

SALMON FISHING TO BE SPORT SOON

Big Run Expected in March But Anglers Are Already Out.

The salmon fishing season is approaching and many anglers are already taking out licenses and planning fishing trips. The big run of salmon will start about the middle of March or the first of April.

Indoor Baseball Notes

The Archer-Wiggins team and the Honeyman nine will play the first game this afternoon. This is the next to the last week of the indoor season and close games are expected.

The Eschler and Marshall-Wells teams will play the second game. There seems to have been a mistake made in making the schedule, as the Marshall-Wells team has played the second game for three successive weeks.

The Archer-Wiggins team has at last rounded to form and Daugherty has a fine bunch of players, but they are too late to do much good.

Lodell was back. Al looked fine after a lay-off last Sunday. He connected with two safe drives.

What's the matter? Hughie McHale failed to get a single last Sunday. But he scored two times. This will put a crimp in Hughie's average.

Happy Weisendanger is sure that he will make good in the eastern Oregon baseball league.

Tauscher received a letter from John Basse and Basse states that Boise could use the Spokane infielder next season.

Three members of the Honeyman team will go to Spokane next season, Tauscher, Baker and McHale. It is likely that they will be turned over to Helena for seasoning. Tauscher, however, will probably be carried for a while by the Indians.

Al Lodell will likely lose his chance to make good in the Northwestern league now that the Victoria team has signed Lou Nordyke as manager. Nordyke is a great first baseman.

Paul Irwin and Weisendanger each made two base hits in succession in the eighth inning Sunday and they both scored, giving the M.-W. team its victory over the Honeyman team.

Reynolds, the rightfielder of the Archer-Wiggins team, sure did slam the ball; a triple and two singles.

Peterson and Bleeg carried away the fielding honors, both stopping liners that would have been hits. Fessel also made a good catch in the second inning.

Hinkle is also away from the Eschler line-up for the rest of the season. Vesalius failed to show the right form this season, but he may do better next season.

