

THE REALM OF MUSIC

Ray Lawrence, cornet soloist, with the Australian Boys' Band.

plans soloist. Mrs. Charles Swenson gave a violin solo, Charles Nord a clarinet solo, and the augmented choir sang several numbers.

Under the direction of Allen Mac Phelps, assisted by Webster Juvenile orchestra and Leo James Condit, tenor, a very interesting concert was given Wednesday evening by the choir of the Highland Baptist church. Following the program: Double male quartet, "Breath of the Night" (Lambert); first tenor Messrs. Condit and Postel; second tenor Messrs. Johnson and Hammett; first bass Messrs. King and Jahn; second bass, Messrs. Hottel and Werchall; organists, "Gladness" (Wald), "Serenade Coquette" (Batholomew-Webber), Webster Juvenile orchestra; tenor solo, "The Love of the Soul" (Locke-Brell), Leo James Condit; chorus, "The Last Chorus" (Batholomew-Webber), Webster Juvenile orchestra; selection from "La Boheme" (Puccini), Barcarolle "Beautiful Night" (Offenbach-Ode); Webster's Juvenile orchestra; reading, "Topsy's First Lesson," from "Uncle Tom's Cabin" (Harriet Beecher Stowe); Mrs. Lillian Carl; ladies' quartet, "Legends" (Parka); first and second soprano Miss Ethelyn Miller and Miss Alice Phelps; first and second alto Miss Florence Millhouse and Miss Isabel Johnson; tenor solo, "For You Alone" (O'Dilly-Geall); Mr. Condit; organ, "Let's Play Postoffice" (Stauffer-Webber), Franciska Bliss and chorus; "Keep Big Invention" (Bawyer-Hilderth), Webster's Juvenile orchestra; Chorus, "Moonlight Like Comes Again," (W.H. Thompson); Miss Marion Werchall, accompanist.

The Pacific Male quartet gave a concert at Centenary M. E. church last Friday to a large and appreciative audience. The program consisted of six quartet numbers and an equal number of encores. Messrs. Hahn, Robertson and Finley each sang a group of songs and J. A. Finley gave three humorous readings. Miss Lewis and J. A. Hansen were the accompanists for the solo numbers, the quartet numbers being sung a capella.

The quartet has received numerous requests to repeat the program and will give it probably early in December with the addition of many new quartet numbers. This quartet was organized about two months ago, and under the direction of J. A. Finley has attained an efficiency that shows hard cooperative work on the part of the different members.

A delightful musical service at Trinity church last Sunday evening Mr. Becker's work at the organ was extremely artistic and well done, especially "Handel's Largo." Mrs. Delphine Marx sang with deep religious fervor in splendid voice "Ruth's Song," by Gounod. Mrs. Marx will sing at the Elks' memorial service in Astoria, as will also Mrs. Elfrida Weinstein. These two vocalists will also take part in the large vocal concert at the White temple under the direction of Mr. Hutchinson, organist.

The Webber juvenile orchestra, H. A. Webber, director, has received an invitation from Governor West to play for the prisoners at the penitentiary some Sunday in the near future. The orchestra will give a concert for the patients in the St. Vincent's hospital some time this month. Mr. Webber is taking up with the various orchestra leaders in the city the matter of furnishing music at the hospitals occasionally, as was done a year ago, at that time under the auspices of the Musicians' mutual association, with splendid success.

A. Arveschoug, baritone, Karl Riedelberger, violin, and Stella von Jessen, piano, were the soloists at the concert given Sunday evening at the Arion hall by the Swedish Singing Club Columbia. A. Holmquist, director. The soloists gave several pleasing numbers. The club sang four selections, among them Sodermann's charming "Wedding March."

Olga Steeb pleased a large audience with her splendid performance on the piano at a recital given in the St. Helen's hall gymnasium, Thursday evening. The recital was for the benefit of the building fund.

Three famous artists on the banjo, mandolin and guitar will appear in concert at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, Tuesday evening, November 21, in connection with the Webber juvenile orchestra. The soloists booked will be Frederick Hanson, banjo; Giuseppe Pettini, mandolin; and William F. Jones, guitar. The arrangements for the concert are being made by H. A. Webber, director of the orchestra. The soloists are booked on the list on their respective instruments.

Following program was given by Rose Bloch Bauer's Tuesday Afternoon club (this week):

"Ich Liebe Dich" (Grieg), "Stolen Fruit" (Walden), Mrs. Charles Bower; "Light" (Martin Bauer), Mrs. Hillis; aria, "Madame Butterfly" (Puccini), "You and I" (Lohmann), Mrs. Weinstein; "My Love" (Puccini), Mrs. John Wald; "O, Azure Eve" (Schaefer), Mrs. Marx; "My Task" (Lambert), "On the Shore" (Hindler), "Moon and Night" (Hawley), Miss Carol.

