Mrs. Thomas C. Allison's picture appears on this page in the queenly robes of which she appeared during the production of "America," the beautiful historical tableau given by the Child Welfare league of the Ladd school.

Mrs. Allison is queenly in manner, as well as attire and worked unflinchingly for the success of the entertainment. E.
M. Lacey was a popular king and might have been beheaded had it not been for the gentle yet firm intervention of Mrs.
Judas Macabene, known in history as Judas the Hammer. This character is portrayed in the amplified form during the ceremony of the Knight of the Mac-cabene of the World.

Mrs. Fred Olsen as queen of the South, and Mrs. Marks as queen of the South did excellent work at the evening performance. At the matinee at the Baker in the same role, Mrs. Weed, a pupil of Professor Carson, took the part of the queen of the South and sang "Dixie" in beautiful voice, but she had put more animation in the part. Taking the place of Mrs. Carson, who had a severe cold, as queen of the North, Mrs. Morrison Reed of Detroit, who is visiting in the city, took the part on a few hours' notice. With beautiful stage presence and a magnificent voice, she added the truly professional touch. Mrs. Reed is known in musical circles as Madame Rialdo. She hails from Detroit and New York, where she has done her best work, and reminds one of Schumann-Hainik. It is hoped that we shall again hear Madame Rialdo while she is within our gates.

Mrs. Herbert G. Reed, the accomplished Shakespearean reader, was at her best in the pathetic story of "Paisee," and held the attention of everyone, even the restless children. Miss Frank Towles, who is at the head of the dramatic department of the Y. W. C. A., made a hit at the matinee with the children in her most appropriate selection of the story of "Billy Brod and the Big Lie." Space forbids going into detail with the numerous good things offered and surprise was expressed on all sides that the entertainment had not been better advertised, and regret that there could not have been pictures taken of the beautiful tableaux, especially the "Fairy Land" and the "Floral Drill."

Mrs. Garrison, who staged the play, and the officers and members of the Parent-Teacher association, under whose auspices it was given, wish to voice their thanks to the various individuals and firms who so ably assisted. Holiday affairs interfered with the attendance.

Mrs. Lador Lange and party occupied one of the boxes, the school board another, Helen Ladd Corbett another.
The park board was represented by Superintendent Mische and Mr. Lewis of Whidden & Lewis.

Mr. Schmitt, the president of the Mt.
Hood Light & Power company, kindly furnished an auto one day, as W. J.
Hawkins, Dudley Clark, Thomas H.
Beverly and W. H. Warren of the Oregon Taxicab company, did the same.

Among those buying largely of tickets or subscribing were: Mr. Pittcock of the Oregonian, C. S. Jackson of The Journal, Ladd & Tilton bank, Henry Wagner, J. Lange, J. N. Felsch, Hon-eyman Hardware, Portland Gas, Light & Coke company, Security Savings & Trust company, and many others in a smaller way.

The different camps of Redmen furnished one of the most entertaining portions of the program and deserve great credit for giving their time and talent to the cause. Mrs. Fred A.
Douglas as the Indian princess, did her song and dance in truly professional style.

To George L. Baker, who so generously gave his theatre without money and without price, we pledge our allegiance. Count on our patronage, Mr.
Baker, and on our votes.

The officers and members of the Child Welfare league wish to thank everyone who assisted in making "America" the beautiful success it was as a play, and those who helped make it a financial success.

The new year vision.

The New Year Vision.

1912—Greet it with a smile, mothers.
The past with all its mistakes is now history only. A new calendar stretches out before us, every page white. While the new year means new demands—demanding our best—it also means new opportunities, new privileges, fresh air to spirit lungs, lease of life for service, life and drum summoning to battle!

What battle? The battle for a more scientific motherhood. A battle for better protection of childhood, the battle for sweeter manners, purer lives and better laws. All hail then, bright New Year, the mother hearts accept the challenge the new year flings out. They must catch a broader vision, Aye, catch the right kind of a vision, one that changes not mine, but mine, but mine, but mine.

