

OLD BUILDING WHERE ARLINGTON CLUB WAS ORGANIZED IN 1882 SOON TO BE BUT MEMORY

Two Story Frame Residence, Corner of Third and Pine Streets, Had Interesting History—Rapid Growth of Arlington Club Necessitates Erection of New Building

Three decades, lacking one year, have passed since the elite Arlington club sprang into existence in the two story, frame dwelling at the corner of Third and Pine streets, which today is crumbling beneath the pressure of progress. The house wrecking crew has attacked it and it will soon be but a memory.

For 18 years the club, which was organized in 1882 with John Green as its first president, Jonathan Bourne Jr. its first secretary, and Frederick Townsend its first treasurer, lived and thrived there. Then the advance of the city and the growth of the club called for larger and better quarters. So the club house at West Park and Alder streets was built and was opened in 1902. Once more the club, whose membership includes most of the wealthiest men of the city, was obliged to build a new home to keep pace with progress. And on June 20, 1910, it moved into its palatial quarters on Park and Salmon streets. It is a long step between the old home and the new. In the removal of the old building at Third and Pine E. R. Wilcox, the owner, is keeping the promise he made to C. K. Henry when Mr. Henry decided to build a magnificent hotel on the block just across the street. Mr. Wilcox told Mr. Henry, who was acting for the Thompson estate, that if he would build the hotel there he would remove the old buildings and either erect a new building worthy of its location, or he would turn the piece of ground into a park.

The old building has a history more interesting than most glimpses the newcomers get of the inside life that makes up the city's unwritten history. After it was occupied as the club house for the rich, the influential, the leaders, it sank into the background as the abiding place of the lowly. And now it passes away.

MURDERS WOMAN, HACKS BODY, THEN BURNS IT

Genoa, Nov. 11.—A ghastly crime was perpetrated in Genoa this week. A young shoemaker named Romagnoli lured a sexagenarian named Angela Maccio to his house while his wife and sister in law were away at work in a suburban factory. There he murdered the woman, cut the corpse into pieces and proceeded to burn it in the kitchen oven, having first taken scrupulous care to stop up all the chimneys through which the odor might escape.

When the murderer's wife returned home in the evening from her day's work the husband appeared at the window and refused to allow her to enter, saying that he had killed a woman and still had heavy work in hand. The wife summoned the police, who found the man coolly filling a couple of sacks with the unconsumed portion of the body. While another sack he had already concealed in an adjoining out-house. There was no trace of the woman's clothing. The pavement had just been washed to obliterate all blood stains. A number of large knives and forks which had been used for carving the corpse had also been washed. The real motive of the crime has not been ascertained, but it is known that Romagnoli had sold jewelry to the victim on the monthly installment system.

WIDOW OF LATE NAVAL OFFICER TURNS OVER VALUABLE COLLECTION TO NATION

Washington, Nov. 11.—The National Museum has recently received a large and valuable collection of memorabilia of the late Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley of the United States navy. This collection has been deposited by Mrs. Schley, widow of the admiral, and comprises a group of over 100 articles, consisting of awards, medals, trophies, silver plate, uniforms and personal mementoes of the late admiral, pertaining to his naval career, as well as to his Maryland and other similar affiliations.

The collection contains a number of gold medals which were presented to Admiral Schley during the course of his long service in the navy and especially in connection with the Spanish war, in recognition of his brilliant achievements. Among them is a gold medal from the Humane society of Massachusetts presented as a token of esteem for his faithful service, when in command of the United States expedition to Cape Sabine, which in 1898, rescued a crew of 100 men, including the commander of the Spanish vessel, from the other six survivors of the Greeley Arctic expedition. There is also a handsome gold watch, his native state, Maryland, presented to him in commemoration of the anniversary of the admission of the state to the Union. A diamond medal, gorgeously studded with diamonds, was presented to the admiral by the state of Maryland at the close of the Spanish war, in recognition to his services in the battle of Santiago de Cuba, July 3, 1898, when the Spanish fleet was destroyed.

