

PERFECT FRUIT IS HARD TO JUDGE AT HOOD RIVER SHOW

Competition Is So Close Prize Givers Have to Compare Apple With Apple in the Boxes, Seeking a Defect.

(Special to The Journal.) Hood River, Or., Nov. 11.—Description of the prizes at the Hood River Apple Fair was given by enthusiastic spectators among exhibitors. The judges found it a hard task to compare the apples in the boxes on each side of the aisle, for they had to find even a slight imperfection and had to compare the competing apples individually. The final awards were as follows:

Best Green Apple Baskets.
Best in box commercial exhibit—Forsyth & Porter, first prize, $50; Best in box—Lawrence & Smith, second prize, $25; Best in box—Lawrence & Smith, second prize, $15.

Best Red Apple Baskets.

MOTHERLESS ONES SEE SANTA CLAUS

Inmates of Boys' and Girls' Aid Society Home Guests of Big Department Store.

This has been a happy day for the motherless children at the home of the Boys' and Girls' Aid society. They have seen Santa Claus and have been given presents from his hands.

This morning the boys and girls from the home were the guests of the Major & Frank store and were given all the time they wanted to feast their eyes on all the pretty dolls displayed in the sixth annual doll show held by the big department store.

After they looked and looked, and their eyes had grown big with delight, Santa Claus appeared, a real Santa Claus. He gave them presents, not missing a single one, and the children went away happy.

Over 1400 entries were made this year in the annual doll show. They include dolls of all sizes and grades. Nearly every country on the globe is represented by some of the dolls.

Probably the oldest doll on exhibition is owned by Millie Crouch of 15 1/2 Street Twenty-sixth street. It is an heirloom handed down from her great, great, great aunt and great, great, great, great mother, Nannie and Martha Bennett, sister whom the islands of Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket were named after.

Another doll being shown was made in 1781, another in 1793. Another one is 150 years old and is owned by Ruth Wilson, the great, great, great granddaughter of Governor Spotswood of Virginia, who played with it when a lad.

DEMOCRATS RALLY TO GORE DINNER

Call for Tickets Shows High Regard in Which Blind Senator is Held.

Portland Democrats are highly pleased with the enthusiasm being shown over the visit of Senator Thomas F. Gore of Oregon in Portland next Monday. The demand for tickets to the dinner to be given by the Jackson club in his honor Monday noon greatly exceeded expectations.

The blind senator is highly regarded in the ranks of his party. His abilities and qualities of mind are admired.

It is considered by many that the election of Thomas F. Gore to the United States senate is the most unique and interesting story in American politics. It is the story of a man who is totally blind from his tenth year, with no capital other than a clean record, a finely developed intellect and a sympathetic and helpful wife, who was able to win an election to the United States senate.

When Oklahoma was admitted to the union it was necessary to elect United States senators to represent the state. The new constitution provided for the direct primary. The man most prominently mentioned for the position was a rich capitalist-politician. Another candidate was one Thomas F. Gore.

But Gore was ambitious. He announced his candidacy and the announcement was received with surprise and admiration. The blind senator is held in high regard in the ranks of his party.

SHEEPMEN TO HEAR MANY-SIDED STORY

Grazing, Marketing, Freight and Cooperative Plans Are on the Baker, Or., Program.

(Special to The Journal.) Portland, Or., Nov. 11.—Outlining the program for the fourth annual convention of the Oregon Woolgrowers' association, an address was given by Secretary Dan D. Phillips today here, with the list of speakers and subjects. The speakers include many authorities on matters relating to wool-growing and the subjects all have a direct bearing upon the sheep industry.

The convention will be held in Baker, Or., November 14 and 15 and Secretary Phillips anticipates a large gathering of woolgrowers than usual on account of the threatened repeal of schedule K and because of the wool rate hearing now before the Interstate Commerce commission. The program as now arranged is as follows:

"From the Sheep's Back to the Market," by Charles H. Green, a widely known wool buyer.
"Woolgrowers' Cooperative," by W. Woodcock, by President Fred W. Woodcock of the National Woolgrowers' Association of Chicago.
"Wool Grazing as an Aid to Forest Fire Protection," by F. A. Elliott, state forester.

