

BEATTIE NOW REALIZES FULL MEANING OF DEATH

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Richmond, Va., Nov. 21.—With only a shadow of his jaunty remains remaining, Henry Clay Beattie Jr., condemned to die for the murder of his young wife, knelt in a corner of his cell today and prayed while in the death chamber the electricians switched off and on the current in the electric chair, in which he is to meet his end Friday, and made sure that the apparatus was in satisfactory working condition.

Rev. Benjamin Dennis, the Episcopal minister who has been constantly at Beattie's side during the past week, spent several hours in his cell today, accompanied by the Rev. Mr. Fix, exhorting the prisoner. The gravity of his impending fate has finally touched Beattie and he is taking refuge in prayer.
Reports that Beattie had confessed to the Rev. Dr. Dennis were unconfirmed today. It is believed that a detailed statement will be made after the execution.

It became known today that Beattie is nearer mental and physical collapse than has been admitted. His bravado has entirely disappeared and his entire time today was spent in prayer and reading the Bible. It was learned that he recently wrote his former pal, Billy Sampson, warning him of the dangers of a loose life, and saying that the present "horrible situation" is the direct result of his own wildness.

Witnesses Wounded by Cupid's Arrow, Decide to Make It Double Wedding

Dan Cupid, who was never known to miss a train or fail to embrace an opportunity, has again demonstrated his resourcefulness. By quick work on the part of his aides the scenes were shifted at the eleventh hour and a double wedding consummated whereas but one was originally intended.
August Lauterbach, a prominent young business man of White Salmon, Wash., and Miss Grace Louise Wright, a popular young woman of the same place, left their homes yesterday morning for Portland to be married. With them were Arthur W. Wilcox, assistant postmaster, and Miss Rose Chipman, also a member of the happy event.

"Sweetheart, let's make it a double wedding," Arthur is reported to have said to the girl beside him in the train. The reply was reassuring.

"Do you mean it?" he whispered.
Miss Chipman nodded an emphatic assent.
When they arrived in Portland they told the other couple that it would be necessary to get more witnesses as they too had decided to let Cupid have his way.
So the happy four, who had been intimate chums for more than a year, made arrangements with Dr. Benjamin Young to perform the ceremony of a double wedding, which took place last evening at the parsonage of the First Methodist church. The ceremony was witnessed by Miss Laura Chipman, Miss Gertrude Morris and John Lauterbach, Mr. and Mrs. Lauterbach and Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox, who are staying at the Imperial, will leave tomorrow for Salem.

"We don't want our friends at home to know when we are going to return," said Mrs. Lauterbach, "because the double wedding will be such a big surprise to them that we are afraid our reception will be a little too enthusiastic."
