shall say, Peace and safety, then sudden destruction cometh upon them as travail upon a woman with child and they shall not escape. But ye, brethren, are not in darkness that that day shall overtake you as a thief. Ye are children of the light."-I Thessalenians 5:1-5.

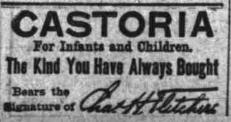

The speaker declared the world incredulous respecting the Divine supervision of earth's affairs. Its sentiment today was prophesied by St. Peter, who declared that the worldly at this time would say, "Where is the promise of His presence? * * all things continue as they were from the foundation of the world."--H Peter 3:4. The world is not expected to understand the Divine times and seasons, plans and purposes. The Redeemer de-clared that the Father hath hidden these things' from the world wise and pru-dent and has revealed them unto babes -the humble minded, the footsers fellowers of Jesus.

"The Wise Shall Understand." such, if loyal, are privileged to know the things of God-"yea, the deep things"-the things made known only to the saintly, the spirit-begotten who, in proportion to their faithfulness, are in tune with the Infinite one. The Day

The speaker likened this relationship between God and his saints to wireless telegraphy. God's people have coherers tuned in harmony with himself by his word and spirit. These can receive much of the deep things of God. The worldly have no coherers at all-no means, therefore, of communication with the Infinite. The lukewarm Christion has, indeed, a coherer in the boly spirit, but it is not tuned to the proper key and is, therefore, not prepared to re-ceive the deep things of Divine cominication.

Our world for 6000 years has been a battlefield on which the hosts of dark-ness have largely prevailed over the emparatively small number of children of the light, who, in an enemy's country have stood forth for God, the Redeemer, the brethren and the truth against the of this world"-Satan.

The Day of the Lord.

Our text looks down to the present time-to the harvest of this gospel age-to the completion of the gatherng of "the church of the firstborn"to the "marriage of the lamb." It as sures us that sudden destruction is im-pending over the present social and religious order and that this will not be discerned by the masses. They will be saying, peace and safety, federa-tion and triumph, when in the close of the harvest the plowman shall overtake the reaper. The awful trouble of anarchy is to follow closely upon and really to overtake the reaping work of this age. Others may surmise on thing or another with more or less of Ining or another with more or less of accuracy, but only "ye, brethren," who are children of the light and walking up to privilege of the sons of God, will realize the situation fully and enter into the joys of your Lord beyond the vell and escape the trouble, the plow-ing time of the new dispensation. How giad we may well be that the great trouble comming as a result of great trouble coming as a result of human selfishness in rich and, poor will human seriancess in rich and, poor will be so overruled by our gracious Lord as eventually to usher in the glorious kingdom, when truth, rightcousness and love will uplift mankind and bless all in proportion as they shall hunger and thirst for the righteousness of God, which will then be made fully known to eml

St. Louis Post, forming the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, of which he was owner when he died.

In the early eighties Pulitzer's eye sight failed. But that did not prevent him from making the New York World, a paper of small circulation then, one of the greatest dailies in the world Up to the time of his death, Pulitzer was the same nervous, energetic, impatient and excitable disposition that characterized him when he first went into the journalistic field.