"Marketing of Oregon Wools," by C. C. Cook, manager of the Union Stock Yards, Portland.
"Cooperation as a Solution for the Political and Financial Problems of the Woolgrower," by F. A. Freeman, cashier of the Lumbermen's National Bank, Portland.
"Long Wool Baza," by C. L. Hawley of McCoy, Or.

"What of the Mutton Market?" by D. G. Lively, of the Union Stock Yards, Portland.
"Fruit Rates on Wool and Livestock Affected Grazing," by F. W. Robinson, general freight agent G. W. R. & N. company.
"Future of Sheep Grazing in Oregon," by T. P. McKenzie, assistant district forester, Portland.

"Livestock Grazing on National Forests," by George H. Cecil, district forester, Portland.
"The Tariff on Wool and Woolen Goods," by Dr. B. W. McClure, secretary of the National Woolgrowers' association.

MOUNT HOOD LINE HEADS MAY QUIT

Operating Department to Take Over Road From Contractors Soon, Belief.

Before the end of the year the operating firm of Smith, Kerry & Chase will have completed the greater part of the development work of the Mount Hood Railway & Power company and rumor has it that as the firm is not an operating concern it will sever its connection with the company and devote its time to a number of other projects recently started.

General Manager C. H. Smith is said to be in New York in conference with R. C. Gillis, chairman of the company's board of directors, in regard to the change that will necessarily follow the management of the company's affairs upon the retirement of the engineering firm, and some of the officers here in position to confirm or deny the rumor further than it is customary for the construction department to turn over the management of a railroad when completed to the operating department.

It is rumored that S. G. Moberg, an engineer of San Francisco, will succeed S. F. Clark of Los Angeles as president of the company, and that R. C. Gillis will remain as chairman of the board of directors.

The railroad from Montaville to Bull Run was completed several months ago and steam trains are in operation. The first unit of the power houses has been installed and will be ready to generate power in a short time and soon thereafter, it is said, the electric current will supply the steam motive power. Six large and commodious passenger coaches are due to arrive here from Chicago tomorrow or the day after for service on the line. They are electric cars with the motors removed and thus can easily be transformed into electric cars when the power plant is ready to furnish power.

Gun Foundations Replaced.
(Special to The Journal.) San Diego, Cal., Nov. 11.—The foundations of the big 10 inch guns at Fort Seward are being replaced. The shock of the big weapons has torn the old foundations almost to pieces. The foundations, which were put in by contract, did not contain enough concrete, it is charged.

Downtown Store Mobbed
Officers Not on Hand to Quell Riots
At a well known business house on Third street last Saturday a great mob of men were clamoring for attention, others passing by and seeing the crowds inside naturally had their great American curiosity aroused and they, too, piled in, causing the most exciting rush for honest values ever witnessed in the west. There were no officers on hand and none necessary as the crowds were orderly and jolly and cheerfully waited to gain attention of the busy tailors. Well, we managed to get around to most of them and measured up one hundred and forty-six well pleased customers at our store. The Dundee Woolen Mills. See address below.

M'GINN PUNISHES MEN HE WARNED

After Judge McGinn of the circuit court, had repeatedly cautioned attorneys for John Lawton not to ask questions having a tendency to prejudice the jurors in the case against Morgan, Finley & Boyce, a question of this nature was asked yesterday afternoon. The judge immediately discharged the jury and gave the attorneys for the plaintiff the chance to argue have the case set for trial. The attorneys for the plaintiff were Davis, Farrell & Young. The action was brought by Lawton to recover for personal injuries received while working on a building last March at Grand avenue and East Stark street. The plaintiff's attorneys sought to show that the building was protected from injured workmen by casualty insurance. Judge McGinn said it made no difference who should pay the injuries, and the plaintiff had no right to bring this case before the jury. The judge characterized the question as "a blow below the belt."

REVISERS OF BUILDING CODE YET AT DEADLOCK

The special committee appointed by Mayor Rushlight last July to revise the new building code has made no report to the council as yet and it is said the three members of the committee are in a deadlock.

BANK CLEARINGS SHOW GAIN OVER LAST YEAR OF 18.5 PER CENT

Portland bank clearings for the week ending at noon today registered a gain on the same week in November, 1910, of 18.5 per cent. The gain today was 18.5 per cent. Another notable feature of the week's bank transactions is the fact that the total clearings exceeded $12,500,000, a very rare occurrence.

