Regulars and Recruits Bat Season Will Open at Spokane Closely Together: Figures for Other Clubs.

With the exception of the Portland the grand average of its recruits is Sacramento. Perhaps this bludgeon concap in the batting and fielding line, but always within a few points of that circuit.

Several days ago The Journal printed different tracks: Spokane, April 27 to the fielding and batting averages of June 29; Butte, July 3 and August 6; every recruit in the league who played anaconda, August 8 to August 23; Salt Lake, August 26, 59 to 60 days.

Portland will give 13 men a tryout, isco third with seven, Sacramento and in the case of Sacramento.

The Jefferson high school quintet won a one-sided basektball game from the Portland Academy team yesterday afternoon by the score of 51 to 13. The Jefferson team played rings around the P. A. tossers and shot baskets at will. The Portland Academy team was minus Bob Bean, their star little for-ward. Bean will be out of the game for the rest of the season with a fractured rib.

Anderson, the big center of the winners, was the bright star of the one-sided contest. Anderson shot five baskets and made 12 free throws. Mur-phy, Ashworth and Cardinell played good ball during the game.

After winning every series for the last two months, the White Crows, leadach and rights to the kidneys. A ma-ority of the fans believed that Kaufman enced little difficulty in outpointing ers in the Big Four Bowling league, finally succumbed to the tail-end Excelsiors, losing the final two of the three games. The White Crows started out in fine shape, both Woldt and Mc-Mahon getting 200 scores in the first game, which helped them to win by 96 pins. But in the second game Boland of the Excelsiors, commenced his pin smashing work and even if his mates failed to roll any extraordinary games, his team won by 30 points. In the last game Boland continued his streak and no matter where he hit the pins he invariably got a strike. He made the high score of the night in that game, having 247 to his credit. Cook also helped with 208, and between them they put the White Crows to rout.

Can't Be Stopped. Nothing seems to stop the Dillworth Derbies in their downward march. With the same team they had at the beginning of the season and which at that time threatened to make a runaway race of the league, they have steadily lost until now they are but half a game from last place. Last night the Jarretta beat them easily in all three games, never having less than 70 pins to the good. The trouble with the Derbies seems to be inconsistency. When one man gets a good game the rest of the team bowls miserably. For instance, Case made 239 in the last game, while the best any of his team mates could get was 168, and two of them had 140 scores. Some faithful practice would help the members a lot.

The Jarretts were out for blood last night, Crawford's bowling being the feature of the evening. His new delivery resulted in three fine games of 222, 206 and 209, giving him an average