Up, ye mothers, catch the vision! Let the crown of motherhood rest securely on thine head. Ye are queens indeed; your throne the fireside of home. Beware lest your scepter trail low in the dust.

New opportunities! New responsibilities!
New life and renewed love. All hail 1912!

News of the Circle.

Vernon starts the new year in a bright healthy condition. How could it be otherwise with such women as Mrs. Lewis R.
Hunt, president, Mrs. H. H. Bushnell, secretary, in the lead, and backed with the hearty cooperation of the principal, Professor Parker, and the teachers and mothers?

At their meeting Wednesday afternoon Mrs. W. J. Hawkins, the president of the Portland council, gave them a talk on the relations of the home and school as well as the home and that it took the two to make up civilization. That which has been made in both, but that we were slowly arriving at the best we know of.

The council meeting of the O. C. M. was held at the beautiful Jefferson high and a very delightful time was had inspecting the building and getting better acquainted with the principal, Mr.
Jenkins, and the teachers. Owing to the heavy fall of snow few were in attendance, and the general impression is that the attendance will not be as great when the meetings are held in different places each time, as now. This is justified by past experience.

The regular monthly meeting of the Child Welfare league of the Ladd school will be held at the school building at 8 o'clock Thursday, January 11. A refresher of the entertainment given to raise funds toward securing a covered playground and social center will be mentioned. The appointment of several committees and unfinished business will be taken up.

There are several communications that are crowded out this week, but will have due attention later.

Mr. Bertha S. Smith of Eugene, who will write Mrs. I. N. Walker, 1103 East Morrison, who is chairman of the literature committee, she will receive prompt information to her inquiry to this department, as to literature.

PILES CURED AT HOME BY NEW ABSORPTION METHOD

If you suffer from bleeding, itching, blind or protruding piles, send me your address, and I will tell you how to cure yourself at home by the new absorption treatment; and will also send some of this home treatment free for trial. Write reference from your own locality, if requested. Immediate relief and permanent cure assured. Send no money, but tell others of this offer. Write today to Mrs. M. Summers, Box P, North Dame, Ind.

as we go to press comes the advice from the chairman of the committee that is to be given January 22. The place and time of the lecture will be duly noted. The judge is a man with vast experience in handling the boy problem. He has a direct and powerful message for us and every one who has children should not fail to hear him.
He also gives a free lecture to the boys and girls of high school age. Due notice of this lecture will also be made.

Dr. Louis Dechmann will lecture December 10 at the Y. W. C. A., at 7:30.

Lents will organize a parent-teacher circle Friday, January 12. The meeting is called at 2:30, so that those who wish may make an inspection of their beautiful new building.

In a letter from Mrs. A. J. Lippincott, chairman of the magazine committee of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, comes the announcement that it has been decided to enlarge the magazine and advance the subscription price from 50 cents to $1 per year. But the magazine will be published 12 months in the year instead of 10 as heretofore.

For a short time subscriptions will be received at the low rate of 50 cents with the privilege of making your order for two years. Mrs. Ingham, the chairman of the magazine committee, has been untiring in her work, and yet—yet—shall I say it? Oregon is in the rear in her allegiance to the official organ. Every banker has his banking news, the miner his mining magazine, the farmer his agricultural magazine, etc., etc. Let us parents and teachers not lag in progressiveness. We have such well known writers as Mrs. Frederick Schoff, president of the National Congress, Mrs. J. E. Mumford and Mrs.
H. W. Lippincott on the editorial staff, etc., etc. Let us parents and teachers Elizabeth Harrison are worth many times the price of the magazine.

The Big Sisterhood is doing quiet but steady work. It is now active in connection with the National Vigilance committee, and "The Survey" will soon publish an article concerning the work. It is formed for aiding in the work of the juvenile court of the people's institute, and the municipal department of police protection for women or any other organization for assisting the delinquent, dependent, the wayward, needy girl or woman.