A flattering comment was paid J. William Belcher, director and the chorus and quartet of the White Temple, in a letter received by Mr. Belcher from W. D. Richards, who visits Portland once a year, in which the writer praises the music of Sunday, October 22, and adds: "I have been in all the large churches in the United States, and have never heard such congregational singing as I heard last Sunday night at the White Temple, and it has inspired me to write and tell you how much I enjoyed it."

Miss Dorothea Naab, at the assistance of Mrs. Imogene Harding Brodie at her Thursday evening "music talk," which was devoted to Schumann. The talk was followed by Mrs. Brodie's singing of six of the beautiful songs in German. Miss Naab played the "Pavane," a serenade, some of the "Woodland Scenes" and the "F Major Romance."

Mrs. Harry McQuade has been engaged as soprano soloist at the Elks' memorial services to be held by the Portland lodge on December 2. Mrs. McQuade is a member of the Monti Choral club, and is also to be soloist at the Spanish-American War Veterans' benefit in December.

Obad Gurin, tenor, who was presented in recital last July by J. William Belcher, is to be soloist at the concert given by the Portland String orchestra November 25. Mr. Gurin will sing "M'appari Tutt Amor," from "Martha," and "Questa e Quella," from "Hiroletto."

Mrs. Rose Bloch Bauer will sing a group of Irish songs at the concert to celebrate the opening of Father Thompson's new parish in Irvington November 12. On December 2 Mrs. Bauer will sing at Salem for the memorial services of the Elks.

Two very successful concerts were given at the White Temple during the week by the Royal Welsh Ladies' choir, Madame Hughes-Thomas conductor. The singers were 30 in number and some of them possessed voices of exceptional quality.

The concert given by Francis Richter, pianist, Wednesday evening at the Masonic Temple, was in every respect an artistic success, and the attendance was large. Mr. Richter proved himself an artist of the highest rank.

Miss Clara Howell, a member of the Treble Clef club, presented at a concert given in the First Presbyterian church at Fisher's Landing, Miss Howell's numbers were "The Slave Song" (Riego), "The Rosary" (Sevin) and "So I Can Wait" (Briggs).

Mrs. Virginia Merges-Kistner sang Becker's "Spring Song" and for an encore "The Old March Wind" (Hazard), at the Woman's Alliance meeting at the First Unitarian church last week.

The girls' chorus of the Washington high school, director Mrs. Rose Courten-Red, sang two numbers, Gretschler's "The May-Pole Song" and Strauss' "Dawn," at the Child's Welfare exhibition. Miss Evelyn Ewart was the accompanist.

The Veteran quartet assisted in a concert Thursday evening for the benefit of the United Brethren church in Troutmont. The members of the quartet are W. N. Morse, A. W. Mills, Dr. J. E. Hall and Professor Z. M. Parvin, director.

Julius Falk, violinist, leaves New York November 15 on a concert tour of the states, extending to the Pacific coast.

At the morning service at the Grace Methodist church today, Mrs. Stowers will sing "The Prayer," by Caro Roma.

John Claire Monteith will sing "Invictus," by Hunt, at this morning's service at the Unitarian church.

Oregon Conservatory of Music. All branches taught by staff of teachers.

AUSTRALIAN BOYS' BAND TO APPEAR IN CONCERT IN PORTLAND

Australian boys' band which will appear in concert in Portland on a tour of the coast. The band was sent to this country at the expense of the Australian government, and is composed of students from the various schools throughout the seven states of the continent. The purpose of the trip is purely educational. It will be noted that the instrumentation is quite different from the American in that it contains no reeds. The band will arrive here December 1 and remain four days, giving one concert at the Bungalow theatre.

Herr Waldemar Lind Concert Violinist and Musical Director at Hotel Portland

Read What Mr. Lind Says Concerning the Steinway Piano

Sherman, Clay & Co., Sixth and Morrison Sts., City.
Gentlemen: During the 15 years' time spent as Musical Director, I have used in my different orchestras practically all of the well known makes of pianos. It was, therefore, with the knowledge born of experience and a desire only for the best, that I chose Steinway pianos for my two orchestras at Hotel Portland. They combine rare purity of tone in all registers with a singing quality most sympathetic to my sole work. The perfectly balanced action is a delight to all pianists.

Yours respectfully,
WALDEMAR LIND.

Five Steinway Grand Pianos have been purchased by the directors of the Hotel Portland. There can be but one best piano—it is the STEINWAY.
