Mime, Khan's charming address to the congress was greatly praised in Per-sia. The decoration is in the form of a seven pointed golden star, with many golden rays, in the center of which is the national emblem of "the lion and the national emblem of "the lion and sun" in gold relief upon an enameled background. This is the highest deco-ration of learning in the gift of Persia, Mme. Khan's previous gift being second to this. As she is an American woman, these favors are all the more valued, and she is the first American woman to be so henored by Persia.

In preparation for a work which he was to do. He was pursued by Satan's de-vices and was like an antelope in the chase, famished for water. "As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, oh! God;" "My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God. When shall I come and ap-pear before thes, oh! God?" When will my trials, my testing be finished? When shall I be received into everiast-ing fellowship as the son of the High-est? My tears have been my meat day and night while they continue to say unto me, "Where is thy God?"

The people in general could not understand how Divine favor could be with one so tempted, so tried, so beset by per-secutors, so maligned; as he said, "Mine enemies speak evil of me. When shall he die and his name perish? If he come to me as a reporter he speaketh falsely; me as a reporter he speaketh falsely; his heart gathereth iniquity to itself; when he goeth abroad he telleth it. All that hate me whisper together against -Psalm x11, 5-7.

Full of faith St. David could not be overwhelmed. His faith would outride the storms. He would learn his lesson He would thus demonstrate his faith, his loyalty to God. He says, "The Lord will command his loving kindness in the daytime-(in the coming day of the New Dispensation); in the night his song shall be with me and my prayer shall be unto the God of my life."

The Great David-Beloved. Pastor Russell declared the most important feature of St. David's career the end of the present night time, ushering in the new day, in which When Mrs. Scott made this announcement, the audience plainly evidenced its doubts. And as she went along. Christ will reign in righteousness for the overthrow of sin and death; peeling, slicing, basting, flavoring and "Weeping may endure for a night, but garnishing the various dishes, the at-, joy cometh in the morning."---Psalm tention was rapt.

The Groaning Creation's Hope.

Although the world may escape many of the special tribulations sent upon the elect, nevertheless the pastor believes that the trials of life rest more heavily that the trials of life rest more heavily upon the world than upon the true church. This, he said, is because the church has an advocate—through whom she receives exceeding great and prec-lous promises that buoy her up and permit her to sing in "the valley of the shadow of death"—in the night of weep-ing.

Our Mission Now-and Then.

Sin, the fall, degradation and selfish-ness have had the effect of hardening the hearts of mankind. They are stony the hearts of mankind. They are stony hearted by reason of the prevalent self-ishness; the tender hearted, who love righteousness, are bruised-woundedbroken. This heart breaking is not injurious.

The broken hearted are the more ready to receive the message of God's love and mercy. It is of this broken hearted class that the Lord is making up his elect church: "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." So far from its being the mission of the church to break men's hearts it is the very re-verse-it is theirs "to bind up the broken hearted."