It's aim is to extend a helpful, up-lifting influence through direct individual contact and to create a new ideals through personal friendship and sympathetic companionship. Each sister takes one case and finds her own ways and means of operating, working for any movement which may decrease the temptations and improve the conditions for girls and women. It is heartily in sympathy with the movement for greater knowledge and publicity regarding the immoral conditions which exist in every city and the fearful organized white slave traffic.

MRS. J. ALLEN GILBERT, Secretary.
541 Fifth street.

The Power of Suggestion.
Editor Child Welfare Department.— The key note of the song of "Social Redemption" is doubtless "Education." Yet we have scarcely touched the fringe of the real problem of education. One "main traveled road" leading to the education of the child, is through the "eye gate."

Is there anything in the much talked about "law of suggestion"? If there is, what is the effect on the child's mind of suggestions received through the "eye gate" of the hideous, pernicious bill board advertising? Not only bulletin boards, flaming posters, but advertisements on all barns, fences and stones on the highway are continually telling of the virtue and purity of tobacco, whiskey, beer, ad nauseum. Not only this, but great posters depicting scenes with the pistol, murder, drink and other vices depicted. Not long ago as I was passing by one of these great advertising boards, I noticed two lads, some 8 or 10 years of age, standing in front of the posters with wide open eyes, yes, and open mouths too, seemingly entranced with the pictures, and what were these pictures? I noticed a shooting scrape. A man with a smoking pistol, his victim, a woman, lying on the floor. The table, the wine glass, the cards, the society, so-called, and "full dress." What lessons did these pictures teach? What were they saying to the boys? Were they saying that when I get to be a little bigger I'll carry a pistol? His companion replied, "Yer betcher life. My! but hain't they got on fine togs. Things ain't slow in that crowd."

Mother, these boys were well dressed lads, seemingly from well brought up homes. Do you not think it time for the Mother's Congress to begin a battle against these obnoxious bill boards and suggestive posters?

From the resolutions committee of the Oregon Congress of Mothers comes the following report, with explanations of its delay which was caused by an incomplete list of contributors:

Whereas, The Oregon Congress of Mothers, in its general aim and purpose, the welfare of the child, and child, and through an endeavor to awaken the public mind to a greater interest and responsibility in the perpetuity of its race, has projected and inaugurated the National Child Welfare Conference and Exhibit, and Whereas, The signal success attained in this undertaking, the first of its kind on the coast, has been and is evidenced by the comments of the press and the unprecedented interest of the attendance, and the fact that hail-stormed our doors, we feel cannot be otherwise than far reaching in its resultant benefits to the community, and

Whereas, The success of our undertaking has been attained only with the volunteered assistance of our valued friends, his excellency, the governor, his honor the mayor, and the following civic bodies, organizations and societies: Portland city council, public schools, Portland Young Men's Christian association, Audubon society, Oregon

Women, city health board, juvenile court, Y. M. C. A., departments of dental hygiene and suggestion, Fruit & Flower Mission, Primary Union, Y.
Powers Manufacturing company, State Training School.

"Be it therefore resolved, That the Oregon Congress of Mothers, in convention assembled, does hereby express its grateful thanks to a large number of thanks to all of the foregoing, and further desires to thank C. T. Prall and N. G. Winstock and Mrs. George Weister, the various Parent-Teacher circles for their loyal support, and to those who have generously proffered and given their assistance."

REV. W. H. FOULKES SENDS GREETINGS TO FRIENDS HERE

Come From New York in Form of Pretty Little Pamphlets, Entitled "New Year's Greeting, 1912."

Rev. William Hiram Foulkes, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, and now pastor of the Rutgers Presbyterian church of New York city, has sent his many friends in Portland neat little pamphlets entitled "New Year's Greetings, 1912." Mr. Foulkes' message to his friends follows:

"With our love and good wishes, we entered upon the race that is set before us. The memories of past trials and triumphs incite us to renewed diligence; the hope of a better trophy nerves us for the greater ordeals of tomorrow. Our course is 'ordered in all things and sure,' yet we are free, either to run or loiter by the way. No taskmaster will lash us into sullen obedience, save only the imperious voice of conscience within, echoing the call of our exalted Master, 'Go forward.'" "The race is not to the swift. The fleet of foot do not win the prize; but the patient and persevering soul is surely crowned with laurel. We will not all run alike. Some of us in the exuberance of youth shall mount up with wings as eagles; others under the zeal of life's maturity shall run and not be weary; while others still, hounded down by the burden of many years, shall walk and not faint.

