One of the largest classes ever raised to the thirty-second degree of Freemasonry through the bodies of the Scottish Rite in Oregon was given the last of the degrees last night at the cathedral, at Morrison and Lowndale streets, Louis G. Clarke, venerable master of the Kadosh, presided. Following the ceremonies a banquet was served. This was the close of ceremonies which occupied all of three days.

An address of welcome was delivered to the class at the close of the ceremonies last night, by P. S. Malcolm, sovereign grand inspector general in Oregon. Response was made by W. J. Kerr, class orator.

The class organized by electing J. R. Rogers of Portland president, C. C. Craig of Corvallis secretary, C. W. Haines of Forest Grove historian and W. J. Kerr, president of the Oregon Agricultural college, class orator. A feature of yesterday's ceremonies was an address by E. G. Jones, class conductor, on the higher philosophy of the Scottish Rite, delivered to the members of the class and members of the consistory and visiting members from other states.

The Knights Commandery Court of Honor, perfected their organization yesterday by electing Robert A. Miller president and A. M. Wright secretary. This is the honorary degree which a Scottish Rite Mason must take before he is eligible to be advanced to the thirty-third degree. There are only 26 members of this degree in the Oregon consistory.

R. B. Beckman was appointed to assist the officers in arranging for the semi-annual social functions. The thirty-third degree Masons and the Knights of the Court of Honor were special guests at the conferring of the thirty-second degree at the consistory last night.

Last evening the annual banquet of the Scottish Rite class of January, 1902, was held at the Imperial hotel. H. M. Calkins is president, Robert Krohn secretary and Rev. Benjamin Young orator of the class.

10,000 BOOSTERS FOR GREATER CITY PLAN, IS SLOGAN

Association Will Have Busy Time This Week; Colored Slides Showing Details of Plan to Be Exhibited.

The Greater Portland Plans association has a busy week before it. Tuesday at 1 o'clock the chairman of all committees will meet with the publicity committee to devise ways and means for making Greater Portland Day, February 23, known to every Portlander, so that the program of the membership committee which includes a military organization and an enlisting of 10,000 new members on "Leap Year day" may be successful beyond question.

Tuesday night before an audience of men and women in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. the colored slides illustrative of the Greater Portland plan will be shown and explained by the secretary of the association.

"What building the greater city means; what the greater city will look like; how it must be built," will be discussed according to a large card of announcement that has been put up in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A.

An important meeting of the executive committee of the association has been called for Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the green room of the Commercial club.

Whirlwind Campaign.
At this time L. L. Riggs from the membership committee will present a request for the printing of 10,000 buttons which will be used in connection with the whirlwind campaign February 23. The executive board will be asked to make an appropriation for the purpose. Its members are Dr. J. R. Wetherbee, E. F. Lawrence, Charles F. Berg, Burt C. Jones, L. E. Latourrette, A. H. Davies, William F. Woodward.

Thursday evening occurs the regular monthly meeting of the Greater Portland Plans association. Then committees will make their reports. The membership committee will have charge of the program. V. Vincent Jones, chairman of the committee, announced yesterday that it would be made the first formal occasion for commencing the Greater Portland Day organization. The members of the committee are: Mr. Jones, J. Fred Larson, R. D. Carpenter, A. G. Clark, F. A. Freeman, O. G. Walker, George M. Hyland, O. G. Hughson, O. K. Jeffery, Walter Daly, H. Fred Clausen, T. L. Riggs, W. T. Buchanan, F. L. Puse. The committee held a meeting Friday in the governors' room. The committee on public buildings held a meeting Thursday evening. It consists of Joseph Jacobberger, R. O. Rector, W. W. Cox, Lee Hoffman, A. M. Humphreys, E. M. Lazarus, E. J. Jaeger, L. E. Rice, H. Fred Clausen.

The publicity committee of the association consists of Phil S. Bates, H. W. Stone, W. T. Buchanan, E. A. Ryder, Albert Ehrigott, W. J. Hoffmann, Tom Richardson, A. A. Schell and R. W. Raymond. The committee chairman that will meet with the publicity committee Tuesday and V. Vincent Jones, membership committee; W. A. Hoyt, auditing committee; J. B. Lober, streets and highways committee; L. Lang, parks, playgrounds and boulevards committee; Joseph Jacobberger, public buildings committee; A. E. Clark, legislative committee; G. B. Hegardt, harbor development; F. H. Ransom, transportation facilities committee.

At the meeting Thursday evening Mr. Jones has asked that there be all the elected delegates from other civic organizations. He has sent to each delegate a letter which explains the purpose of greater Portland day and which is as follows:

"The membership committee of the Greater Portland Plans association has held two meetings, at which plans have been discussed for making February 23 a great campaign day for building up the membership of the Greater Portland Plans association.

Buttons to Be Sold.
"It is proposed on that day to establish several downtown headquarters, with banners and workers to stand outside and get the people in to sign up for membership in this association. An attractive button has been ordered which will be given to each one becoming a member. The membership fee will be $1 per year, and everybody is eligible. These buttons will be numbered serially and the number of the button will correspond to the number of that member on the books of the association, so that he will receive by mail all information or communication regarding the work of the association from time to time.

"The publicity committee has arranged for large banners to be placed upon all of the office buildings and public buildings in the city on that date calling attention to the Greater Portland plans. The same committee is arranging for widespread publicity in the various papers and other mediums.

