FOR SALE—HOUSES 61

$500
DOWN

I am the owner of two homes and must sell either the one or the other at once. This house I built expecting to move in, after selling the one I am now occupying, but the party who bought had unexpected financial difficulties, and has moved east, leaving two houses on my hands.

This house is double walled and paper lined throughout; it also has double floors upstairs as well as down, the latter being hardwood, while the upper is of natural finished and polished fir. The porch is full width of the house, and supported by massive columns set on cement block piers. A large oak door opens into a reception hall, which has a built-in seat; stairs rise to the hall above and has electric light on the newell post; a large sliding three-ply veneered panelled door opens into the living room, and three-ply veneered door opens into the kitchen.

The living room is 14x16 and has a beautiful cream-chipped brick fireplace; on either side are built-in bookcases with bevel edge plate glass set in metal bar doors; above are cottage windows. A large triple window with a long metal bar sash above opens on the front porch, while a columned arch opens into the dining room.

The dining room, 14x16, has a massive built-in buffet, opposite the arch with long columns on either side, from floor to ceiling; this buffet has beveled edge plate glass metal bar doors and drawers arranged for silverware, napkins and larger linen; there is a triple window opening on the side lawn, and a double-acting 3 ply veneered door opening into the kitchen; this room is panelled with 3 ply veneered panelling of a beautiful grain, and has a plate rail above.

These rooms are stained a rich golden oak with a wax-oil flat finish, while the ceilings are tinted cream and the side walls a pretty shade of tan; above the plate rail is a beautiful frieze of a woodland design; the floors are of seven eighths inch hardwood, tongued and grooved ends and sides, highly polished.

The Dutch kitchen is a model of convenience with its many drawers, pot and kettle closets, sugar and flour bins, dish cabinets, sink, double drainboards, wood lift, dust chute and plastered boiler closet; there is a built-in ironing board with a flush receptacle for the ironing plug, which is controlled by a flush switch that avoids pulling the plug out each time it is desired to discontinue ironing.

Above the dish cabinets are cupboards for storage of canned goods; a glass door opens on to the rear porch, while another opens into the basement; another one paneled veneered door opens into the front hall.

The basement is full width and length of the house, and has cement floor, cement walls to floor joist, cement wash trays and many windows to give light. There is a built in fruit cupboard.

Upstairs there are three large bedrooms, each with a large closet with a window; these rooms are tinted cream ceilings and walls are of a pale blue, another old rose, another a pretty shade of canary yellow, with rose design friezes for borders. Off from one of these bedrooms is a sleeping porch.

The bathroom has a full supply of modern plumbing consisting of low-down flush toilet, washstand with an 8-inch apron and a heavy rolled rimmed cast iron bathtub; there is also a shower connected with the tub; there is a builtin medicine chest with a plate glass mirror in the door. This room is tinted robin-egg blue, with white enameled walls six feet from the floor.

This house was built for a home and it is equipped with the most modern up-to-date conveniences; there is a dust and clothes chute in the upper hall; each room upstairs has a telephone plug in the baseboard so that, if desired, the telephone can be taken to any bedroom or bath and plug in and ready for service; each room in the house has an electric flush switch, and in the bedrooms are two dresser lights and each closet has a light; the fireplace has two mantels; in the upper hall is an electric plug for electric carpet sweeper or to warm baby's milk; in the living and dining rooms are electric plugs for carpet sweeping.

I will make terms to suit the most desirable purchaser and take a good lot as part payment.

FOR SALE—HOUSES 61

$100
Down

I am closing up my affairs for the winter, getting ready for a trip south, and will my house occupied by some responsible person to whom I will sell on practically their own terms.

This house is on a good carline and has a porch full width of the house, supported by four massive columns. A genuine bungalow door opens into a large living room, 14x20 feet long; at the end is a beautiful fireplace, on one side is a builtin bookcase, on the other is a builtin desk, while above are cottage windows; there are three large triple windows opening on the front porch and a high decorative plate rail is around the room. Ample paneled door opens into a pass hall, while a colonial arch separates this room from the dining room.