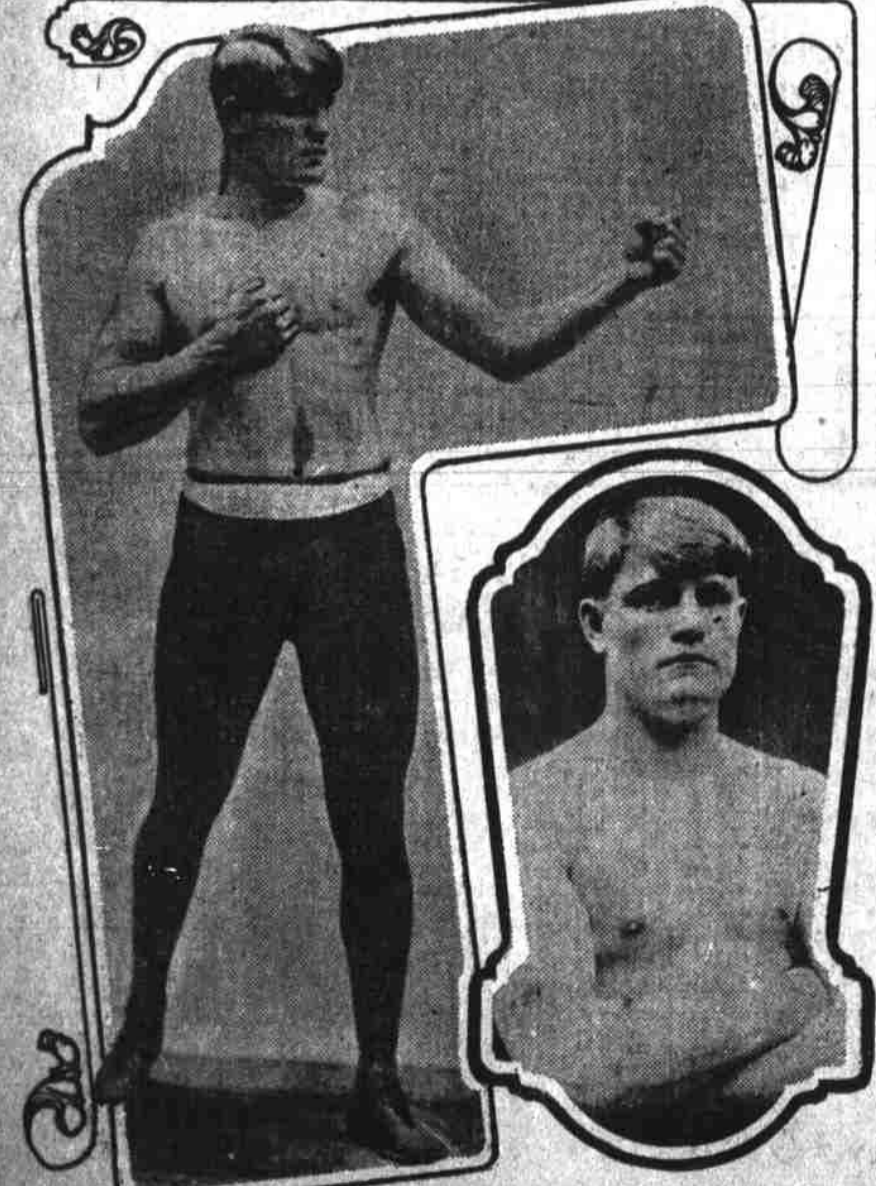

The indoor games are attracting attention along the coast and a game may be played between the outdoor and the indoor stars after the season closes.

Henderson may start against the Archer-Wiggins team and Morton will be kept on the sidelines today.

Lincoln to Meet Jefferson.

The Lincoln and the Jefferson high school basketball squads will play Thursday afternoon on the Y. M. C. A. floor. Both managers are expecting a hard game. The Lincoln team will line up as follows: Reid and Ball, guards; Boyer, center; Lewis and Young, forwards. Pentzmaecher of Washington will probably referee the game.

FOOTBALL TEAM WHICH CLAIMS SOUTHERN OREGON TITLE

Ashland, Or., Jan. 20.—The accompanying photograph is that of the Ashland high school football team of 1911. It has been claimed by Medford in the Portland papers that the Medford team is champion of southern Oregon, having been defeated but once and that by Eugene by the score of 5 to 0. The facts of the case are that Ashland and Medford played two games, one in Ashland and the other in Medford. The former was won by Medford by a score of 5 to 0, and the latter by Ashland by the same score. The Medford correspondent saw fit to forget these two games in order that he might claim for his team the championship of southern Oregon. Nor is this all. After the second game the Ashland boys asked for a deciding game with Medford and were met with the reply that under no circumstances would the Medford team meet the Ashland team again. Now who is champion of southern Oregon? Ashland's only defeat was at the hands of Medford, while Medford acknowledges defeat by Eugene in addition to that by Ashland.

MAY GET ANOTHER NAME FOR WESTERN BOWLING

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 20.—The Western Bowling Congress may be known after the big tournament, which will be held in Los Angeles February 16-25, as the Western Bowling association. High officials of the Western Bowling Congress are endeavoring to change the name and have the congress join the American Bowling Congress.

This will be one of the important matters to be decided at the business meeting of the tournament here. It is likely that several officials of the A. B. C. will be in attendance at the annual meeting of the W. B. C. to urge the western bowlers to join the American congress.

High School Notes

Spring is coming and the school students are beginning to talk baseball and track at every spare moment.

George Olsen has quit the Lincoln high school, but may be back when the spring term begins.

The Columbia university track team has not started training. Manager Bach expects the boys to have their first turnout in the second week of the spring term.

The Lincoln team was out Wednesday afternoon and Manager Bach will have quite a task to select the five runners who will compete in the inter-scholastic cross country race.

Coach Veatch is again talking about the Washington team and figures that his squad will again win the championship.

Risley, Bronson and Condit joined the soccer team of the Lincoln high. Risley was upset a number of times, but he seems to like the game.

Bob Colvin and Lind are star players for the Jefferson team. Peacock at goal is pretty good.

A number of the high school players will likely be picked by the F. F. A. committee to play the English and Scotch teams during the month of February.

Borleske will not be in Portland in time to coach baseball for the Lincoln

LITTLE STORIES OF THE MAT

BY LLOYD KENYON JONES

"Pat Connelly and Pullman Berth." Maybe they don't have Pullmans over in Ireland—or perhaps Pat Connelly was simply not accustomed to "illigence." At any rate, the rough house

Hibernian wasn't taking chances. "Pat was at home enough on the mat—where there was plenty of space—and with the secure knowledge that his dressing room would afford territory enough to turn around in."

Now, Pat had traveled a bit—but there is traveling, and plain, everyday "travelin'." This was a case where the "g" was missing—but Connelly supplied it.

