Native City of Shanghai Captured by Revolutionists
Desperate Battles Raging in Hankow; Peking in Panic

IMPORTANT PORT FALLS TO REBELS; FOREIGNERS SAFE

Settlement Placed Under Guard and All Preparations for Protection in Case of Strife Are Made.

View of the foreign section of Shanghai, China—The native section has been captured by the rebels.

(United Press Landed Wire.) Shanghai, Nov. 2.—To prevent its capture by the imperial troops the rebels have evacuated the arsenal at Han Yang, according to wireless reports from Hankow.

Tientsin, Nov. 2.—Manchuria is threatened by revolution. Mukden is reported in a state of ferment and there is fear that Chinese rebels will ally themselves with the Manchurian element and fire the three eastern provinces with war.

Shanghai, Nov. 2.—The rebels today captured the native city of Shanghai without serious resistance. The foreign settlements are under guard and all preparations made to protect the lives of European residents in case fighting should begin.

The only sign of opposition by the imperialists to the rebels' capture of the native quarter of Shanghai was the firing of a few random shots by the garrison. The foreign warships had already landed marines to support the local foreign volunteers which were called out shortly before the rebels assumed control.

JAPANESE IN DEADLOCK OVER BIG NAVAL BUDGET

Tokio, Nov. 2.—Ten hours' debate among the Japanese ministry on a proposed increase in the naval budget ended in a deadlock early today.

DRY BELT CITIZEN TELLS PORTLAND HOW IT CAN REALLY AID HIS COUNTRY

Instead of Convention Speeches, Finespun Theories and Good Stories, of Which He Says Sherman, Morrow and Gilliam Have Had Plenty, $100,000 Is Needed in Five-Year Loans at Low Interest to Help 100 Farmers Raise Hogs.

(Special to The Journal.) Condon, Or., Nov. 2.—"If the people of Portland are sincere when they tell me of Morrow, Sherman and Gilliam counties that they want to help in changing conditions, they should have some opportunity to make good by putting up the money to start the work."

CALIFORNIA'S FIRST JURY OF WOMEN DISMISSES OBSCENITY CHARGE BROUGHT AGAINST EDITOR

"Not Guilty" Is Verdict of Suffragists Acting for First Time on Court Deliberative Body, After Considering Accusation of Circulating an "Indecent Newspaper."

(United Press Landed Wire.) Los Angeles, Nov. 3.—"We, the women of this jury, find the defendant, A. A. King, editor of the Watts News, not guilty." These words, coming from the mouths of the first jury of women in the state of California today, are still ringing in the ears of Editor King, who on trial on a charge of having circulated an "obscene and indecent newspaper."

FOREIGN CONSULS AVER THEY HAVE BEEN NEGLECTED

Officials Propose to Organize Selves Into Federation to Gain Recognition From City, State and Federal Officers.

Hurt and indignant at the treatment they say they have received at the hands of municipal and federal authorities here on all public occasions, the foreign consuls residing in Portland have decided to form an association which it is hoped will help to bring them more recognition as is the case in other cities where foreign consuls are represented.

"We are here as the accredited representatives of the different countries which have a large amount of intercourse with the United States and before we can act in that capacity the president of the United States must have set his hand and seal to the document that gives the right by law to represent the particular country whose interests we are pledged to look after."

AN EMPTY MARKET BASKET

Charity now, but Portland has the money and we have the land, which has not produced a crop in four years.

This sentiment, expressed by a prominent business man who refuses to have his name used for business reasons, seems to be about the last analysis of the problem which brought about the meeting of the people of the three counties in Arlington Tuesday, at which the Portland Commercial club had a charity now, but Portland has the money and we have the land, which has not produced a crop in four years.

LOT GUILTY

Having applied profane epithets to him, and in chronicling the episode King printed the exact words which he alleged the city official uttered. These words cast aspersions on King's parentage, with the condemnation of the Creator profixed.

In explaining the jury's decision Mrs. Nellie Moonau, the youngest member, who is 22 years old, said: "Our verdict did not mean that we believed the editor was honest in his endeavor to aid the public when he printed the article. It is not half so shocking to read such language in the privacy of our homes as it is to hear it on the streets when we are compelled to pass by."

LATIN ARTILLERY CHECKS ADVANCING TURKISH TROOPERS

Shells of Ottomans Ineffective Through Failure of Powder to Explode—Italians Hard Pressed for a Time.