Several handsome swords are included in the collection, gifts in commemoration of the same achievement, one from the state of Maryland and another, finished in gold, with a gem encrusted scabbard and hilt, presented by the Knights Templar. Probably of most interest, is the service sword worn by Admiral Schley through his entire naval service of 41 years, beginning with his graduation from Annapolis in 1856 and extending to 1901, when he reached the age limit and was retired. Two of the admiral's naval uniforms, one dress and one service, are in the group of mementoes, showing the rank of rear admiral. The commodore's flag, a blue pennant bearing the single white star, which flew on the Brooklyn, Admiral Schley's flagship during the battle of Santiago, is an object of particular interest. Several loving cups and silver services are to be seen in the display and form a most attractive part of the collection. One was presented by the state of Maryland in 1899. Part of another service which was made of the silver bullion taken from the sale of the Spanish battleship "Cristobal Colon," captured during the Spanish war, and which was afterwards converted into a silver service of 69 pieces was presented to Admiral Schley by his admirer.

Other objects of interest are two statuettes of bronze, one, designed by Emile Laporte, presented by the citizens of Binghamton, N. Y., on the occasion of the admiral's visit to that city in 1902; the other, designed by the French artist du Bois, and presented to Admiral Schley by a French steamship company, in 1900, as a token of appreciation of his services in saving one of the vessels of that line from disaster.

A large silver center piece and accessories forms a contribution from Memphis, Tenn., in 1902. A beautiful loving cup was presented by the citizens of Dallas, Texas, on the occasion of the admiral's visit to that city in 1902. The Texas cup, which is particularly attractive, represents in design the state of Texas, and includes the state seal; on the base are the heads of three Texas steers in silver, while the three handles, curving gracefully upward, represent the heads of three American

A WONDERFUL NEW TALKING MACHINE

A new talking machine of latest hornless type which produces inimitable results obtained heretofore only in instruments that cost $150 or $200, has now been developed. 600 of these machines will be sold in Portland before January 1. This is a large undertaking that many additional advantages, together with the extraordinarily low price can be offered to each buyer. Twelve superb records, among them selections like the famous Rigolletto Quartet, and also the Lucia Sextette, for which two records alone many talking machine devotees have had to pay $15 will be included with each machine sold. Or buyer may select his own records. The wonderful new talking machine may be purchased on terms of $7 cash and $4 a month until all told, $59, has been paid. No extra.

The machine and the records will be sent on three days free trial to any home in Portland. So confident are we that the instrument will please even the most critical, that we shall refund all money paid to any purchaser not in every way satisfied with the instrument. An unconditional guarantee as to material and workmanship accompanies each instrument sold. The guarantee is clear, thoroughly natural and countersigned by us for Portland, Oregon. The instrument is furnished in very choice mahogany cases and also in quarter sawed oak or fumed oak. The finest selected woods are used in the construction of the cases and the finish is as perfect as found upon the most expensive pianos. Needless to reiterate this hornless talking machine is simply perfect in tone and quality. The instrument is equipped with the very best thoroughly noiseless triple spring motor. It will play six records with one winding, and has a new regulating device whereby the music can be rendered at exact tempo, positively true to pitch.

The machine has a new concert sound reproducer which eliminates the heretofore objectionable rasping noise of needled records. The music can be reproduced such as has never heretofore been obtained in any instrument costing less than $150 or $200. The machine is equipped so that the famous Victor fiber needles can be employed which preserves talking machine records so that they last practically forever. In this machine the concealed horn is built separately from the motor which permits the tone to come forth without any interference. The sound boards of this machine are carefully selected and so placed as to reproduce tones absolutely lifelike. Modulating doors have been provided whereby the tone volume can be definitely regulated, and reduced or augmented at will. The price is as stated, $59, cash or payments of $7 cash and $4 a month. No extra.

The instruments are on sale at Columbia Phonograph company, 371 Washington street and at Zellers Music House on Alder street at Seventh.

