ONE HOLIDAY FOR COAST LEAGUERS

Rose Festival and Elks' Convention Crowds Will See Champion Beavers.

Portland's Pacific coast league champions will play only one holiday game in Portland next year, Memorial day, Thursday, May 30, resigning all of the other choice days to the northwest league. However, there is no doubt but that the Beavers will play at home during the Rose Festival, which, after the opening week, is the most remunera tive of the season, and during the Elks' grand lodge reunion, July 8-13, when thousands of visitors will swarm the Portland and some one of the other coast league clubs will be selected for the Decoration day game at the schedule meeting in Los Angeles, January 9. On the Fourth of July Vancouver, the Northwestern league champions, will play the Portland Colts and on Labor the same clubs will meet at the new Vaughn street park. Vancouver and Portland on the two holidays ought to draw enough people, provided fair weather obtains, to make the Portland club some money. Last spoiled its Labor day games. Last year rain

However, the Rose Festival and the Elks' convention are expected to provide immense crowds for the coast league clubs and the two late holidays will not be missed.

Bush Towns Like Coin.

"Major league teams," says good old Frank Bancroft, "should always watch sharp as to the terms and agreements when they book games with small cities —these exhibition affairs. The rural magnate is always willing to put something over on you, if he can. Long, long ago, I booked an exhibition game for the oldtime Troys at a little city-I think its name was Berkeley-and when the Berkeley magnate asked by wire as to the terms I wired back '80-20,' meaning, of course, 80 per cent of the money for us and 20 per cent for him. He accepted terms immediately. Well, we played, and there was a big crowd, our share footing up something like $700. When the game was over the local magnate solemnly handed me a check for $80.20, and showed my wire to back up his idea of division."

One on Fielder.

There are Joneses and Joneses, just like there are Smiths and Smiths and Browns and Browns, in this world of ours, and thereby hangs a laugh. Under a perfect likeness in a Tacoma paper of Fielder A. Jones, the former leader of the Chicago White Sox, but now a Portland lumberman, who was yesterday elected president of the Northwestern league, is a brief sketch of Davy Jones, the former De-treit player. Instead of Fielder A. Jones, the new lengue head is dubbed Fielder David Jones, and the following biography appended:

"Fielder David Jones, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, who was last night elected president of the Northwestern Baseball league, hails from To-which club in turn sold him to the St Jouis Browns. Louis Browns. Jones jumped the Browns in 1902 for the Chicago Na-tionals, and played in the Windy City until 1904, when he broke his leg and was released. In 1905 he was with Minneapolis and at the end of the season was sold to Detroit, where he played center and left field and shared base running honors with Tyrus Cobb. Jones is now a resident of Portland."

As a matter of fact, in 1901 Fielder was batting .325 and playing center field for the Chicago American league White Sox. In 1896, five years previous, he was slamming the pill about the Brooklyn National's park at a .353 clip. From 1901 to 1909 he was with Chicago, winning one world's championship, that of 1906, for the White Sox.

Casey Files Application.

Pearl Casey yesterday made official application to President Baum of the Coast league for a position as umpire on the 1912 staff. Judge McCredie and Manager Walter have given the Moose a strong indorsement, and so have any mah, Wis., and is 30 years old. He requimber of the Portland fans. Casey is ceived his, professional start in the immensely popular in Portland, and game at Rockford, III., in 1901, and would undoubtedly be a good man for Milwaukee bought him from Rockford, umpiring.

TWO MATCHES IN VIEW FOR MAT FAN

Berg and Demetral Will Grapple in Armory Next Friday Night.

With the wrestling match between fohn Berg, the Portland bonecrusher, and Demetral, the Greek demon, scheduled for the Armory December 29, and a bout between the big Pole, Zbyszko, and Jack Leon, the giant Russian, as a prospect, the mat fans have a couple of treats in store for them.

Demetral had a bout scheduled for tonight in Baker, with Joe Heinrich, but there was some talk of calling it off, because the Greek did not want to take chances of injury, in view of his close match with Berg.

Two preliminaries will precede the light heavyweight match. Jack Leon, the Russian heavyweight, who weighs 210 pounds, will grapple with Jack Root, the Portland 210 pounder, agreeing to throw the local man three times in an Del Baker, the young baseball player, will furnish the opening preliminary against a middleweight named Lansworth from the east.

According to the promoters the Arwill be seated so that every mat an in the city may be accommodated. Zbyszko is planning a western tour soon, and wants to include Portland in his itinerary. If he comes he will be matched against Leon, who is the only man in these parts capable of giving

BRESNAHAN FLIES BACK AT OWNER OF CUBS SUNNYSIDE SPARTANS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 22.—Claiming that Charles W. Murphy, owner of the Chicago Cubs, called him a liar, and re marked, "I have something on you, and I'll drive you from organized baseball," Roger Bresnahan, manager of the St. Louis National league club, admitted today that he has filed charges against the Chicago magnate. The charges state that Murphy insulted Bresnahan during the recent meeting of the National league directors in New York city, when he made the remark which Bresnahan attributed to him.

FIELDER JONES IS LEAGUE PRESIDENT

Portland Lumber Baron Unanimously Elected by Northwestern Magnates.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 22.—Fielder A. Jones, former leader of the Chicago White Sox, was unanimously elected president of the Northwestern Baseball league at the annual meeting of the board of directors yesterday afternoon at Hotel Seattle in this city.

Robert Blewett opposed Jones on the first ballot and received the votes of D. E. Dugdale and R. P. Brown, while the other four magnates, Judge Mc-Credie, Wattelet, A. E. Rothermell, representing the Tacoma club, and Jos Cohn cast their votes for the Portland man. Before the count was announced Dugdale and Brown switched their votes, making the election of Jones unanimous.

The application of the citizens of Walla Walls, Wash., for admission to the Northwestern league was rejected after the magnates found it impossible to secure another town in the northwest that could support a team and make an eight club circuit for the 1912 seaso Last night at 10:30 the magnates threw up the sponge and informed the representatives of Walla Walla that it would be impossible for them to gain admission to the league this season. The magnates said that Walla Walla would be given a chance upon the first va-

The schedule, as arranged by Judge McCredie of the Portland team, was adopted after a long discussion with few minor changes. The league season will open April 16, and will end on September 29 The holiday dates were also announced
