

Town Topics

TONIGHT'S AMUSEMENTS

HEILIG—"The Bohemian Girl."
BAKER—"The Bohemian Girl."
LYRIC—"American Princess."
ORPHEUM—"Orpheum circuit vaude."
PANTAGES—"Vaudeville."
EMPRESS—"Sullivan & Considine vaudeville."
PEOPLES—"Mottin pictures."

Weather Conditions.

Portland and vicinity: Rain tonight and Wednesday. Westerly winds. Oregon and Washington: Rain tonight and Wednesday. Southerly winds, high along the coast.
Y. Idaho: Rain north tonight and Wednesday. Rain south portion tonight or Wednesday.
EDWARD A. REALS,
District Forecaster.

Sons of Veterans Organize.

A camp of the Sons of Veterans was organized February 1 at the old fire hall, Albina avenue, near Killingsworth, with about 20 members on the rolls. The following officers were elected: Commander, C. A. Williams, assistant organizer for this district, assisted by a number of members of the G. A. R. Commander, R. H. Miller; senior vice commander, J. A. Nelson; junior vice commander, G. L. Lacy; camp patriot, instructor, T. E. Finn; camp chaplain, A. F. Case; camp secretary, Bernie Rand; camp treasurer, D. F. Horsman; camp guide, Frank Nelson; camp color bearer, J. H. Braithwaite; camp inside guard, Archie Gould. After the installation of the officers, a number of addresses were made, and much enthusiasm manifested by those present. The next meeting of the camp will be held Wednesday evening, February 14, at the same hall. All sons of veterans are invited to assist in the work.

Greek "Mashers" Fined.

Two Greeks, one George Vakrinos, unemployed, and Pete Chianotis, proprietor of a cigar stand at Second and Burnside streets, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Vessey for following little 14-year-old May McCrosky of 158 Page street from the Lower Albina ferry to Fourth and Washington streets. This morning Judge Tazewell fined the men $25 each for the violation of the ordinance. The attention of the patrolman was called to the two men by William McNair of 1931 East Taylor street and Vessey watched the men for some time. Finally the girl walked into a store at one entrance and one man watched one door while the other walked into the store after her. Vessey arrested them at this point and McNair called to the girl to identify them as her amovers, which she did.

Complimentary Supper.

Members who enrolled in the Portland Young Men's Christian Association during the recent membership contest, making it the largest association in the world, will be tendered a complimentary supper in the auditorium of the association next Thursday evening at 6:15 o'clock. Arrangements for the supper are being completed by G. Raymond, membership secretary, and invitations have been sent out. Prizes won in the membership contest will be presented at that time. These include a shield on which are inscribed the names of the winning contestants in the men's department. This shield will be given a place of prominence in the association building. Secretaries of the association will make brief talks, welcoming the new members to the ranks and explaining the work and purposes of the Y. M. C. A.

Lecture at Y. M. C. A.

One of the most interesting lectures delivered at the Portland Young Men's Christian Association this winter is expected tomorrow night when William Parker, a Y. M. C. A. secretary of Hastings, Neb., will speak on his travels through California, Oregon and Washington. Mr. Parker is "hiking" 2500 miles through the three states and has already covered 2200 miles of that distance. The lecture will be free. Mr. Parker comes to the Portland association highly recommended by association officials in cities where he has spoken. His speech will be illustrated by stereopticon slides from photographs he has taken on his long walk. He has had many interesting and exciting experiences which he will relate.

Selecting Library Site.

The committee on public buildings of the Greater Plans association will appear before the library board at a meeting this afternoon asking for a relocation of the library site from its present proposed location—Tenth, Eleventh, Yamhill and Taylor streets—to a place facing one of the marble blocks. The chairman of the committee is Joseph Jacobberger, and other members are R. O. Rector, W. W. Cox, Lee Hoffman, A. M. Humphreys, E. M. Lazarus, E. J. Jaeger, L. E. Rice, H. Fred Clausen, Dwight Edwards, Robert Hofer. The committee will be accompanied by President Merrick and the secretary of the association. Permission has been asked to inspect the minutes of meetings where matters pertaining to the consideration and selection of the present site were considered.

Will Not Be Responsible.

In a communication to the mayor today the Barber Asphalt Paving company declares that it will not be responsible for defects that may appear in the pavement of the asphalt pavement on Morrison street between Chapman and Third, which is being torn up by E. W. Riner in the process of installing a sewer conduit. The company had the pavement in 1910 and agreed to maintain it for five years, but does not wish to be held liable for defects that may appear on account of the sewer work.

Traffic Agents' Luncheon.

M. J. Geary, general agent of the passenger department of the Rock Island line, will be chairman at the regular weekly luncheon of the new organization of the Portland Traffic Agents. The luncheon will be at the Imperial hotel on Thursday at 12:30. F. H. Fogarty, assistant general freight agent of the Northern Pacific, will be the principal speaker. Arrangements to this effect were made by the committee which met last evening.

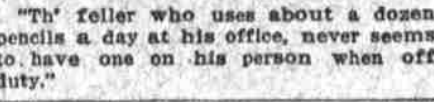

Pullman Company Changes.

