50 INJURED WHEN MILITIA CHARGES MOB OF STRIKERS

Soldiers Rush Massachusetts Rioters With Fixed Bayonets, Wounding Men, Women and Children.

POLICE OF FOUR CITIES PRISONERS IN MILL YARD

Civil Authorities Helpless Before Raging Throng of Three Thousand.

(Continued from Second Page.) Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 15.—Two companies of militia and the local battery of artillery were armed with rifles and sent on the double quick to the Pacific mills here today when 3000 strikers stormed the factory, smashing windows and demolishing fences to secure pickets for clubs.

50 Injured in Charge. After the strikers had swept the police the militia arrived and charged the rioters with fixed bayonets. Fifty men, women and children were injured in the charge and the strikers fled, carrying the injured with them.

The order to charge was issued only after the police of Lawrence, Lowell, Lynn and Haverhill, the four big Massachusetts factory towns, had failed to disperse the rioters, who were jammed, thousands strong, about the mills where the strike is in progress.

More Militia Sent to Lawrence. Boston, Jan. 15.—Five more companies of state militia were ordered to Lawrence, the scene of today's rioting, by Governor Eugene N. Foss this afternoon.

The supreme court ruled that cases may be brought in either the state or federal courts having concurrent jurisdiction where such authority of the state courts is clearly defined.

Act Once Held Invalid. As originally passed by congress the act was declared unconstitutional by the United States supreme court for the reason that it related to interstate as well as interstate commerce.

Warrant Charging Performance of Two Criminal Operations Is Issued for Arrest of Minister.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Pittsburgh, Jan. 15.—A case almost parallel to that of the Reverend C. V. T. Richeson, of Boston, confessed murderer of Avis Linnell, developed here today when a warrant was issued for the arrest of the Reverend W. F. McFarland, aged 60 years, pastor of the United Presbyterian mission at Greenville, Tenn.

As a result of the jury's findings a warrant for McFarland's arrest on a statutory charge has been issued and he is being sought by the police of a dozen eastern cities.

In a statement issued just before her death Miss Coe stated the minister had performed two illegal operations on her and these charges were substantiated by the woman who administered the anesthetic.

MERCHANTS START BOYCOTT CAMPAIGN FOR ALASKA TRADE

Progressive Business Men's Club Today Names Subcommittee to Call on Prospective Freight Shippers.

DODGE RENEWS OFFER TO PUT ON BOAT LINE

Meeting Enthusiastic, and Big Results Are Expected to Come From It.

A definite beginning in the securing of Alaska trade for Portland was made at a luncheon of business men held this afternoon in the Commercial club.

E. H. Dodge of E. J. Dodge & Co., San Francisco, came before the committee saying that his firm will put a boat into Portland to take Alaska freight with a guarantee of 25 tons for each of three trips to Bering sea ports.

L. F. Weaver of Studebaker Bros., said his company would send a man to Alaska to solicit business.

R. W. Raymond said the American Safety Powder company, which he represents, will supply one tenth of the guarantee or 20 tons a trip.

More than 100 foreigners were arrested after the riot. Most of them were armed with revolvers, dirks and razors.

MISSING HEIRESS WORKS TO BE NEAR HER WATER-LOVER

Fifteen-Year-Old Violet Buehler Found in New York Tenement Laboring as Nurse Girl for $3 Week.

WILL NOT LEAVE UNLESS SHE IS TAKEN BY FORCE

"I Expect to Marry Jack When I'm a Little Older," Declares Child.

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Jan. 15.—Infatuated with a waiter and found working as a $3-a-week nurse girl that she might be near him, Violet Buehler, the 15-year-old Chicago heiress, who disappeared November 25, and for whom the skyscrapers of the Chicago loop district were searched, is today held here awaiting word from her relatives.

Found Working in Tenement. Last night Miss Buehler was discovered working as an attendant for Mrs. Britt, an invalid, in an east side tenement, under the name of Belle Ross.

"I expect to marry Jack Clewne when I am a little older," she said. "Of course I love him. He used to bum around Chicago with my gang. He's a fine fellow. They say he's foolish to leave home and all that $100,000 to work for $3 a week, but I can't see it that way. I don't think I'm foolish at all. I would rather be poor and happy than rich and lonely."

Miss Buehler was arrested before Justice Olmstead in the children's court on a charge of being under improper guardianship.

ONE PROSPECTIVE JUROR SECURED IN LOUIS WILDE CASE

Third Day of Proceedings to Get Jurymen Nets but Little Results; Saloon Man Is Tentatively Chosen.