Following the publication in some local papers whereby the chief commander of the Italian troops at Tripoli had been taken prisoner and Tripoli was about to be retaken by the Turks. The local Italian colony raised a fund of several hundred dollars for the purpose of being in constant communication with the premier of Italy, Giovanni Giolitti, and the first of a series of cablegrams was sent yesterday morning to the premier by Mario Q. Montresna, editor of L'Italia, asking the premier to either admit or deny such news. Premier Giolitti promptly replied as follows:

"The 'mine' was uncovered about 10 feet from the City Park barn. The barn stands about 30 or 40 feet from the zoo. Had the clock worked it is believed that the entire hill upon which the zoo stands would have been hurled into the gulch at the head of Washington street."

(United Press Landed Wire.) Rome, Nov. 2.—Italian artillery at Tripoli has again defeated an advance

PLOT TO DESTROY ZOO AT CITY PARK SEEN BY WORKMEN

Ten Sticks of Nitroglycerine, With Time Fuse Attached, Dug Up Near Animal Cages by Contractors.

Ten sticks of nitroglycerine, enough to destroy practically every animal in the City Park zoo, to which was attached a time fuse and clock, but which had failed to work, was uncovered at a corner of the barn at the rear of the animal cages in the west end of the City Park this morning by a crew of men who are putting in sidewalks and curbs at that point.

"In one place the odor was so strong that he did not care to lift the lid of the manhole. For a number of years the sewage along the water front has been both an eyesore and a menace to the health of the city but the odor that emanated from the sewer refuse was scarcely discernible except in the immediate vicinity of the water."

TRUNK SEWER ON WEST SIDE NOW WILL BE BUILT

Present System of Emptying Refuse into River Menace to Health of People—Mayor Makes Investigation.

Trunk to Be Laid Down Fourth Street, It is Now Intended.

"I have ordered City Engineer Harbort to prepare plans and estimates of the cost of constructing a trunk sewer 18 or 12 feet in diameter to parallel the river and to empty all the sewage of the west side down Fourth street at a point as far down the river as the contour of the country will permit," said Mayor Bushlight today after returning from a trip of inspection on the river front.

"A proper appropriation for the maximum deepening of the mouth of the river and the channel from Portland to the sea must be made of Portland benefits from the advanced date for the completion of the Panama canal."

"Therefore," said Mr. Teal, "Portland should take every opportunity for the development of its interior, because the foundation of hope for the future."

TEAL SEES HOPE: OREGON MAY GET UMATILLA PLAN

Concerted Action of Congressmen and People Will Win Taft's Favor, Declares the Attorney in an Interview.

Attends Rate Hearing in the Supreme Court

Issues of vital importance to Portland, Oregon and the nation were reviewed tersely by Joseph M. Teal this morning following his return last night from Washington, where he appeared before the supreme court in behalf of the city's and state's transportation interests as connected with the appeal of the railroads from the intermountain rate situation of the interstate railroad commission.

"A proper appropriation for the maximum deepening of the mouth of the river and the channel from Portland to the sea must be made of Portland benefits from the advanced date for the completion of the Panama canal."

"Therefore," said Mr. Teal, "Portland should take every opportunity for the development of its interior, because the foundation of hope for the future."

SIX STATES JOIN TO AID INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM

Argument Begun Before Supreme Court on the Constitutionality of Direct Legislation by the Oregon System.

Telephone Lawyer Stumped by Quiz

"My opinion is that the court will hold the question is purely political, entirely within the jurisdiction of the states under the constitution. I have not seen any member of the court, but I reached the city after a consultation this morning with one of the nation's ablest constitutional lawyers. In my mind there is no doubt that the decision of the supreme court will favor the initiative and referendum as constitutional."

"Washington, Nov. 2.—Six states joined hands before the United States supreme court this afternoon in defense of the initiative and referendum. Attorneys representing Washington, California, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri appeared to supplement Oregon's arguments in favor of the constitutionality of direct legislation."

CHAMBERLAIN URGES DEMOCRATS TO HOLD PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, Nov. 2.—Senator Chamberlain urges the Democratic national committee to recommend to all state committees the holding of presidential primaries. He urges it, both as consistent with progressive policies, and as a good stroke of politics by the Democrats, because the Republican national committee will in all likelihood reject the request of the Republican progressives for such primaries.

"Oregon, Nebraska, North Dakota, Wisconsin and New Jersey have legally adopted the presidential primary," Senator Chamberlain said. "The legislatures of Texas and Louisiana have instructed that they be held. The sentiment of the country, I believe, is in favor of this means of ascertaining the people's wishes as to national candidates. The people in a vast majority are progressive. I mean progressive in the political sense just now attached to that word."

place, the progressive sentiment is right, and in the second place, it is good politics to listen to it. "Every argument that has been adduced to support the systems of direct primaries applies with equal force to primaries to learn the people's wishes as to national candidates. "The Democratic national committee, therefore, in my opinion, should endorse the idea of presidential primaries."