While no official announcement has been made, it is understood that C. Lincoln, in charge of the business of the Pullman company at San Francisco, will succeed Superintendent J. D. Chamberlin here. Mr. Chamberlin having been promoted to superintendent of the Denver district. At Denver, Mr. Chamberlin will succeed F. L. Wood, who goes to San Francisco to succeed Mr. Lincoln.

"The Class Struggle."

Subject for tonight in the Modern school economy class, which meets every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, under the direction of Principal William Thurston Brown, B. A. Yale, in schoolrooms, Behrke-Walker building, 167 Fourth street, near Morrison.

QUOTH THE PESSIMIST

"Th' feller who uses about a dozen pencils a day at his office, never seems to have one on his person when off duty."

George K. Rogers at the Child Welfare League of the Ladd school, Wednesday afternoon at 3. Dr. Benjamin Young, Dr. Walker, Mrs. Albert Ehrigott, Mrs. Burns and others will join in the discussion. This meeting is designed to throw light on the subject. Everyone is invited to attend and join in the discussion.

Ex-Patrolman Arrested.

Bert Hoffman, who claims he is an ex-patrolman from Minneapolis, was this morning arrested by Patrolmen Cameron and Murphy at the golf links. Hoffman was charged with an after-hour charge and this morning fined $20 by Judge Tazewell. The man asserted, when arrested shortly after 2 o'clock, that although he had been a patrolman, he did not know it was against the law to be out at that hour of night without lawful business.

Merchants to Dine.

The February dinner of the Portland Retail Merchants' association will be held at the new Hotel Multnomah at 6:15 o'clock Thursday evening. Among the speakers will be H. D. Ramsell on "Benefits"; Philip Gevurtz, "Welcome," and William Woodward, "Response to the Welcome." A committee on arrangements is planning to make this one of the most enjoyable affairs of its kind yet held.

Fails Against Car.

N. Beurs, while attempting to board an inbound Oregon City car at the golf links, this morning, sustained a slight scalp wound when he tripped and fell against the car. He was taken aboard the car and brought to East Water and Hawthorne avenue where he was taken to St. Vincent's hospital. His injuries are not serious.

Southerners Want West.

The Southern Men organization, which meets regularly for luncheon every Saturday at the Commercial club, has issued an invitation to Governor West to be guest of honor next Saturday, when Superintendent James of the state penitentiary will preside. The organization is planning for its Saturday luncheon in the board of governors' room.

Our Kenyon's Cough Remedy has merit.

gives results where others fail to relieve. It can conscientiously recommend it in all cases of stubborn coughs, colds and bronchial troubles.—Albert Bern, the druggist, 229 Washington, near Second.

A Good Suggestion.

Get in the habit of saying Pacific States Fire Insurance Co. Home office, Portland, Oregon.

Have you $5.00?

Bring it with you to 319 Morrison street. We will show you.

W. A. Wise and associates, painless dentists,

Third and Washington.

Werner Peterson Co., high grade merchant tailors,

250 Stark.

Dr. E. C. Brown, Eye, Ear, Marquam

COUNCILMAN DISCUSSES "GOOD CITIZENSHIP"

Councilman Allen R. Joy spoke before the Center Adlitz Improvement club on "The Interest Citizens Should Have in the Administration of City Affairs," last night. The meeting was held in the Free Methodist church at East Fifty-fifth and Flanders streets. President J. S. Roark presided. There was an unusually large attendance. Councilman Schmeer spoke to the club members on "The Importance of Widening East Gilsan Street and the Improvement of Adjacent Property." Mr. Schmeer also said that he had introduced a resolution before the city council asking that the streets between East Burnside and the O.-W. R. & N. right of way and East Fifty-eighth and East Fifty-second be graded and sidewalks put down. The club endorsed Mr. Schmeer's action. The viewers on the widening of East Gilsan was strongly endorsed and Councilman Schmeer was requested to use his influence to have the report adopted by the city council. The chairman of the viewers' committee is A. A. Kaddery. He addressed the meeting, describing how assessment for the street widening had been arranged.

President Roark reported that the matter of widening East Gilsan had been brought before the street committee of the Greater Portland Plans association, and that the committee had written the city council asking that the widening be done in accordance with the report of the viewers. Last night's meeting was especially called. The regular meeting of the club will be held in the same place tomorrow night.

BOOST FOR BITULITHIC

FOR YOUR DINNER TONIGHT

A Club Dinner

75c

Is Sure to Meet With Your Approval

THOSE ENTERTAINERS

King, Quinn and Sweeney, in songs and music, are proving a pleasant feature. Ready tonight, 6 to 8:30.

A BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

Our Merchants' Lunch, 35c
11:30 to 2:00

HOTEL CARLTON

Restaurant and Grill

Washington at 14th. Where Popular Prices Prevail.

PLAN DEBATE ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Attorney Bristol to Take Negative; Mrs. Greely, Miss Whitney Honored.