The dining room has a triple window opening on the front porch, while on the other side of the room, opening on the side lawn, are three cottage windows. There is a built in buffet, beam ceilings and wide paneled beneath the plate rail. A 3 ply 7 paneled door opens into the Dutch kitchen. These rooms are stained a beautiful golden oak, with a wax oil finish, while the tinting is a pretty shade of leather, ceilings cream.

The Dutch kitchen is one of the most complete and up to date that would please the most exact housekeeper; there is a sink with double drainboard, woodlift, boiler closet, built-in ironing board, pot and kettle closets, dish cabinets, moulding boards; windows on all sides of the room; a glass door opens on the rear porch, another to the basement, while another opens into the pass hall. This room is tinted white and woodwork white enameled.

The basement has cement floor, cement wash trays and plenty of windows for light.

The pass hall gives access to the bedrooms, bath and stair to the floor above. There is a linen closet. The bath has a full line of plumbing consisting of washstand, low-down flush toilet, a cast-iron, enameled bathtub, medicine closet, etc.

The bedroom is 11x13 and has a large closet. This room is white enameled and tinted a delicate pink.

Stairs rise from the pass-hall to the hall above, off from which are two large bedrooms with built-in seats and closets. These rooms are very tastefully tinted. Off from the hall are large store rooms. This house is double constructed and all street and sewer assessments are paid. Piped for furnace. A sleeping porch can and will be finished, if required.

I will sell this house to the most responsible person and will take a desirable lot of acreage as part payment.

FOR SALE—HOUSES 61

$100 $
Down

$30 a Month
Including Interest
Lot 100x100

I am willing to sell this 4 room house to the most responsible person at practically their own terms.

Remember this: If you are all right and not a speculator, and have not got the $100, call and see the house, and if you like it I will try and let you have it.

There is a built-in porch full width of the house, supported by massive columns; a door opens into the reception hall.

The reception hall is 8x13, and has a built-in seat and stairs rise to the floor above. A door opens from this room into the kitchen.

The living-room is 12x14, and has a triple window opening on the front porch, while on the other side of the room windows open on the side lawn, sliding doors open into the dining-room.

The dining-room is 12x14 and has a triple window opening on the side lawn, while a double-acting door opens into the pass pantry.

The pass pantry is arranged for convenience, and has dish cabinets, flour, sugar bins, pot and kettle closets, drawers, sink with double drainboard and window above. A double-acting door opens into the kitchen.

The kitchen, 12x14, has a double window looking on the side lawn, while a glass door opens on the rear porch; there is a woodlift and boiler closet, and a built-in cabinet; a door opens to the basement.

The basement is full length and width of the house, and has many windows for light.

From the reception hall stairs rise to the hall above, off from which are the bedrooms, with closets and large windows.

The bathroom has a full line of plumbing.

Now I will tint this house to suit the purchaser, and paint the woodwork to suit. This house is double-constructed and has built-out flower boxes at the windows. I am only looking for the interest and will make any reasonable terms to the purchaser. I will take a desirable lot or acreage or good equity in same. Come and see the house.

FOR SALE—LOTS 16

BUY NEAR REED COLLEGE
LOTS FOR $450

The most essential point for a real estate buyer to keep in mind when buying a piece of property is that of development near that property. If you have development, your property must grow in value. There is not an doubt about it, the ultimate home real estate choice is Reed College. Such property will be in greater demand every year.

The next point for you to bear in mind is whether you are getting the property at the right price. With these two points at your attention, we present the following proposition:

We have several lots only two blocks removed from Reed College campus. They are 40x100 feet. Some are 40x113 feet. The water mains are now in front of the lots. The sidewalks are partially laid and will soon extend to the balance of the lots. The lots are all cleared and level; no costly grading. The price per lot is only $450. Can you beat it? And you can buy one of these lots for $45 cash and $15 per month. These lots are from $100 to $150 cheaper than other lots near the institution.

We would like for you to telephone our office or call and permit us to show you these lots.