NEW NAMES ARE TODAY INTRODUCED BY LAWYERS

Questions Asked Pertain to Persons Who Might Be Involved in Trial.

One man tentatively chosen, with a possibility that he may be excused later by peremptory challenge, was the total record of results at noon today on the third day's effort to secure 12 men qualified to try Louis J. Wilde, accused of embezzlement of $25,000 from the Oregon Trust & Savings bank.

D. W. Fairclough, a saloon keeper at Union avenue and East Burnside street, is the man passed by both sides after answering questions for two hours.

In addition to asking questions as to their acquaintanceship with the district attorney and his force, Thomas C. Devlin, Samuel G. Reed, P. L. Willis, W. S. Bridger and others connected with affairs of the Oregon Trust & Savings bank, Malarkey introduced a new name in Frank L. Perkins, reporter for an evening newspaper, though he did not appear bearing this title may have on the case.

When Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald took up the examination he also added new names to the list of celebrities, asking Fairclough as to his acquaintanceship with Frank Minto, saloonman; Jack Grant, of sailor boarding house fame; Lou Carpenter, former city detective; Al Cody, a private detective from Seattle; and another detective named Mitchell.

All of these men are said by the state to be allied with Cody in detective work for the defense. Fairclough, who was under examination, said he knew Minto and Carpenter slightly, and knew Jack Grant by sight. Asked if he speaks to Grant, he said: "I guess I would if he spoke first."

In answer to a final question, Fairclough said he did not have "much use for bank failures."

W. Cooper Morris, former cashier of the Oregon Trust & Savings bank, who was jointly indicted with Wilde and is to be the chief witness for the state, was again a center of close interest. There is less difficulty than at first, however, over the complications caused by the necessity of getting the guilt of Morris independent of the plea of guilty he is expected to enter. SALARY INCREASES RECOMMENDED; 16 MAY BE AFFECTED

Ways and Means Committee's Report Comes as Pleasant Surprise to Employees of the City; One Reduction.

Sixteen salary increases amounting in all to less than $4000 a year were recommended by the ways and means committee of the city council this morning at a special session held to apportion the appropriations for the various municipal departments during 1912.

Only one salary, that of a broommaker in the street cleaning department, was recommended for reduction. The action of the committee, in view of the statements made by several members of the committee from time to time during the past month, proved a complete surprise and it now appears that the threatening hints dropped by Councilman John H. Burgard to the effect that city employees might all expect to have their stipends cut instead of being raised was a clever ruse to head off the hundreds of annual requests for higher wages.

Few Requests for Raises. Be that as it may, the hints produced good results and made the work of the committee lighter. Instead of the mass of petitions for more money with which former council committees have been deluged there were but a comparatively few requests made and these were for the most part granted, as they seemed to be deserving.

Superintendent Alex Donaldson of the street cleaning department will get an increase of $25 a month if a report of the committee is adopted by the council. The superintendent now receives $175 a month. Other recommendations for salary raises were as follows:

City Sealer of Weights and Measures F. G. Buchtel from $125 a month to $150; Deputy Sealer Jones, from $100 to $125; Superintendent David E. Otis of the city garbage incinerator, from $185 to $150; Deputy City Health Officer I. T. Beeman, from $125 to $135; City Grappler Hugh Brady of the harbor patrol service from $80 to $100; two engineers on the harbor if patrol boat Eildor from $75 to $85; two women clerks in the department of public safety for young women, each to be raised $10; four police officers, from $250 a day to $275; one broommaker in the street cleaning department, from $70 a month to $80, (the salary of the other broommaker was reduced from $90 to $80); Miss Baerly, assistant to the chief stenographer in the city auditor's department, from $95 to $100; two deputies in the auditor's department, from $75 to $100.

That hard work and strict attention to duty is certain to be rewarded was proven today when the committee raised the salary of Deputy City Auditor John Curtin from $100 a month to $125. The deputy had not even put in a request for a raise and his name was unknown to the councilmen.

"Who is that young fellow that works in his shirt sleeves?" asked Councilman Burgard. The councilman was told by "young fellow" in question is Mr. Curtin. Mr. Burgard's motion that Curtin's wage be hoisted was unanimously carried. All of the councilmen had noted the industrious deputy at work without having ascertained his name.

Only $19,000 will be raised by direct taxation for the support of the street cleaning department. The rest of the money needed for that department will be appropriated from the general fund. The total appropriation allowed by the committee was $255,000. Mayor Rushlight's budget was followed closely in making all recommendations, only two
