Patterson's Aged Parent One of Most Determined Prosecutors of Wife Who Slew Son: Prisoner Pale, Worn.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Denver, Nov. 27.—In Mrs. Gertrude Gibson Patterson's trial on the charge of murdering her husband, one of the most determined prosecutors is her mother-In-law. The aged woman, re-lentless and grim, sits back of the state prosecutor's chair, assisting and advising him. And her appearance and grant suit. attitude have had a harrowing effect upon the defendant.

Prosecutor on Stand.

District Attorney Elliott, who disqualified himself in the present prosetestified that he was the cution, defendant's personal attorney; that it was he who drew up the prisoner's papers in preparation for her divorce suit against the victim of the tragedy. Elliott declared Mrs. Patterson had shown him bruises which she said she bore as the result of her husband's abuse.

Several witnesses called to the stand testified that they had seen Patterson knock his wife down during a street quarrel

Saw Patterson Buy Revolver.

Robert Farnham of Chicago, a brother-in-law of the defendant, testified that he saw Patterson buy a revolver in 1909. Farnham admitted that before 1909.

Prosecutor Benson's grilling riddled her story as to why she had shot Patterson, during the arraignment Satur-day and she returned to her call in a frenzy of terror, clinging hysterically to Matron Normile, and crying "Please don leave me. Don't let them hang me Don't let them hang me!"

Then she began a mad denunciation against Emil Strouse, the Chicago merchant to whom she claims her murdered husband sold her for $1500. She partly blames him for her present trouble and declares he should be at her side now to help her.

"Strouse should be here with me in-stead of letting me face this trouble alone," she sobbed. "When he took me to Europe I was so young I didn't un-derstand. Strong, vigorous men, women and children hardly ever catch cold-it's only when your system is run down and vitality low that colds and coughs can get a foothold.

Now isn't it reasonable that the right way too cure a cough is to build up your strength again? Mr. Patrick Wren of N. Birmingham,

Ala., knows about this. He says, "] caught a bad cold a year ago and had a bad cough for long time, but Vinol relieved it completely and built up my health. Vinol is the best medicine I ever used or heard of for coughs and colds."

This splendid cod liver and iron remedy does not smell or taste like cod liver oil, but is so delicious that children love to take it. Yet it has the strengthening value of cod liver oil, with tonic, blood-building iron. Chronic bronchitis yields to Vinol because it builds up the system in all weakened and rundown conditions.