He was billed at points to the sunset side of Chicago, and his manager wasn't going to have his charge suffer inconvenience or humiliation. No, sir! Pat was a perfectly good wrestler, and "the best in the house was none too good for Reilly."

When the manager and Pat went through the steel wicket at the Rock Island station Pat just naturally expected to climb into a chair car, select a seat, and do his snoring with his shoes on, which was a whole lot better than wondering if the long foot of the locomotive whistle would bring an inquiring "shack" to the side door at the next stop.

"What th' devil's this?" Pat inquired with a suspicious sniff, as they wended their way into the Pullman—with the curtains hanging down like blankets on a wash line.

"I'll bet it's the laundry!" Connelly mused—partly to himself, but mostly aloud, as he felt the fabric in his fingers. An assortment of shrieks from the team this season and Rich Parrott is again slated for the position.

Tyson may go out for baseball again.

West, of the Jefferson high school basketball team, is out of the game on account of a fractured wrist. He expects to get back before the season ends.

Anderson, playing center for Jefferson, played rings around Fitzgerald in Thursday's game and the football center was replaced by Kirkland in the second half.

The Washington five is rounding into fine form and expects to give the other schools a hard run for the championship.

The Christian Brothers' college team may arrange games with the high school squads.

The annual indoor track meet of Columbia university will be held about the middle of April. The exact date has not been set as the officials do not want it to interfere with other meets that may be scheduled soon.

JONES THINKS PAPKE CAN "COME BACK"

(United Press Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, Jan. 20.—"Of course Billy Papke can come back," remarked Tom Jones today absent his new duties as manager of the erstwhile "thunderbolt." "All he needs is intelligent handling and some more of his old time confidence."

Jones received a telegram today from Papke at Hot Springs. Billy suggested Fritz Holland as his first opponent in California. Jones will go after either Holland or Petrosky.

Yacht Clubs Invited. Amateur and professional yacht clubs throughout this country are being invited to take part in the annual Los Angeles to Honolulu yacht race, which will start from San Pedro on June 11, which is Kamehameha (Independence) Day in the Hawaiian Islands. The race is open to all yachts of not less than 40 feet water line length, belonging to any regularly organized club. There are no restrictions as to rig, number of crew or sails. Nothing but sailboats will be allowed to take part.

Gorman Makes New Record. James E. Gorman of the Golden Gate Revolver club, established a new world's record last week by making the score of 886 out of a possible 1000. The former record was 945.

BUDDY RYAN ORDERS A DOZEN BLUDGEONS FOR BIG PITCHERS

Buddy Ryan, when he arrives in Cleveland, will need an express wagon to carry his bats to the club house of the Naps. The Portland player has ordered one dozen bats of his own model of a local sporting goods house to be shipped to his home in Denver.

ALBANY'S BASEBALL CLUB IS INDEPENDENT

Albany, Or., Jan. 20.—The Albany baseball club will not be a member of the Willamette Valley Baseball league, according to the present plans of the management. A meeting was held Friday night and it was decided to play independent ball during the coming season.

COLUMBUS BOUTS FULL OF PROMISE

Billy Eyeman and Bud Stevens Lined Up to Meet January 29.

The January smoker of the Columbus club, which will be staged at Oregon hall Monday, January 29, will doubtless be the best mitt affair of the season.

Jack Day, who is arranging the bouts, has spent a great deal of time securing the best representatives in the different weights, and a full program will be staged.

The much talked of bout between Billy Eyeman, of the Multnomah club, and Bud Stevens, of the Columbus club, will be the feature event of the card.

Eyeman, since joining the Multnomah club, has improved very much, and Instructor Tracey is confident that he will be able to defeat the Columbus club mixer. The two boys are training hard for the bout, and a lively scrap is predicted.

St. Louis Man Here. Buegel, a St. Louis mitt slinger, will make his appearance before the Portland fight fans in a bout with Al McNeil, the shifty Columbus club mixer. Buegel comes from St. Louis and has a reputation of being a good mixer.

Leonard Powers and Frankie Wand will mix things in the 115-pound class. Wand has improved very much since his bout with Al McNeil in the October smoker and expects to get the decision in his bout with Powers.

Kreiger and White will furnish the welterweight bouts for the evening, and Wittal and Swanson will go three rounds in the 115-pound class.

Another bout on the program which is attracting a great deal of attention is the one between Earl Miebus and Jost. Miebus is now a member of the Multnomah club and expects to defeat his Columbus club rival. Jost is a brother of Charley Jost, the oldtime professional scrapper, and has taken lessons from his brother, from Tommy Tracey and also at the Columbus club.

