

MALTA RECEIVES KING AND QUEEN

Far Eastern Port Gives Monarchs Cordial Greeting; Harbor Beggared.

(United Press London Wire.)

Malta, Jan. 24.—King George and Queen Mary, homeward bound from India, arrived here today on the royal ship Medina. As compensation for not having visited Malta on the way to the Durbar, they stopped off to permit their subjects here to see their sovereigns. The picturesque harbor of La Valletta, the most easterly bulwark of Christendom in the Mediterranean, was gaily beflagged when the royal liner and her cruiser escort dropped anchor. Warships under command of Admiral Sir Edmund S. Poe fired a salute as the royal party landed. Admiral Sir Leslie Rundle, governor of Malta; General Sir Ian S. Hamilton, commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean; Chief Justice Sir J. Carbone, members of the legislative council, and a crowd of Maltese nobles, received the royal party with a state welcome. Troops lined the streets. The king and queen held a reception for officials and noblemen at government house. For the first time since they left British soil, the king and queen were permitted to drive along the streets with the crowds as close as 10 feet. They seemed to enjoy the experience. The reception was genuinely cordial.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

always give satisfaction because they always do the work. J. T. Shelton, Bremen, Ga., says: "I have used Foley's Kidney Pills and found more relief from their use than from any other kidney medicine, and I've tried almost all kinds. I can cheerfully recommend them to all sufferers for kidney and bladder trouble." Foley's Kidney Pills will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more. Skidmore Drug Co., two stores—Main store, 151 Third St. Branch store, Morrison and West Park streets.

FIANCE DISAPPEARS, WOMAN GOES INSANE

(Special to The Journal.) Independence, Or., Jan. 24.—Grieving over the loss of her prospective spouse, who departed with a sum of money obtained on a lottery ticket some time ago, Mrs. Janko, a dressmaker from Portland, became violently insane Sunday morning at the home of Thomas Fennell, where she had been employed for a couple of weeks. The unfortunate woman seemed to have the hallucination that she was being pursued by enemies. She assaulted Mr. Fennell with an umbrella, and fought like a demon when anyone undertook to comfort her. She was taken to Portland.

M'NAGAL CONTINUES STORY OF DYNAMITINGS

(United Press London Wire.) Indianapolis, Jan. 24.—Orville E. McNagall, continuing his story of dynamitings in which he is alleged to have acted with or for the McNamara's, was today again on the stand in the federal investigation. It is believed that his story today dealt with the dynamiting of the Boston Opera house.

Lebanon Adopts Publicity Offer.

(Special to The Journal.) Lebanon, Or., Jan. 24.—An enthusiastic meeting of the Commercial club was held Monday night, at which W. H. Jenkins, representing the Southern Pacific, and Fred Lockley, northwestern manager of Sunset-The Pacific Monthly, were present. Mr. Lockley explained the system of community advertising carried on by the Harbinger roads. The plan consists of advertising in Sunset-The Pacific Monthly, the publication of an illustrated descriptive booklet and representation in the other forms of publicity, such as at the various land shows and in the various information bureaus. The plan was unanimously adopted and with great enthusiasm the larger part of the money was subscribed. A writer will come from Portland within a few days to secure information for the booklet and for the descriptive article. Lebanon has a rich and fertile farming country at her doors, and the need is felt of having more actual farmers and producers of butter, eggs, alfalfa and hogs.

RALLIES TO AID IN REGISTRATION

Senator Bourne Suggests Way to Get Voters Qualified Early.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)

Washington, Jan. 24.—Senator Bourne has a new plan for making Oregon political institutions popular and helpful. In a letter to county clerks he writes: "It is now conceded even by the bitterest enemies of popular government that the Oregon system has come to stay. Heretofore the friends of popular government have been compelled to devote their energies to defending that system against the attacks of its enemies and have had little opportunity to devote attention to the task of improving the system of perfecting its operation. Now that the opposition has been overcome, I am writing to ask your opinion of a plan which I believe will make the system work more satisfactorily."

"As you know, our statutes require that the secretary of state shall mail to every registered voter certain pamphlets, giving information regarding candidates and measures to be voted upon by the people. Distribution of these pamphlets and their careful reading by the people is a very important feature of the system, and therefore early registration of voters is desirable. I suggest that county officers, especially county clerks and school superintendents, arrange with citizens of all parties in rural communities to hold good government rallies in schoolhouses, at which meetings a notary public or justice of the peace can be present to fill out registration blanks for voters and send the same to the county clerk. At such meetings measures proposed for adoption by the people could be discussed. Quite likely good feeling would be promoted by not discussing candidates on such occasions, but leaving the discussion entirely to measures. In my opinion, the initiative and referendum is of great value as an additional agency, since it encourages voters to study and discuss public questions. These good government rallies at county schoolhouses would not only be a benefit socially, but secure early registration and be a benefit educationally. They would tend to make the operation of our popular government laws more satisfactory, and thus further reflect the assertion made in the east by the enemies of the Oregon system that our laws are impracticable. "I am also writing the county superintendents, because he has general supervision of the use of our schoolhouses. I wish you would talk with him, and if you approve the plan, take such steps as you deem best to start the movement in your county. I believe this will help you to get early and complete registration in rural communities, and facilitate your own work. "I will appreciate an expression of your views."

