WESTON GOES WET DRYNESS 3 YEARS

Pendulum in Northwest Booths Swings Now to Saloons, Now From; Contests for the Most Part Are Lively.

(Special to The Journal.)
Weston, Or., Dec. 6.—Weston went wet by a vote of 75 to 35, after being ostensibly on the dry basis since June, 1908, when the prohibition wave swept over Oregon and 42 saloons were put out of business in Umatilla county. No active campaign was made by either side, and election day passed with no unpleasant incident.

The attorney general ruled that ar election here under the home rule law would be irregular because the precinc boundaries had not been established by the county court, but local authorities decided to hold it anyway and ascertain community sentiment. A large traffic in near beer has been carried on for several years without revenue to the city. Ordinance No. 197, fixing the license for the sale of this beverage at $1000 per annum was carried by a vote of 69 to 39. Three local tax measures were car ried. An ordinance holding property owners, lessees, agents or tenants responsible for damages due to defective sidewalks, was defeated. The following officers were elected without opposition: H. A. Brandt mayor; J. M. Ashworth, G. DeGraw, L. B. Davis, F. H. Beathe, councilmen; L. R. Van Winkle, recorder; S. A. Barnes, It is considered likely that the new council will now pass a saloon license ordinance, imposing strict regulations.

ATTEMPT TO DEFEAT SCHOOL TAX CAUSES SCURRYING AT BAKER

(Special to The Journal.)

Baker, Or. Dec. 6.—Unexpected opposition developed at the annual school election in this city that resulted in as exciting scenes as Baker has witnessed on a similar occasion since 17 years ago, when a great fight was on over the erection of a new high school. The taxpayers of the district were called on to vote on a special school tax for year of $41,000 and as the election is usually a matter of form, a dozen or so voters voting in the affirmative for the tax, the result was entirely unex-Opposed to the introduction of pected. Opposed to the introduction of domestic science, manual training and domestic science, manual training and commercial courses in the local high school, a band of taxpayers quietly planned to vote the special tax down. When the polls opened they were there in force and marching in voted "No" solidly.

Friends of the measure at once took the alarm and then began two hours' explay and voters were rushed to the polls. The women of the city played a prominent part in the final victory. Leaders of women's clubs were among the first notified of the situation and forsaking club meetings and other enthey began to rustle for votes and succeeded in arousing women cilmen. taxpayers who had not voted for years. When the opposing side saw its efforts were likely to be thwarted it became active again, but too late.

ALBANY & INTERURBAN FRANCHISE IS BEATEN; LEBANON DISTRUSTFUL

(Special to The Journal.)
Lebanon, Or., Dec. 6.—The city elec-tion was very quiet in Lebanon. There were 394 votes cast, but there was no issue and a great many did not vote. There were two tickets, but one was got out only a few hours before the polls were opened. The nearest to a contest is the granting of a franchise on Second street. Last spring the city council granted the Albany and Interurban Railroad company a franchise through the center of Second street, and the citizens along that street held up the franchise by the referendum. At the election there was an opinion that these persons were trying to secure this franchise to dispose of it to some company, and that the city should hold up the franchise until the parties are ready to build a road, which was the cause of the defeat by a vote of 265 to 159.

The following ticket was elected: Mayor, A. F. Wilson; councilmen, V. S. Winnersten, N. D. Reefhaver and Ira Crandall; recorder, J. R. Green; treas-urer, Clarence Ingram.

ood government ticket yesterday. The citizens' and people's tickets were each incomplete so that together they formed a complete ticket. Dr. J. A. Mahan, a resident of the city or the past 20 years and president of the board of trustees of the Normal school, headed the citizens' ticket, and was opposed by A. M. Wright, a former councilman and a county commissioner. The good government ticket had the support of the pastors of the Christian and Methodist churches, who, balked in an attempt to hold a local option election by the supreme court decision, nominated councilmen and a mayor pledged to rid the city of the saloons. The ministers made a desperate fight for victory and counted on the women's vote to win them success. They and their supporters hauled women to the polls by the score, but a check up of the situation showed the women to be as closely lined up with the Mahan ticket as the men.

The vote was as follows: Mayor-Mahan, 943; Wright, 364, a majority of Councilmen-at-large — Clarence Palmer, 915; A. .I. Mehner, 376, a ma jority of 539. J. A. Crimp was elected clerk and M. A. Hall was elected treas-urer by corespondingly large majorities. The following councilmen, all on the citizens' ticket, were elected: J. N. Faust, George Michels, P. G. Fitterer. Jay Whitfield had no opposition for at-torney. The Socialists cast 64 votes.

Mr. Gilbert is a prominent advocate of municipal ownership of public util-ities, and the platform upon which he was elected calls for a strict enforcement of the laws, which inferentially means that the local option liquor law is to be rigidly enforced hereafter.
