

SAYS OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM TO BLAME

LeRoy Park, of Immigration Commission, Says Commercialization Is Problem.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)
Washington, Nov. 28.—LeRoy Park, of Portland, chairman of the Oregon State Immigration commission, and who attended the National Immigration convention here, asserts that the immigration commercialization problem now confronting the United States is largely the outgrowth of faulty school systems—too little industrial education, and a consequent tendency toward the manual labor in the native born American. The result is, he says, that there are too few American workmen to accomplish the work of American manufacturing, while the "professionals" overflow with men, by nature mechanics, unfit for professional work. A good laborer is more deserving of honor than a makeshift climber to professional life.

Manual Training Needed.

"The crying need," said Mr. Park, "is manual training, and the boys who are inclined toward mechanics can attain efficiency in their work through practical technical education, without Latin, Greek or like studies, largely or wholly worthless in their world of flight. Every American boy should have at least the option of such training, and, if for nothing less than development of poise through hand-to-hand work, every boy should have at least two years' work in industrial and general work with tools in his prescribed public school course. This plan is carried out now in many of the larger cities.

"Looking toward future efficient citizenship, special industrial secondary and trade schools are being established, often by private capital. The last 19 years' progress toward industrial training for boys and girls is phenomenal. The tendency of many boys to forsake academic courses for mechanics, necessitating continual enlargement of industrial school buildings to accommodate students, clearly shows the bent of the American boy, which should not be stifled by the false ambitions of his parents.

Must Return to Work.

"Americans sooner or later will return to work—a reaction from the contrary tendency lately exhibited. We cannot depend forever upon a shifting, commercialized body of immigrants to do the physical work of the nation. A large percentage of the foreigners who come here are in no sense permanent. They supply a fluctuating demand for labor in factories of large cities, and come and go, as it were, with the rise and fall of the market. They are a commercial asset and a social liability. But most of the money earned by what may be called the lower class immigrants who have come to the United States has gone toward the upbuilding of foreign nations; has been drawn into circulation in this country, and by so much is their value to America diminished.

"But I would not stop immigration. We need settlers, and it is my belief that cooperation among the promotion organizations now maintained in all regions will carry to the better immigrants coming to the United States a clearer understanding of the advantages of settlement on our rich lands, and the hollow glitter of gold, quickly had, in shop and factory. "The 'commercial' immigration is destined to stop in the near future. Nations abroad are enforcing laws against emigration. Our laws grow ever stricter. The change will be gradual, but surely the American must return to work."

REFUSES RECEIVERSHIP FOR SOLVENT COMPANY

United States Judge Bean has refused to grant the application of the East Hood River Fruit company for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of its affairs, on the grounds that for a company to petition for a receiver while it is defendant in a suit for the collection of a debt, and when it is acknowledged the company is solvent, was too extraordinary a proceeding to be justified by the circumstances. The property of the company is said to be worth about $150,000, and its debts amount to $30,000. There has been a disagreement among the stockholders, which has culminated in a deadlock over the question of repaying an $800 loan to one of the stockholders. Suit for the collection of this money was brought, whereupon the company applied for the appointment of a receiver.

PRIMARY PROPOSED WORRIES LEADERS

Republican Committeemen Are Embarrassed by Bourne's Request.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)
Washington, Nov. 28.—Senator Bourne as chairman of the National Progressive Republican league, has sent to all national committeemen of the Republican party and to governors and state officials a letter urging that presidential primaries be held in those states in which there is no law compelling it. When he proposed this method it was at first thought that the national committee would ignore it. In it, however, so many joined that it is now recognized as a real issue which the national committee will have to face. The committee meets next month in Washington and the developments since first proposal justify the prediction that a real fight will take place.