An opponent will be found for Ollie Stevens in the 125-pound class, and Schmeer in the 130-pound class. Both these youngsters have made fine showings in other smokers.

FAMOUS MEN ENGAGE IN BOXING EXERCISE

Whatever may be the general idea that boxing is a brutal and debasing sport, there are many mighty good men who find it an attractive and health giving amusement.

No man knows more about those things than Mike Donovan, formerly one of the greatest lightweights in the history of the ring and for many years boxing instructor of the New York Athletic club. In a recent interview Professor Donovan said:

"Look at all the good men who follow the game. There's ex-President Roosevelt. He used to send for me, and we had a hard bout when he was in the White House—yes, and before that. He always liked good boxing. Then there's Charles Dana Gibson. Look at his drawings and see if there's anything coarse in his makeup. He is a good boxer, and you can often see him in a front seat when two men are fighting. There's the Rev. Dr. Percy Grant. I won't say that he'd go to see fights, but he certainly does like boxing for the exercise and the sport of it. Martin Littleton, the congressman, is a clever boxer. Police Commissioner Waldo is a great boxer, and he thinks boxing is one of the finest sports on earth. George Gould is a good gymnast and athlete and boxer. He used to have Billy Madden box with him, and he could make Billy go, too. And Jennings S. Cox, the banker, although he's over 70, takes as much interest in boxing as a boy. I tell you, there's nothing like boxing to keep a fellow young."

And there's Simeon Ford. He was a good boxer and a lover of the game. Lately he's given more time to golf.

Lieutenant Bunker of the U. S. A. came up here once. Mike continued. "There is a man. I've seen many athletes in my life, but he's the finest man to look at that I ever saw. Powerful, and a great boxer. Lots of army men are fond of boxing themselves, and go to see ring fights whenever they can. General Miles was a fine boxer. General Wood was a great football player and a great boxer and enthusiast. Collector Loeb is a fine athlete and a good boxer. He knows as much about keeping in good physical condition as any man I ever met. He exercises every day, and his favorite exercise is boxing. Senator Jim Frawley, who put through the boxing law, was a boxer himself a few years ago, and a mighty good one. So was Tom Shevlin of Yale. So was James E. Sullivan, president and now secretary of the A. A. U. Jim used to be a hard man to handle with the gloves for an amateur."

Others Who Love Sport. Mike Donovan might have continued the list. He might have said that John D. Rockefeller, Jr. likes boxing, and boxes occasionally with Jack Harvey for exercise and the fun of it. In the theatrical profession I might mention a score of actors and managers who box almost daily. Mr. Erlinger boxes often with Harry Harris, who used to be a fighter, and is now a theatrical manager of reputation. H. B. Wraener, Paul Armstrong, F. A. Mills, Maxwell Silver and many others box at the Y. M. C. A. George M. Coban and Harry Harris box almost daily with George Cooney, who is a very clever boxer of the Attell type. John Madden, the great horseman, was once a professional boxer. Recently he engaged Abe Attell and took him down on his farm to teach boxing to the two Madden boys, James B. Reynolds, member of the tariff board, is a very clever boxer. Harry Fayne Whitney is a boxer and a lover of boxing. Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia has boxed for years with Bob Fitzsimmons and Jack O'Brien, and has even fought several good professionals just for the fun of it.

Warren Barbour, in New York, is a splendid heavyweight boxer, once winner of the national amateur championship in the heavyweight class. M. T. C. Waterman, the leather king, once made it his favorite pastime to box with Battling Nelson and Packey McFarland.

WELSH WILL BE IN BED FOR WEEK

Los Angeles, Jan. 20.—Freddie Welsh, who was to have boxed 30 rounds with Bobby Vaughn here today, is suffering from a torn shoulder ligament and a spinal strain. He will be kept in bed for at least a week. His injuries are not serious.

Welsh's own story of the incident that prevented him from filling his engagement, includes a statement that he felt so good upon retiring last night that he insisted on a rough house with his trainer. The ligament snapped while they grappled.

GRAMMAR TITLE WILL BE SETTLED THIS WEEK

The championship grammar school soccer game will be played either Wednesday or Thursday afternoon on Multnomah field. The Clinton-Kelly and Ainsworth teams will play Monday afternoon, and if the Ainsworth team defeats the Clinton-Kelly team it will be champion of Section 1.