HOLDUPS SAY "JOKE," RETURN COIN, GO FREE

(Special to The Journal.)

Huntington, Or., Jan. 24.—The men found guilty of holding up the Oregon Cafe in this city have been located by the officials. They were found to be two local young men just out of their teens. One of them had just established a small business. Part of the money was found in their possession. They claim it was a joke, and in consideration of the return of the loot there is to be no prosecution.

Simple Home Remedy For Kidneys and Bladder

A simple and easy way to cure weak, deranged kidneys or bladder is to use the following formula: Get six ounces good pure gin and add to it one half ounce Mux Compound and one half ounce fluid extract Buchu. Take one to two teaspoonsful of this mixture after each meal and at bed time. Nearly all good druggists have these ingredients. Anyone can mix. One should be sure to get good pure gin, also the genuine Mux Compound, which comes only in a sealed wooden package, as any substitute will not give the desired results. Weak kidneys or bladder should be given attention as soon as any of the well known symptoms are noticed. Neglect in the matter is dangerous, as the serious forms, Bright's disease, chronic rheumatism and diabetes, may develop. These can be avoided if the above simple mixture is used before complications set in.

LABOR UNIONISTS SEEK BETTER HOLD

Representatives of 2,500,000 English Workers Plan to Strengthen Body.

(Birmingham, England, Jan. 24.—Organization of the workmen of the United Kingdom for better industrial and social conditions is the watchword of the annual convention of the British Parliamentary Labor party, which met here today, under the chairmanship of J. Ramsey MacDonald, M. P.

The party, which represents 2,500,000 trade unionists and already has 42 members in the house of commons, is preparing to wage a vigorous campaign to secure a more representative proportion. Among other things it is proposed to start a daily newspaper. Hitherto handicapped by the necessity of paying salaries to its members elected to parliament, now that under the government bill passed at the last session, every member of the commons receives a salary of £2000 a year, the Labor party will be able to devote its funds to other purposes.

During its three days' meeting, the convention will discuss 35 printed pages of resolutions. Some of these favor general adult suffrage for both men and women; the nationalization of railways, canals and mines; reduction of the old age pension qualifying the limit from 70 to 60 years; and the reduction of contributions paid by workmen and employers to the national industrial insurance fund.

The insurance bill is booked for a lively discussion, and it is likely that a number of amendments will be urged.

Attempts of employers to secure the repeal of the trades disputes act which gives unions the right to picket premises under strike, will be censured, and the convention will direct the executive committee to take steps to prevent such repeal.

One resolution, which will likely be passed, calls for a general strike in the event of interference with the act.

SAYS HARVESTER TRUST BOYCOTTED STEEL TRUST

Washington, Jan. 24.—Absolute denial that the steel trust was affiliated in any manner with the harvester trust was made here yesterday afternoon to the Stanley house committee investigating the steel industry by President Farrell of the United States Steel corporation. "We have had no business with the International Harvester company for six years," said Farrell. "The harvester people boycotted us as the result of a controversy which arose from a quibble between salesmen."

COTTAGE GROVE LAND TITLE DISPUTE IN COURT

Cottage Grove, Or., Jan. 24.—The case of Hubbell & Smith vs. the Oregon & Southern railway and C. H. Burkholder is proving interesting. The suit is over a piece of property being used by the Cottage Grove Manufacturing company for sidetrack purposes, and to which title is claimed by the company and also by the railway and Mr. Burkholder. If declared in favor of Hubbell & Smith, Burkholder will lose the roadway to a piece of his property and if decided in favor of Burkholder, the manufacturing company will be without land for a sidetrack. Judge Harris of the circuit court came down from Eugene to hear the case.

New Banker Comes to Stay.

Independence, Or., Jan. 24.—J. J. Fenton, the new banker, arrived here from Wyoming this week and is busy making preliminary plans for the opening of the bank. The building is being erected by A. L. Sperling and will soon be ready. Mr. Fenton has purchased a home in this city and intends to reside here permanently.

New Orleans Coming Home.

Vallejo, Cal., Jan. 24.—The cruiser New Orleans is expected to arrive at Mare Island next week from Honolulu to discharge her ammunition and then proceed to the Bremerton navy yard. Her crew has been doing almost three years' continuous service in China.

GERMANY'S VOTERS BOOST SOCIALISTS

Early Showing in Reballoting Indicates Renewal of "Red Flood."

Berlin, Jan. 24.—Confident of success, the socialists are out in full force at the polls today in a determined effort to capture a majority of the 33 districts where reballoting is necessary as a result of none of the contestants for membership in the reichstag receiving a plurality at the general election January 12.

The early vote indicated that the socialists would make good their boast to sweep Germany with a "red flood" of votes, and it seems certain that their membership in the reichstag will exceed 110, insuring them first place over the Catholic Centrists.

The Centrists, who had 105 representatives in the last reichstag, held their own in the balloting January 12, but they failed to gain any new members. The great victory of the socialists in the general election was won at the expense of the progressives and the other parties.
