HENS SHOW A HEAVY DEMAND BUT ONLY A FEW OFFERED HERE

Market Is Firm and About a Cent Higher, but the General Chicken Trade Is Not Brisk; Some Stock Carried Over From Saturday.

> Portland Wholesale Market. Eggs hold steady. Hens in better demand. Most poultry is weak. Dressed meats holding. Potato orders coming. Florida oranges arrive.

There is a growing shortage in the supplies of hens in the local market, and an advence of lo a pound is being quoted in the price.

quoted in the price.

Fancy hens are selling as high as 15c a pound today, with few available. The chicken market in general is only moderately firm. Some stock was carried over from Saturday until this morning, there being practically no business in that line the first day of the week.

business in that line the first day of the week.

Chickens are coming mostly from eastern Oregon at this time, and the quality of the stock is unusually good. The wants of the chicken trade in general are not extensive owing to the greater supplies, and for that reason the outlook is not for higher prices, with the exception of hens. These seem to be about as close to the top as they can get.

Chinese buyers are still demanding Pekin ducks. These are selling around 22½c live and are eagerly picked up at that figure. Other ducks are quoted from 18c to 29c a pound.

Geese are not coming forward very freely, but there is only a very nomfreely, but there is only a very nom inal call.

DRESSED VEAL IS STEADY

There is quite a steady tone in the dressed veal market along Front street, Receipts are not so liberal and while the general market remains around 13% c for fancy goods, an occasional sale is reported as high as 14c.

DRESSED HOGS COME FREELY

Dressed hogs are coming very free-ly to the Front street trade. The mar-ket is in good condition, with sales from $\frac{3}{2}\tilde{a}$ to 9c's pound for good offer-ings, but heavy stuff is not wanted very badly even at lower figures.

EGG TRADE HOLDS STEADY

There was a steady tone today in the egg trade. Sales as a rule were made from 30c to 31c a dozen with most of the transactions at the higher figure. No outside demand of note is at present

CHEESE TRADE VERY FIRM

Trade in the cheese market is very firm. Sales of flats of any good make are reported easily made at 20c a pound. A few small lots are reported coming forward from Tillamook.

BUTTER SELLING BETTER

Since the last decline there has been improved demand for butter in the local market. City creameries report that they are experiencing no difficulty in selling their entire make at the prices quoted. There remains considerable weakness on Puget sound. weakness on Puget sound.

FLORIDA ORANGES A NOVELTY

Florida oranges are arriving in this market, together with a shipment of grapefruit. The oranges are of the russet variety and are unlike anything sold here heretofore. The skins are thin and the fruit very sweet. In appearance they are far inferior to the California fruit. The are really better. Sales reported at $4.50 a box.

BUYERS PAYING $1.05 FOR CHOICE STOCK IN THE POTATO MARKET

The potato shipping market is again more active. Buyers are today paying from $1 to $1.05 per cental f. o. b. country points for choice goods.

Bids for extra fancy are not ranging above $1.26 but no purchases at this price are reported. Grocers are not willing to sell best quality at any price just now and dealers are unable to offer any advance.

Bids from Arizona and Texas are again lower, but considerable business remains to be filled. While most of this stock is already purchased, a large per cent of it is still retained by growers and some of them seem to have the idea that they will hold up the market. Rough potatoes are being offered in plenty by nearby growers, but these are not good enough for shipping. Some of them have been purchased by hawkers at 75c per cental and are being peddled around among consumers in competition with the higher priced potatoes of quality.

While one local mill has advanced its quotation on patent flour 20c a barrel to $4.70, the other three mills are still quoting $4.50 as their price. The market has advanced 20c a barrel in California and an effort is being made on Puget sound to put that market on the same basis today.

Outside of the one mill that has advanced its quotations, Portland millers were undecided in their views this morning as to any immediate rise, However, the impression is general that the rise will be forced soon.

Export market is firm but quiet at the recent advance.

such high prices in California that the local trade is not inclined to order heavily.

Not only are values high but quality is not very good and this makes the selling end of the business much harder than usual. This is particularly true of celery and cauliflower and in both of these lines orders are small.

Even head lettuce from the south is not as good as usual and this has left a smaller demand for the stock that is coming forward. As a rule, Los Angeles furnishes this market with head lettuce during the winter and early spring that show heads as hard as cabbage. For that reason the stock has supplanted the local hothouse stock in even the home market.

Rhubarb is offering by the south in somewhat better supply, but prices are so high that the trade is nominal.

Spinach from Walla Walla is finding but little call, owing to rather poor quality. The abundance of cabbage here and the low price thereof has left but little call for other lines. Even cabbage is selling today at the lowest price in years for this period.

The market for cattle is down 10c for the day at North Portland with quite a fair run. Although the dressed meat trade remains in a very poor position and for that reason most killers have overpurchased their requirements, offerings at the present time are almost sufficient to take care of the trade during normal demand.

Best offerings in the cattle division at North Portland today sold around $5.85, several lots taking the high point as compared with former deals at $5.95 and even $6 for similar quality.

There was a run of 202 cattle for the day at North Portland, compared with 366 head last Tuesday.

Cattle shippers: W. B. Kennedy, Caldwell, Idaho, 2 loads; W. B. Potter, Heppner, 1 load; J. E. Reynolds, 1 load cattle and calves; Dixon & Hunt, Metolius, 3 loads, At Chicago there were 6600 head of cattle on the market today with the tone steady at yesterday's average.

South Omaha was slow and lower for cattle for the day, but tops remained unchanged.

Stags Mog Market Is Steady.

There were only light offerings of hogs at North Portland for the day, but the market was not more than steady at practically the same range as ruled yesterday. Run was 115 head compared with 211 last Tuesday.

Elsewhere the hog market was not quite so good. At Chicago the market was steady to lower, with a run of 27,000 head, compared with 26,000 a year ago. Tops sold there this morning at $6.45. Heavy stuff was in best call and brought 7½c better than mixed offerings of quality.

Kansas City was 5c to 10c lower for hogs, with tops at $6.30. Run was 17,000 head.

There was only a nominal showing of sheep in the North Portland yards for the day. Only 72 head were offering, these being from a Willamette valley point, while not enough stuff came forward to test quotations fully, indications point to a continuation of former prices.

The only shipper of sheep to North Portland today was Hugh Cummings, who had a mixed load of mutton and hogs from Gervals this morning.

At Chicago sheep were steady with a run of 20,000 head.

PROGRESS OF CITY AND STATE SHOWN BY DUN'S REVIEW

ncrease in Nearly Every Industry in Oregon in 1911 With Fewer Failures: Interesting Statistics.

Interesting figures showing the progress of the city and state are shown In the Trade Review of the Pacific Northwest, published by R. G. Dun & Co., just issued. According to this review the increase in grain crop of Oregon, Washington and Idaho over 1910, amounted to about $23,000,000; for Oregon, Washington and Alaska, fisheries showed a gain of about $7,000,000; the net results of the hop crop for Oregon gars both showed increases. Weeks in the Trade Review of the Pacific net results of the hop crop for Oregon gars both showed increases. Woole and Washington showed an increase; the livestock industry gained in importance, and the business of Alaska, represented mainly by fisheries and mining, has been larger. On the other hand, there has been a decrease in the value of fruit raised in Oregon and Washington of about $3,000,000, the previous year having been a banner one; wool production showed a small decrease and in lumber and shingles there was a decrease of probably 20 per cent. In Oregon there have been 65 fewer fail-ures with increase in liabilities of $117,-
