

BEAVERTON HEARS DITTER ATTACK ON WIDE OPEN STATE

Pastor Price Declares Port-landers Come to Dance and Remain for Drunken Orgies; Mass Meeting Called.

(Special to The Journal.)
Beaverton, Or., Feb. 13.—Beaverton is stirred at present as it has not been for a number of years over the question of civic reform. A considerable element is fighting to rid the city of saloons and gambling.

The focus of this movement until now has been the Congregational church, where the pastor, Rev. G. W. Price, has preached several times on civic righteousness, which has resulted in a call for a special meeting on Wednesday evening to discuss the situation and outline a plan of campaign.

Rev. Mr. Price deplored that he had to take into the pulpit the matters with which he was to deal. He said in part: "We have here a trinity of evils that are a disgrace to any well ordered community—saloons, gambling and a public dance hall.

"In the saloons men have been made drunk and then relieved of their money, one man telling of a loss in one evening of over $25. Other men out all night, one man recently being found in the mud under his horse's feet. At least one saloon with property near by is being used as a place of assignation.

Early Sunday morning on a number of occasions men and women in various stages of intoxication have been seen on the streets and other near by places—the left overs from the dance, waiting for the early trains to carry them back to Portland. The obscene gestures, attitudes and language were shocking.

"Sales of real estate that have been almost accomplished, were turned down because of local conditions, the would-be purchasers declaring they would not buy so long as Beaverton maintained her present civic conditions. Good people have moved out and others are only awaiting the chance to sell in order to move elsewhere.

"These conditions exist because the town was in the grip of political bosses who did not hesitate to buy votes, corrupt officers in the discharge of their duty and generally intimidate the town.

"One of the difficult matters to be encountered in any measures of reform is the honest differences of opinion among many who really desire the good of the town.

Mr. Price advised the gathering together of the temperance forces and all others who really desire to see a coming to some common agreement. Rev. Mr. Price pledging himself to stand by the will of the majority.

POPE OPENS WAR UPON EXTREMES OF FASHION

Roma, Feb. 13.—For a long time it has been known that Pope Pius was intensely opposed to some of the tendencies of current fashions, his special aversion being the extremely décolleté evening gowns, and from the beginning of the present pontificate the vatican has urged Catholic clergy throughout the world to discourage so far as possible the wearing of them by Catholics.

There is therefore no surprise at the edict issued today, in which Pope Pius forbids cardinals and all other church dignitaries to accept invitations to social functions where women are permitted to wear décolleté gowns. The pontiff believes his order will tend to do away with a lot of low-cut gowns in Catholic circles.

PITTED SPUDS DUG OUT BY CARLOADS FOR SOUTH

(Special to The Journal.)
Bingen, Wash., Feb. 13.—Eight or nine carloads of potatoes are being dug out of the pit here and sacked for shipment. They found a market in Arizona and Texas. The potatoes were the property of the White Salmon Fruit company and were dug on their ranch in the early fall and hauled here to be pitted and to be near the shipping point. There were none frozen and very few rotten.

SUBLIMITY FORMS CLUB TO LURE A RAILWAY

(Special to The Journal.)
Stayton, Or., Feb. 13.—To induce a road to tap this section of the Santiam valley and through the Panola through Sublimity is the object of the Sublimity Commercial club, which has just been organized with 75 charter members. The club will also endeavor to secure statewide publicity for Sublimity and neighborhood.

SILENCE GRIP'S BARK

Doctors say of Grip that its bark is worse than its bite, which of course is no excuse for neglect to silence the bark promptly.

The worse effect of Grip comes after the attack.

Wild Animals of Arctic Circle Shown as in Real Life by Moving Pictures

Captain Kleinschmidt standing over polar bear which he had just killed in frozen north.

There is a show on at the Baker theatre this week in which the leading characters are numbered by the thousand yet not a sound is heard from any of them. These nature Thespians care little for the carping critic and his kind. They go about their business day after day without ever varying the performance by so much as the flicker of an eyelid. So perfect have they mastered their lines that each show is an exact duplicate of every succeeding one.

There is no plot and the play has not the dignity of a title, though the Hitchcocks say that Captain Kleinschmidt's motion pictures are billed to appear at the Baker all week.

One of the most interesting acts shows a barren island in the center of Behring sea. Precipitous walls of rock 500 feet high shut the granite waste off from the sea. There are only two landing points on the entire space of shoreline. At one of these the hills rise at somewhat easier angles and there on the slopes are perched a score or more of Esquimeau houses, little round cheese box affairs propped up on drift wood stumps and enclosed with walrus skins.

The camera shows this most daring tribe of the Eskimeaux at work and play. Harpooning walrus, stalking the ponderous polar bear or pursuing the dainty seal, this unique figure of the north is always interesting. The camera shows the Eskimeau children and, in fact the entire colony indulging in their rude games. The chief one of these is similar to the blanket tossing of college days.

A moose hunt in Alaska is another absorbing film subject shown. The great monarch of the twilight land's jungles is seen almost within arms reach of the camera wounded and at bay in a dense fastness.

Herd of mountain goat scurrying across the bleak crags of an Alaskan range are also shown.

Primitive railroading in Alaska, totem poles of a hundred and more weird and fantastic designs, manulakes harpooned to a plough and other unusual pictures are interspersed on the program. The pictures will hold the boards all week. They are continuous, beginning at 1:30 o'clock every afternoon.

