

MAN WITH DINNER BUCKET WALKS TO MOURNERS' BENCH

Workman, Persuaded by Gipsy Smith's Earnest Words, Seeks Christian Life; "Ye Must Be Born Again," Text.

Gipsy Smith Meetings.
Tonight—7:30 o'clock, New Auditorium, Eighth and Chapman, section reserved for 500 working girls until 7 p. m.; tickets at Y. W. C. A.
Thursday—This will be the evangelist's busiest day since coming to Portland, with noon addresses at the Empress theatre and before the Progressive Business Men's club at the Hotel Portland, together with an afternoon mass meeting for women and the usual mass meeting in the New Auditorium at 7:30 p. m.
Friday—Noon meeting, Empress theatre; afternoon meeting for women in the auditorium; evening, Auditorium.
Saturday—Mass meeting for young people 10 to 20 years of age, Auditorium. No other meetings.
Sunday—Mass meeting for men, Sunday afternoon, and meeting for all in the evening.
Monday—Evening, lecture on "Gypsy Tent to Pulpit," last meeting.

Bearded and grizzled, a battered tin dinner bucket in one hand, a rubber coat over the other arm, a man who had stopped in at the Gipsy Smith tabernacle while on his way home from his work walked down the aisle last night with the light of a "new birth" in his face. As he reached the platform the gypsy leaned over and put out his hand with a "May God bless you, my brother." Looking up at the evangelist the man replied, "And may God bless you." It was one of the most touching incidents of the evening. Every minister responded with an "Amen." Many others answered the appeal of the evangelist and went forward to the inquiry room and as many more signed the cards signifying their intention and desire to leave the old life for the new. Among those who signed these cards was one man 72 years old.

The text of the evening was taken from the epistle of St. John 7:8, "Ye must be born again." It is from the answer of Christ to Nicodemus when the latter asked what he must do to enter the Kingdom of Heaven. Upon this text he wove his sermon, pleading with his auditors to make the decision before they left the building to drop their old lives and be born again.

Becoming New Creature.
"To be born again," said Gipsy Smith, "means to become a new creature, that the old must pass away. In the new scriptures the word 'new' takes the place of the word 'again' and in other versions it is often read from above. The words to be emphasized are 'must' and 'again'."

"That which is born of the flesh is flesh. The carnal man, the natural man is at enmity with God. The first birth is after the will of man, and the second is after the will of God, spirit."

"When you speak disrespectfully of the new birth, do you realize whom you are fighting? He who is the Jew for which this vast universe is but the setting; he who whose eye is the light of the world; he who could make devils and scatter them as easily as the dewdrops are scattered on a spring morning; he—Jesus—invented the new birth. When you say you do not need the new birth you are saying that you know your needs better than he, and I can conceive of no greater blasphemy.

"I wouldn't allow you to teach a class of children in a Sunday school unless I knew you had passed through the new birth. Can you say, 'I know whom I believe and am persuaded?'"

Devil Goes to Church.
"It doesn't matter what church you go to. There are thousands of people who go to church regularly and the devil goes there too. He knows more about religion than you do. The Bible says the devil fears and trembles. How many of you do the same? You haven't got there yet. You have never been fearful of these things, but the devil has. Some of you are worse than he. God open your eyes. The man who does not believe what Jesus says makes God out a liar.

"A man can say 'No' to God until his soul becomes tough as leather," he said with emphasis. "An old man can be born again. It is possible but not probable. Ask your ministers how many old people are born again. Fifty young people are converted to one old person. I am just old fashioned enough to believe in the Bible at the top of a precipice rather than in the hospital at the foot. Save an old man and you save a unit, save the young man and you save a whole multiplication table.

"One night an old Scotchman came down the aisle from the very rear of the church with his hands extended in supplication. As he came nearer I could see that he was mumbling to himself.

Soon he came close enough to be heard and he was saying over and over, 'O, Lord Jesus, give me the heart of a little child.'

Special Meetings.
Special meetings are to be held Thursday and Friday afternoons at 3 o'clock in the tabernacle, Eighteenth and Taylor streets, for women and on Saturday afternoon a meeting will be held there at 3 o'clock for boys and girls, young people from the ages of 10 to 20. Special efforts are being made to bring all of the members of the junior leagues and boys' and girls' clubs to this meeting.

Referring to the story printed in the Oregonian of yesterday morning to the effect that he had scored the Salvation Army the night before for wearing bonnets and badges the gypsy vehemently denied that attack was meant. He declared that he numbered no better friends in the world than these workers and that they did a work which it would pay others to follow.

The statement which was constructed was, "You need not wear a badge to show people that you love Jesus. He will shine through." He said that he had been called on the telephone by a woman who had been saved from the underworld by the Salvation Army and she asked how he could say such things against a people who had done so much for such as she.