"We are going to secure the services of just as many workers from the different clubs, organizations and improvement bodies in the city as we can possibly secure for that date. Every one who will give a day or a half day to this work will be furnished with these buttons and with application blanks.

Will Divide City.
"The whole city will be divided into districts, each district under the management of a captain who will have charge of a corps of workers in his district and each man will be expected to secure as many applicants as he possibly can on that day and turn them over to his captain, who will in turn report to the chairman of the membership committee in the general headquarters.

"It is the desire of the membership committee of the Greater Portland Plans association to have every single club and organization of every sort in the city interested in this campaign, as we all realize that the sooner this association secures a large and enthusiastic membership the sooner will we be able to carry out to successful fruition the Greater Portland plan.

"As the delegate from your association to the Greater Portland Plans association you are invited hereby to be present on the evening of Thursday, January 25, at a meeting of the Greater Portland Plans association to be held at 8 o'clock at the convention hall of the Commercial club. This meeting will be under the auspices of the membership committee of the Greater Portland Plans association and will be given over to laying plans for our coming membership campaign.

"You are most heartily urged to be present at that meeting and assist us with your suggestions and advice."

Labor Organization for Arizona.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 30.—Representatives of union labor from every section of Arizona met here today to organize a state federation of labor. The primary object of the federation will be to take steps to protect the interests of labor in the next session of the state legislature. More than a score of industries are represented at the meeting.

TO PLANT ROSES OFFICIALLY FEB. 22

"Rose Planting Day" to Be Celebrated at Mt. Tabor Park; Sun May Shine.

Straw hats will be worn on February 22 in Portland this year. Dainty, tinted parasols will shield their owners from the expected sun luminance. Summer garments will enliven the turning from winter to spring.

This will not be because February 22 is Washington's birthday, but because the day has been set apart by the Rose Festival association as "rose planting day."

James J. Hill, Governor West, Mayor Rushlight, President Carl R. Gray of the S. P. & S., President J. D. Farrell of the O.-W. R. & N., and the mayors of Vancouver and Oregon City are invited speakers. Dr. Emmet Drake was appointed yesterday as chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Two years ago "Rose Planting day" was celebrated in the city park. It snowed that day, and rain mingled with the snow, and a cold wind bit through the inappropiate garments. A year ago "Rose Planting day" was celebrated in the new Peninsula park. The sky was without a cloud. The sun was a benediction. The air was warm. The day was kind. Everyone wore a rose. No one asked where the rose had been grown.

Celebrate Day at Mount Tabor Park.
This year "Rose Planting day" will be celebrated in the new Mount Tabor park. By that time the workers recruited from the ranks of the unemployed will have built the fine road to the park. All the influence the weather man has to compel perfect Portland February days will be invoked. The prominence of the speakers will combine with the quaint exercises to make the day a festival.

While plans for the Rose Festival and its preliminary, rose planting day, prosper, inquiries come from the outside.

T. H. Martin of the publicity and industrial department of the Tacoma Commercial club and chamber of commerce came in to see Manager Hutchin of the festival yesterday and to express appreciation of the new plan for a "progressive festival" all along the coast in 1912 and the years to follow. Tacoma's "Carnival of Nations" will be held in Tacoma, July 2, 3 and 4. It will sandwich between the Rose Festival and the Golden Potlatch. It will complete the northwest program so that all now remaining is to reconcile the dates of California fetes to the general program.

Many Outsiders Interested.
That this will easily be accomplished and with a support of popular approval was testified yesterday by Charles F. Traung, a San Francisco business man, who was the guest of the Rose Festival management.

Mr. Traung said that the prospect of so arranging the dates of western festivals so that one will follow the other and permit the tourist to attend all, pleased the people of his city mightily, and they will be especially glad to continue such a program through 1915, the year of the Pan-Pacific exposition.

President Hoyt of the Rose Festival received a letter yesterday from the "Sons of Norway," Bellingham, asking the Golden Potlatch. It will, complete the northwest program so that all now remaining is to reconcile the dates of California fetes to the general program.

UNIVERSITY CLUB TO LEASE ITS PROPERTY

Negotiations were practically concluded yesterday for the lease of the University club property, located at the northwest corner of West Park and Stark streets, to Harry Davis, for a period of 30 years.

Mr. Davis, who is the son of a wealthy timber dealer of this state, is to pay a monthly ground rental of $750 for the property and obligates himself to improve it with a structure to cost not less than $60,000.

The University club acquired this property, which is an irregularly shaped parcel, not quite a quarter block in area, about 12 years ago and shortly thereafter erected the three story clubhouse now occupied by it. The site is conservatively valued at $125,000 to $150,000.

Recently the board of governors of the club took an option on the Elijah Corbett homestead located at the northwest corner of Sixth and Jefferson streets, with a frontage of 150 feet on Sixth street. This is considered an ideal site for a clubhouse and it is understood that its selection by the board meets with the approval of the club membership.

SIXTY POLK TEACHERS ATTEND FINE INSTITUTE

(Special to The Journal.)
Falls City, Or., Jan. 26.—The county teachers' institute was held here today. E. P. Carlton, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, gave an interesting talk on United States history. County Superintendent H. C. Seymour was chairman. Sixty teachers from Polk county were present. The institute was considered a real success.