AGED WOMAN TELLS OF PIONEER DAYS

Mrs. C. I. Taylor.

Mrs. C. I. Taylor, whose home is on Ninth avenue in Lewis, was the recipient of a pleasant surprise party, given last Tuesday afternoon by the members of St. Paul's Guild of Woodmen in honor of her seventy-ninth birthday anniversary. The women brought with them a beautiful supply of delicious refreshments. Mrs. Taylor is the oldest and only honorary member of the guild, and she is a great helper in all lines of church work and especially in the guild. Those present were: Mrs. Sheppard, Mrs. W. H. Taylor, Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Boatright, Mrs. Maffett, Mrs. Schulenberg, Mrs. Ray Sheppard, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. P. T. Harris, Mrs. E. Allen, Mrs. L. J. Tibbitts, Mrs. D. Woods, Mrs. Van Etta, Mrs. C. L. Gesselle, Mrs. Colley, Miss Ruth Gesselle, Miss Tinker, Miss Kathryn Allen, Master Albert Boyd.

agies, their wings reaching aloft, bearing on their breasts the arms of the United States combined with the symbols of the navy. In addition to the objects already mentioned, there are a number of artistic and interesting gold ornaments which were presented to the admiral by various fraternal organizations. Particularly among them is the gold medal set with diamonds, given by the Junior Order of United American Mechanics of the state of Maryland in 1901, and a gold badge of the Masonic 33rd degree, presented by his fellow Masons of South Dakota in 1904. The Schley collection is installed in the Hall of History in the old Museum building, which is already well filled with extremely interesting mementoes of noted American statesmen, warriors, scientists and inventors.

Forgiven Temporarily. San Francisco, Nov. 11.—"I'll forgive ye now," said Mrs. Ada Clark to Mrs. Ella Benvuti, her eyes black and her body bruised. "But this doesn't hold good, mind ye, after I'm out of court."

YOUR UPSET, SOUR, GASSY STOMACH IS RELIEVED IN A FEW MOMENTS. Take a Little Diapepsin Now and Your Stomach Will Feel Fine in Five Minutes. Every family here ought to keep some Diapepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or stomach trouble at any time, day or night. This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards. If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lay like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin, and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors. Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there. Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery at any drug store, waiting for you. These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure almost any chronic case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other Stomach trouble.

Real surprise awaits you.

ROSARIANS TO MEET AT Y. M. C. A. TOMORROW

The meeting tomorrow night at the Y. M. C. A. of the Portland Rose society promises to be one of the largest gatherings of rosarians ever held in Portland. The subjects to be discussed are of vital interest to every lover of Portland's favorite flower. The meeting will not be limited to members of the society, but everyone interested in rose culture has been invited to be present and hear the papers that will be read by Portland's leading rosarians. In addition to the discussion of these papers some general plans for the coming rose show will be arranged and the date for the annual show of 1912 will be definitely settled. The chief interest of the meeting, however, centers in the papers to be read and they are all arranged with the idea of helping the small grower, as well as the larger ones. The address of W. E. Sherbrooke of Seattle on "Encouraging the Small Grower" will be of decided interest to the man with only a dozen or so plants in his garden. W. S. Sibson will speak on "Exhibition Roses and How to Show Them" and his comments are expected to be full of interest to the small grower, for while Mr. Sibson is the most extensive grower of roses in Portland and his fame is national, he announces that he will have a large amount of advice for the small grower as to the kind of roses that should be cultivated for exhibition purposes. Among the other papers that will be read will be one on "Pruning Roses," by Mrs. A. C. Pantoni; "Mildew," by Fred V. Holtman; "Bugs and Some Remedies," by W. E. Ladd; "New Roses," by Dr. S. S. Sulinger, and "Fertilizers," by Alfred Tucker. The Watermelon Did. From the Toledo Blade. Grocer—Did that watermelon I sold you do for the whole family? Customer—Yes, nearly. The doctor is calling yet. A wholesome resolution for every day in the year: Patronize home industry.
