooperation.

FAST EXTRA TRAIN KILLS FARMER AND HIS HORSES

(Special to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., Oct. 25.—Overtaken by a speeding extra consisting of an engine and a caboose, William Burrows, a prominent Spirit Lake, Idaho, rancher, was instantly killed, together with his team, on the Idaho-Washington Northern crossing near Upper Fish Lake last night.

The accident happened on a straight stretch of track, where a view both ways was available. Burrows failed to see the engine approaching a short distance away till the horses were on the track, then attempted to back them off.

His body was buried nearby feet. He is survived by a widow and two children.

TO ENFORCE STATE LAW AGAINST SPEEDER

Judge Taxwell has announced that hereafter he will fine all automobile drivers brought before him, regardless of what speed they are driving, if it is shown that they were driving too fast for the safety of pedestrians.

He takes this stand on the section of the state law which makes it an offense to drive faster than at a reasonable rate, according to the traffic conditions.

There has been a decided conflict between the city and state laws, but by a recent ruling of the city attorney, it was decided to observe the state laws.

Chief of Police Slover has been asked by Judge Taxwell to instruct his men to arrest all violators of the "reasonably speed" section.

Sick Mother's Plea Frees Boy. (United Press Leased Wire.) Seattle, Wash., Oct. 25.—Because his mother is about to undergo a serious operation and asked to see her boy, juvenile court officers have released from custody James Lloyd, 18, held preparatory to the filing of grand larceny charges. The boy stole goods from a store, but promised to do better for his mother's sake.