OREGON SYSTEM OBJECT OF INQUIRY

Eastern People Would Know About Progressive Law Making.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 13.—The extent to which the Oregon system of government is attracting attention in all parts of the United States is indicated by the list of inquiries received every day by the secretary of state. In today's mail an even dozen letters were received from persons wanting information in regard to the initiative and referendum or the recall. Besides these there were half a dozen inquiries concerning other Oregon laws.

Such inquiries are continually pouring into the secretary of state's office. Letters come from every state in the union. The inquiries received this morning came from Illinois, the state library of Massachusetts at Boston, Boonville, Mo.; Valley City, N. D.; Missouri state normal; San Marcos, Texas; Princeton Ind.; Meadville, Pa.; New York city, and Keene, N. H.

CONFIDENTIAL NOTE FROM TAFT IS READ

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, Feb. 13.—A personal and confidential letter purporting to have been written by President Taft regarding Major Becher Ray of the army paymasters' corps, in connection with charges by retiring Paymaster General Whipple that political pull kept Ray in the corps, was read yesterday to the house committee on war department expenditures. The letter bore a lovely date and discussed charges against Ray by an individual whose name is suppressed. The letter says, in part:

"I have no relation with Major Ray preventing me from directing you taking the some disciplinary action respecting him as in the case of any other of your subordinates."

After admitting that Major Ray did the president a political service years ago at the instance of his (Taft's) brother, the letter adds:

"He is disposed to assume much on that score. I wish him treated as any other officer in the service."

AMERICAN FLAG FIRED UPON, SAYS MISSIONARY

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Bernardino, Cal., Feb. 13.—Mrs. Roy R. Service, who is in San Bernardino today after two years as a missionary in China, with her husband, who was famous as a California university athlete, declares that the Chinese brigands in the interior, on several occasions, fired on the American flag when her party was fleeing to the coast.

"We were at Chimo, far in the interior," said Mrs. Service, "when the trouble broke out. We escaped down the river in houseboats. On dozens of occasions I heard bullets sing past my head. Many of them struck the house. An American on the boat that followed ours was shot in the jaw."

Mrs. Service said the stories in the streets of the Chinese printed in this country are tame compared to their actual deeds.

Mourning Loss of Baby.
San Francisco, Feb. 13.—Major and Mrs. Albert E. Truby of the army medical corps are in San Francisco today mourning the tragic loss of their year-old baby. A Japanese nurse girl jumped off the transport Warren, carrying the child with her, while the vessel was in Philippine waters.

CARYLL OUTLINES "ABSOLUTE LIFE"

His Scheme Subservience of Matter to Mind in Creation of New Type of Men.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Denver, Feb. 13.—The subservience of matter to mind in the creation of a new and higher type of life is the explanation given by Charles Willard Caryll, head of the Caryll Cooperative Industrial system in California, of his relations with Miss Harriett C. Richardson, of Los Angeles.

Caryll arrived in Denver in custody of a United States marshal. He was arrested in San Francisco on a charge of sending obscene letters through the mails to Miss Richardson. The woman is in a California asylum as the result of a mental breakdown which her brothers declare resulted from Caryll's letters.

Outlining his scheme of absolute life to a group of newspaper men, Caryll vigorously disclaimed any similarity to the plan of Evelyn Arthur See of Chicago. He insisted that his relations with Miss Richardson were at all times proper.

"I think far more of her than I could of a wife, were I married. Our relations were on a far higher plane. We hoped in time, by thought suggestion alone, to create a new and perfect type of life. My letters to her were sacred and her breakdown was the result of other troubles.

"This charge against me is only part of the persecution which I have been forced to endure for 10 years since I was driven out of Denver by the Colorado Bureau of Child and Animal Protection. It is pure spitwork on the part of relatives of Miss Richardson."

Regarding his industrial colony in California, Caryll said it numbered members of both sexes and was made up of many members of a "baby farm" colony who were with him in Denver in 1901. Industrial cooperation is the plan on which it is conducted, he said. All of its members are strict vegetarians and are disciples of his ideas on higher life.

BOND ISSUE AUTHORIZED FOR TILLAMOOK SCHOOL

Tillamook, Or., Feb. 13.—At a school meeting Saturday, the local school board was authorized to erect a fire proof high school building, to cost $25,000. The building is to be located on ground adjacent to the present school site, which the board was also authorized to purchase. It is to be designed with a capacity of 250 pupils but so arranged that additional may be built. An issue of $35,000 in bonds was also authorized to cover the cost of the building and site. An effort will be made to enlarge the school district.

School attendance has increased rapidly in the past few years. Since last September the board has been using the local opera house for the fifth, sixth and seventh grades.

the Cowlitz County Sunday School convention is announced as February 28 and 27, the meeting to be held in Kelso. The principal speakers will be State Secretary G. T. Pratt of Washington and State Secretary C. A. Phipps of Oregon.

American Born Britisher Dies.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
London, Feb. 13.—Captain Bayard

Couraud of the Seventeenth Lancers, well known in California, is today reported to have died at Aden, while on his way home from India. He was a brother-in-law of the former Miss Amy Crocker of San Francisco, now Mrs. H. M. Gillig. Captain Couraud was born in the United States and was the son of Colonel George Edward Couraud, a cavalry officer, also of American birth.