The demand for presidential primaries is increasing from every quarter. In five states they are required by statute and will be held in North Dakota March 19, Wisconsin April 2, Nebraska April 17, Oregon April 19, and New Jersey May 28. Legislatures will meet in January in Kentucky, Mississippi, New York, South Carolina, Maryland, New Jersey and Rhode Island, New Jersey having already adopted the presidential primary, efforts will be made by the friends of the measure to induce the legislatures in the other states to provide for it. Of course, the progressives are supporting the presidential primary, and the stand patners are opposing it. Politicians agree that the situation is most embarrassing to the Republican national committee. The organization which is seeking to renominate President Taft does not feel disposed to relinquish the political advantage that would accrue to them through the activities of federal officeholders. It is admitted that the presidential primary would give Senator La Follette a large number of delegates which would be denied him under the old system of selection. The advantage of having control of the national committee would largely be lost, under the operation of the presidential primary. As an offset against the possibility of a stampede to either La Follette or Roosevelt, the Taft organization is sending out orders to the various states to lay plans for instructions to delegates. Taft leaders are becoming convinced that there will be a hard fight in the convention, and for that reason are preparing for absolute instruction by the conventions that elect delegates. Taft workers will oppose having delegates elected by instructions from the voters in presidential primaries, but will attempt to save what they can from the partial wreck of the old fashioned political machines.

WOMAN RECOVERS WATCH WHERE POLICEMEN FAIL

(Special to The Journal.)
Oregon City, Or., Nov. 28.—Mrs. Minnie Donovan of Willamette owes the recovery of a watch she valued highly because of its being an heirloom to a friend in Portland. The watch was stolen from her home about two months ago, and after the police of Oregon City and Portland failed to find the watch or the thieves, she informed a friend, Mrs. Thomas Smith of Portland, of her loss. Mrs. Smith the next day went the round of the Portland pawnshops, finding the watch in the last one she visited. The owner of the place said a young man had pawned it for $10. The pawnbroker collected the $10 before he would let her have the watch.

KLAMATH FALLS EXPECTS HILL LINE

Southern Pacific Plans Kept Under Cover, While Opposition Road's Busy.

(Special to The Journal.)
Klamath Falls, Or., Nov. 28.—Nothing whatever can be learned of the plans of the Southern Pacific for railroad work. Erickson & Paterson, contractors on the Natron cut-off, are still at work. They have about 300 men employed, but those familiar with the nature of the work to be done say that the present contract will be completed by the end of the year. The work from the first of the present contract for a distance of 40 miles will be across a marsh and cannot be prosecuted in the winter time. The fact that no plans have been made to transfer the equipment of Erickson & Paterson to the line between this city and Merrill gives credence to the report that the Modoc Northern may be owned by the Hill interests. Southern Pacific officials say they have no knowledge when work will be begun on the Modoc Northern, while the report is current that the right of way is Hill property, and that just as soon as possible the line will be built as far south as Crescent.

It is pretty well understood that Hill is seeking an outlet to San Francisco and that he desires the road to be in operation by 1915. This being the case, it is very probable that he will follow the line of least resistance. After reaching Klamath Falls he can easily build southward to make connection with the Western Pacific. Those who have made a study of the situation feel confident that Hill will be operating trains into Klamath Falls within 15 months.

Consumption Often Develops From Pneumonia

Consumption readily attacks those who have had Pneumonia. Many sufferers from Tuberculosis give a history of having had Pneumonia. The lungs thus weakened are more easily attacked by the germs that cause Consumption. For all those with "weak lungs," especially those who have had Pneumonia, Eckman's Alternative is the appropriate remedy. Cures of Consumption are accomplished by Eckman's Alternative. But take it in time. There is no wisdom in waiting until Tuberculosis is established. Health is never fully valued until sickness comes. A remarkable recovery follows:

"Gentlemen: I wish I had known of Eckman's Alternative two years ago. Since taking it, following a bad attack of Pneumonia, I have gained 25 pounds, and I cannot but be very thankful to you and the Almighty God for the great blessing and change of health it has brought me."

(Signed Affidavit) THOMAS REILLY.
Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Trouble, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Owl Drug Co., and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.