An amusing incident occurred when H. W. Stone, announcing the collection. Several nights before he had told the audience to each put in something even if it were only a trouser's button. He had been taken at his word and among other things they had offered buttons, hair pins and beer checks.

Don't Knock, Says Pastor.
"Put in beer checks if you have nothing else," said Mr. Stone, though I'd rather have pants' buttons for the gypsy and I are both tee-totallers and I'm sure the gypsy has much more need of pants' buttons."

Gipsy Smith was on his feet instantly with his face wreathed in smiles. Turning to Mr. Stone he said, "But you don't knock, I'm a button short." The audience laughed.

As soon as quiet was restored Mr. Stone continued, "Even the ladies put in something—hairpins. The gypsy's hair is genuine and I don't need them." Again there was a hearty laugh, as Mr. Stone is beginning to show signs of baldness. He continued his appeal asking that people give not necessarily in as soon as he was through the gypsy asked, "That's the best speech yet, don't you think so?" A chorus of approval was his answer and he said, "Show that you mean it by putting in something."

A strong appeal was made by Dr. Benjamin Young to the people not to knock the evangelist's work. "Opportunity knocks at your door, but—once," he said, "See that you are not knocking so hard you do not hear it." Large amounts but freely.

GYPSY REQUESTED TO SAY WORD FOR EARLY CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

President B. S. Josselyn of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, has written a letter to Gipsy Smith suggesting that in his addresses he remind the public of the desirability of early Christmas shopping. The letter follows: "There are employed in the Portland stores 20,000 clerks and on the streets 2000 men. During the next few weeks these workers will be compelled to wait on the Christmas shopping trade. During this season of the year the rush is enormous and the strength of these clerks is taxed to the utmost to meet the requirements of the occasion.

Relief to these overworked servants of the public can be secured by a proper distribution of this mass of men, women and children over the hours set aside for the transaction of business. Early shopping on the part of all who can do their shopping in the early portion of the holiday period, as well as early in the day, will assist very materially in bringing relief where it is needed. I believe that if you will take this thought up during the course of one of your addresses it will receive very hearty endorsement on the part of the business world of Portland.

"The term 'early shopping' can be applied so far as both weeks and days are concerned. The rush in the early evening there is a tremendous rush on the part of the working people to get to their homes. Housewives should avoid these hours for shopping, thus aiding in the transportation of the people and assisting the conductors in their work. At these hours so many tollers drop into the stores for their purchases before going home. If those at home would do their shopping early in the day the congested condition of the streets would be much relieved.

"The two weeks from December 1 to 15 are filled with shopping and from December 15 to 20 the rush is tremendous. On behalf of the overworked clerks I believe you could do much good by calling the attention of the public to this Christian duty of early shopping."

AUNT RESCUES CHILDREN FROM HOUSE IN FLAMES

(Special to The Journal.)
McMinnville, Or., Nov. 22.—The residence of Arthur C. White in Oak Park addition to this city was completely destroyed last night by fire. Mr. and Mrs. White were away from home but had left their two children at home with an aged aunt of Mr. White, who was quite severely burned in getting the children out of the house. The origin of the fire is unknown and it had gained such headway before it was discovered that the fire contents of the house were also lost. Mr. White had $800 insurance on the building and $200 on the contents.

ITALIAN FORCE REPULSES 3 ATTACKS BY TURKS

(United Press Special Wire.)
Tripoli, Nov. 22.—Repulse of Turks in three attacks on outposts of this city were reported today by returning Italian soldiers. The number of killed is given as 28. Five aviators state that there is no change in the Turkish position. They succeeded in dropping bombs into the Turkish camp, destroying it. Other reports are that the Italian armored cruiser Carlo Alberto bombarded the village of Amrus, and the fort of Henni, near Tripoli, and that the Turks attacked under cover of fog at Derna, but were repulsed.

IS IN HASTE TO FINANCE LAIDLAW CAREY PROJECT

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Nov. 22.—Representatives of Oregon, Washington & Idaho Finance company in charge of a Carey act project of 30,000 acres near Laidlaw on the west side of the Deschutes river met with the desert land board yesterday submitting reports consisting of maps, profiles, engineering reports, etc. Officials of the company maintain they are going to succeed in financing the project within the 90 days allotted to them to make good. If they fail the project reverts to the state. The ditches and other work done are worth at least $70,000.

Rheumatism Advice

Prominent Doctors Best Prescription Ready Mixed at Home.
"From your druggist get one ounce of Toris compound (in original sealed package) and one ounce of syrup of Sarsaparilla compound. Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whiskey. Shake the bottle and take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bedtime." This is said to be the quickest and best remedy known to the medical profession for rheumatism and backache. Good results come after the first dose. If your druggist does not have Toris compound in stock he will get it for you in a few hours from his wholesale house. Don't be influenced to take a patent medicine instead of this. Insist on having the genuine Toris compound in the original one ounce, sealed, yellow package. Hundreds of the worst cases were cured here by this prescription last winter.