The figures in detail are as follows:
Week 1911.
Clearings $12,744,870.56
Balances 1,102,144.59
Week 1910.
Clearings $10,780,848.89
Balances 962,903.82
Daily 1911.
Clearings $2,544,272.78
Balances 289,848.25
Daily 1910.
Clearings $2,344,051.62
Balances 272,458.50
The increase is accounted for by the generally improved business conditions.

STRIKEBREAKERS WANT CIGARS FURNISHED, TOO

Strike breakers brought out from Chicago and other eastern cities to replace union men in the Harriman railroad shops, are dissatisfied with the treatment accorded them. Hardly a day goes by but one or more of this class of citizens visits the office of Mayor Rushlight with some grievance.

JOHN DICK, PARDONED, SWEARS OFF; GETS JOB

Mayor Rushlight yesterday signed the emergency ordinance liberating John Dick from sentence on the Linnton rockpile. Dick was the first municipal prisoner ever pardoned by the city council. The lawmakers were moved to exercise the pardoning power by the fact that Dick's wife and six small children were in destitute circumstances.

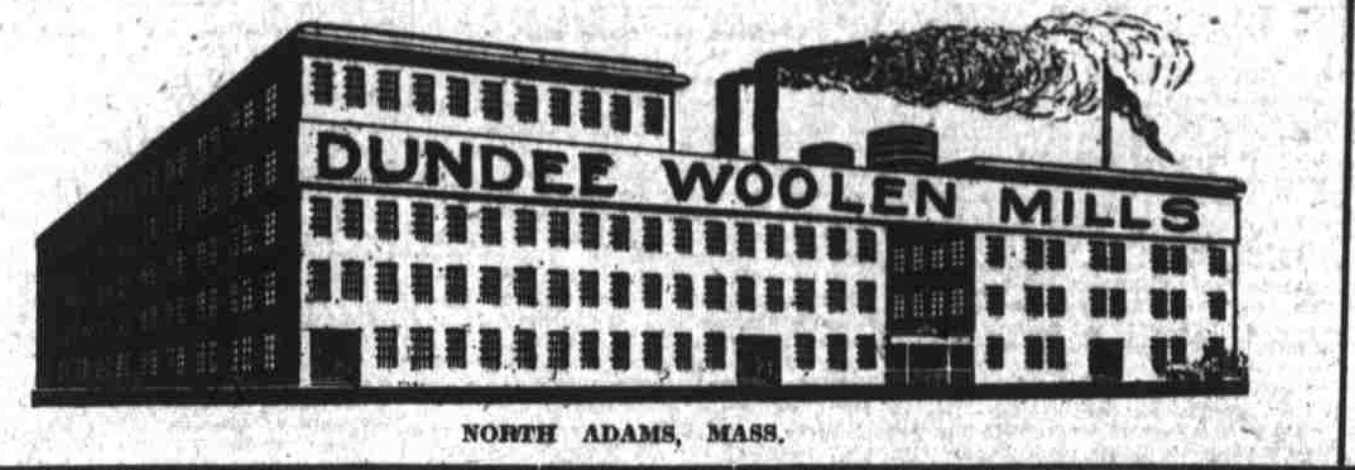

GREAT FEASTING WHEN CHIEF'S SON WEDS

Tangier, Nov. 11.—Lebady, the famed Moorish chieftain and former basha of Tetuan, is accredited with the expression that he would soon "go broke" if his children got married every day. When his son married the daughter of another Tetuan chieftain the other day the wedding guests consumed the following:
Two thousand hens, 3000 chickens, 500 sheep, 40 oxen, 800 pigeons, countless quantities of tea and coffee, 6000 pounds of sugar, many hundredweights of cheese and honey, thousands of bottles of lemonade, unknown quantities of wines and sherbets and 8000 worth of pastry.

W. W. COTTON REPORTED TO BE MUCH IMPROVED
W. W. Cotton, attorney for the O-W. R. & N., who was operated on for appendicitis Wednesday morning, at the Good Samaritan hospital, is fast approaching recovery. It is reported that he had a very good night's rest, last night.