Whether soaring, running or walking

The new Clinton Kelly Memorial Methodist church at East Fortieth street and Powell Valley road was the scene of a "good fellowship" banquet last Tuesday evening, when all the men of the community gathered in the banquet for the purpose of arousing greater interest in the church, which is nearly completed. Following a talk by the pastor, Rev. C. O. McCulloch, addresses were made by Rev. J. W. McDougall, district superintendent, his subject being "The Church and the City"; Rev.
Benjamin Young on "The Church and Men"; C. E. Cline on "The Church and the World's Progress"; W. T. Kerr on "The Church and the Child," and by Cochman Allan R. Joy.

T. S. McDaniels, chairman, explained the present needs of the church. Over $650 was contributed by the men, and it will be used to help finish the building, which, when completed, will be adequate to supply the needs of the community for many years to come.

Auditorium holds 400.
The first work on the Clinton Kelly Memorial church was started about three years ago, shortly after the land, nearly a quarter of a block in size, had been donated by John B. Kelly, whose ancestor the church was named after.
Up to the present time over $3000 has been raised and expended on the building, which is a two story structure.

The church proper will have a large well lighted auditorium, which will hold about 400 persons. Besides this there
hold many people. Heating apparatus has already been installed in the basement, as has a thoroughly equipped kitchen, which may be used when socials, dinners and other functions are held.

For several months services have been held in the basement, but as soon as the main auditorium is finished, this room will probably be turned over to the Sunday school department and used as their meeting place.

To Be Free From Debt.
Every up-to-date feature necessary for a modern church has either been already installed or will be what the building is finished. The contract has been let for the art glass windows, which number several dozen. About
structure, and it is expected that this amount is raised, so that when the church is dedicated it will be one of the few that is free from debt.

Rev. C. O. McCulloch, who is the pastor of the church, came here from the central Illinois conference, having occupied the foremost pulpits in that conference for a number of years, and was also district superintendent at one time.
About three years ago Mr. McCulloch, owing to his health and due to the fact that two of his sons resided in this city, decided to come west, where he has since made his home.

Although Mr. McCulloch has a small congregation at the present time, numbering about 90 persons, he expects that
eral hundred members to take up the church work. According to Rev. J. W.
McDougall and Rev. C. O. McCulloch, the church is the best located of any in the city, and is in a rapidly growing district.

Church Elects Officers.
The annual meeting of the Immanuel Lutheran congregation was held Wednesday night in the church parlors, Ninteenth and Irving streets, when the reports of the officers were read and approved. All the reports pointed to advancement in the work, and while the different societies had added materially in the work of the congregation, the respective treasuries still showed good balances.

Electing of officers resulted as follows: Deacons, Abraham Odell and Miss Hilma Hendrickson; trustees, Judge O. D. Anderson, David D. Lofgren, Edward Halseh and Anton Hendrickson; Sunday school superintendent, Abraham Odenparr; organist, Oscar Lind; delegates to the annual meeting of the Columbia conference to be held at Spokane in the early part of February, A.
W. Moreland; alternate, Judge O. D. Anderson; organist, Mrs. Julia Swenson; musical director and choir leader,
Charles Swenson.

It was unanimously decided to wipe out the mortgage of $5500 on the church building that has existed for a few years.

The meeting was characterized by enthusiasm and harmony throughout.
Rev. J. Richard Olson presided at the meeting and in his annual report touched upon all the different phases of the work of the past year. He showed a large increase in the membership of the congregation during the past year and the average attendance much increased.
The young people's society began its regular meetings Thursday evening with a very large attendance. A good program was rendered and during the social hour refreshments were served.

