Two Claim Insurance.—Two women are claiming the life insurance of Edward Cummings in the circuit court. Each woman claims to have been his wife. One woman goes by the name of Evelyn M. Cummings and the other by the name of Sophia J. Cummings.

Personal Taxes.—The work of collecting delinquent personal taxes was taken up yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff Hollingsworth. The taxes due the county aggregate about $15,000, and two deputy sheriffs were given tax statements and instructed to serve these upon the persons who have failed to pay their annual installments.

Temporary Police Quarters.—The plan to establish temporary police headquarters at Fifth and Everett streets has practically been abandoned by Chief of Police Glover and Commissioner Coffey, and as a substitute the chief is going to propose to the mayor that the fire house and the small building between the police station and the fire house on Second street be razed at once, one part of the new police headquarters built there and then occupied while the balance of the building is being erected.

Recovership Hearing.—Formal application for the appointment of a receiver for the Cornucopia Mines company was made to United States Judge Wolverton by the firm of Williams, Wood & Linticum, representing the Hamilton Trust company of New York, this morning.

SANTA BARBARA SNUBS RICH MEN'S CANDIDATE
(Sailed From Laredo, Tex.)
Santa Barbara, Cal., Dec. 7.—Backed by Montecito millionaires, William Wiles, the rich man's candidate, was defeated in the mayoralty election here by Dr. E. H. Boeseke, the women's champion, who gave him a majority of 700 votes in their first chance to exercise their right of franchise. In the councilmanic fight none of the incumbents were returned, and out of the seven councilmen elected to office four are prohibitionists. As Dr. Boeseke is a liberal, much interest is evoked as to what effect such a council will have upon his administration.
