tone Map of Bragron—Oregon as it appeared in 1858 may he seem any day on a may had secured by the Portland Commarcial club from Miss E. M. Stater, formerly of Portland, but now a resident of dan Prencises. The map was come the property of her father, E. M. Shiter, an early Oregon pleaser. Oregon is those days had un counties east of the Cascada mountains and the map above little but mountains, streams and lakes. On the upper and lower margine of the map are printed pleasured in the lower of falon, Jackson-ville, Enguen City, Dalice, Oregon City, Corvalia and Fortland, and a picture of the Willamette falis. That a number of the Willamette falis. That a number of the Willametic falls. That a number of rivers have been renamed since then, is shown by the fact that Hood river is down as Dog river. The Lawis river in Washington was called Cataportis river. Among the towns on the map are Portland and Brooklyn. Brooklyn now a part of southeast Portland. In those days it was a community by Oregon dairyman. It is required that a from the supply to customers be less showed the count as made by Professor Pernot, state hacteriologist, to have been consecutively 900, 900 and 1000. Mr. Kiger came to Portland at the beginning of the pure milk campaign with the announcement that he intended to demonstrate that a clean dairy could be operated as profitably as the unsanitary ones that had received the condemnation of health authorities.

Boy Plays With Matches; Costs $300. -The present of a handful of matches by a neighbor boy to 3-year-old Vance Pruitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Pruitt of 54 ...ast Twenty-fourth street, north, resulted in the loss of about $200 by fire, which started in stored oods when the inquisitive youngster attempted to experiment with the matches. blaze spread rapidly through several automobile seats that were stored there, and then to the wood work. The gas meters were both destroyed, and a hole was burned through the kitchen floor. The flat in which the fire oc-curred is occupied by Pruitt and Donald

Attempt to Burn House-Mrs. Waters reported to the police last night that Halloween hoodlums had attempted to burn down her home at 208 Sher-man street, but the fire did not spread, although a good "plant" was laid for it. Ott soaked rags were found in the basement and against the door was found a sonked papers and kindlift wood, partially burned, and near it was a small pile of matches that had been lighted in an effort to start the fire. Parolman Wilson made a report of the affair to Chief Slover.

"Why Not Criminal Action Against Steel Trust?" Questions Bryan.

(Stated From Laund Who.) Lincoln, Nah., Nov. L. Following up his effects upon President Taft, William J. Bryon in his Commoner today demands is know why jall would not be a good thing for the officials of the Steel Irust. In an open latter Bryon

"Mr. President. Why do you begin a sett in aguity instead of orticinal presentation against the steel officials? prosumption against the steel officials? In the atterney general's opinion the defeathment are charged with having violated the cettoinal law. Why heatints to ask for their sonviction and imprisonment? Is it because the anti-trust law is worthless as a criminal statute since the supreme court inserted the word 'reasonable?' You ask me the name of one trust that cannot be punished under the 'present law. I same three—the Brandard Oil, the Tubecco trust and the Steel trust.

Stant trust.

"I call you to witness that the law as amended by your judges is worthless as criminal law. Will you edink this or take the position that the big criminals should not be sent to the pentiunitary?"