Business Men Listen
Dr. John H. Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, began his series of ed addresses on the "Great Ideas in Religion," to the business and professional men of Portland today at the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association at luncheon. More than a hundred prominent Portland business and professional men have enrolled, and will be present at each address. These lectures are to be held each Saturday at noon, and will continue to and including Saturday, February 24.
Dr. Boyd's subject at today's meeting was a discussion of the relation of the early chapters of Genesis to modern thought, showing that through them emerge the four fundamental ideas of religion—God, man, sin, redemption.

Series of Sermons
The following series of sermons, by Albert Ehrhott, minister East Side Baptist church, East Twentieth and Ankeny streets, beginning tomorrow, will be: January 7—11 a. m., "Conscience and Conduct"; 7:30 p. m., prelude, "Holiday Aftermath" (Overworked and Underpaid Wage earners); sermon, "Come and See:
Go Tell."

January 14—"Perpetuity of Moral Law." 7:30 p. m., prelude, "Higher Ups in Our Police." Sermon, "Five Foolish Girls." Sermon, "Love and Marriage."

January 21—11 a. m., "The Will a Man's Citadel." Sermon, "Reduced Street Fare." Sermon, "Love and Marriage."

January 28—11 a. m., "Why Be and Do Right?" Sermon, "Woman's Suffrage." Sermon, "The Making of a Man."

Dr. George H. Cowles, formerly pastor of the Wesley-Methodist church, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia, will speak at the men's meeting tomorrow afternoon in the Young Men's Christian Association. For 20 years Dr. Cowles, beside performing his regular pastoral duties, traveled through the seven states of Australia and the South Sea Islands, including Samoa, Fiji and New Zealand. For the past several years Dr. Cowles has been serving as an evangelist in various parts of Europe, principally in the northern countries. Dr. Cowles has traveled very extensively and is thoroughly conversant with religious and secular conditions in all parts of the world.

been raised and expended on the build-

about 400 persons. Besides this there
hold many people. Heating apparatus
has already been installed in the base-
held.

their meeting place.

To Be Free From Debt.
Every up-to-date feature necessary
been let for the art glass windows,
structure, and it is expected that this
is dedicated it will be one of the few that
is free from debt.

Rev. C. O. McCulloch, who is the pas-
central Illinois conference, having occupied the foremost pulpits in that con-
also district superintendent at one time.
About three years ago Mr. McCulloch,
owing to his health and due to the fact
that two of his sons resided in this city,
decided to come west, where he has
since made his home.

bering about 90 persons, he expects that
church work. According to Rev. J. W.
McDougall and Rev. C. O. McCulloch,
district.

Church Elects Officers.
Lutheran congregation was held Wednesday night in the church parlors, Nin-
balances.

Electing of officers resulted as fol-
Miss Hilma Hendrickson; trustees,
Judge O. D. Anderson, David D. Lof-
drickson; Sunday school superintendent,
Abraham Odenparr; organist, Oscar Lind;
delegates to the annual meeting of the
kane in the early part of February, A.
W. Moreland; alternate, Judge O. D. Anderson; organist, Mrs. Julia Swenson;
musical director and choir leader,
Charles Swenson.

It was unanimously decided to wipe
years.

enthusiasm and harmony throughout.
Rev. J. Richard Olson presided at the
the average attendance much increased.
The young people's society began its
a very large attendance. A good program was rendered and during the social
hour refreshments were served.

Dr. John H. Boyd, pastor of the First
ed addresses on the "Great Ideas in
sional men of Portland today at the
tian Association at luncheon. More
than a hundred prominent Portland business and professional men have en-
each Saturday at noon, and will continue
to and including Saturday, February 24.
Dr. Boyd's subject at today's meeting
religion—God, man, sin, redemption.

Dr. Cowles, beside performing his regu-
South Sea Islands, including Samoa,
Fiji and New Zealand. For the past several years Dr. Cowles has been serv-
all parts of the world.