Attorney William C. Bristol has consented to take the negative side in a debate relative to woman suffrage. Announcement of this was made last evening at the reception tendered Mrs. Helen Hay Greely, noted suffrage worker from New York state, and Miss Anita Whitney of San Francisco, held at the Portland hotel.

Details for the public debate are being worked out by the directors of the Men's Equal Suffrage club, of which W. M. Davis is chairman and Attorney Arthur Langguth is secretary. The directors are casting around for some speaker to represent the "no" cause. The debate will be held the first part of March in some large public hall, as the interest already attending the debate assures a large audience.

Mrs. Greely spoke last evening of the efforts of women in New York to secure the ballot. At each attempt, she said, business interests defeated the movement. To give the coast and western states the ballot for women will do more to assist the eastern women than anything else, she added. "Taxation without representation today is just as much tyranny as it was 100 years ago," declared the speaker. "Our fathers fought for liberty then; we women are fighting for the same thing today. We hold property, pay taxes, but have no right to say how the public money shall be expended. As soon as a salary is attached to a public office, a man gets the job. The common idea is that a woman cannot hold it."

Miss Whitney said that people opposed to woman suffrage are prisoners of prejudice. It is for the woman 200 years hence that suffragists of today are working, she added. Mrs. Alice Comstock of Seattle told how the women in Washington enjoyed the ballot. Mrs. Abigail Scott Dunway presided at the meeting.

POSTMASTER EXPLAINS GREATER CITY PLANS

One of the largest audiences that has ever assembled in the East Side branch library listened last night to the explanation of the greater Portland plan by President C. B. Merrick of the Greater Portland Plans association, and Landscape Architect Howard Evans. Colored views illustrated the addresses of both. Mr. Merrick said that the greater Portland plan is a plan for the building of a greater city, giving impartial consideration to the needs of each locality and contemplating a harmonious development of facilities needed by the expected population of 2,000,000. Mr. Weed laid stress on the need for paying heed to the "small units of the better city," the lawns, houses and gardens and their relation to each other. The meeting was held under the auspices of the East Side Business Men's club and the United East Side Improvement association.

The proboas of a flea, with which it bites, is only one tenth the diameter of the point of the finest needle.

A New ARROW Notch COLLAR

Easy to put on, easy to take off, easy to tie the tie in.

Grant, Peabody & Company, Makers, Troy, N. Y.

Don't Be Behind the Times

BOOST FOR BITULITHIC

KRASNER IS FOUND NOT GUILTY BY JURY

Owing to an indictment said to have been carelessly drawn, Sam Krasher was acquitted yesterday evening in the circuit court on the charge of putting his wife in a house of ill repute. Only part of the statute covering the case was used in the indictment, wherein the vital part was omitted in the charge against Krasher.

The indictment was so drawn that the jury was required to find three conclusions in convicting Krasher. The first was to determine whether or not the woman was Krasher's wife. The second was whether or not the place at 300 Couch street was a disorderly house. The third was whether or not Krasher forced, persuaded or in any way intimidated his wife in such a manner as to leave or keep her in the place. The last question was what puzzled the jurors. They unanimously answered the two first questions in the affirmative. After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

After deliberating for a short time, the jurors asked Judge Gatens if the state had to prove that the woman was forced by her husband to stay in the house. The judge replied that the state had to show that either persuasion or intimidation was used. Mrs. Krasher testified on the stand that she owned and operated the house. She said she allowed no man to boss her. Judging from her attitude on the witness stand, the jury concluded she could not be controlled by Krasher. Krasher said he often asked her to leave the place, refused to support her while she remained there. Attorney Mac Cohen testified that when he was acting police magistrate he discharged Mrs. Krasher when she was arrested in the municipal court for conducting a disorderly house.

Fuel Stocks Low.

Look at yours, then call for cordwood, slabwood, coal. Hanfield-Vessey Fuel Co. A-3262, M. 852.

House moving and repairing. James Garrick. Phone East 4427. 303 E. Morrison street.

How Did Your Employer Succeed?

He may have had money left him to start in business, but among the vigorous, successful business men of this Western country most of them saved what they started on. If you aspire to be an employer, you must first begin to be a capitalist.

If you want men to work for you some time you must learn to make money work first. A little saved regularly soon counts up to a goodly sum. Every dollar you save goes right to work, earning

Four Per Cent
Portland Trust Company of Oregon
Third and Oak Sts.

Call, Write or Phone

Graves Music Co.

111 4th St. Tel. A or Main 1433. Talking Machine Headquarters
All Other Makes and Styles of Talkers in Stock

THE HIGH STANDING

of this bank has been acquired by always following, during its 18 years of business, methods which conserve the best interests of depositors. We invite those contemplating the opening of a bank account to confer with us regarding the service which we can render them. Checking and savings accounts are handled.

"A CONSERVATIVE CUSTODIAN"
HIBERNIA SAVINGS BANK
SECOND AND WASHINGTON STREETS.
Open Saturday Evenings 6 to 8.

SEE THE Silent-Knight

At Our Automobile Show All This Week, 615-617 Washington Street

INVESTORS, ATTENTION!

Forced to sacrifice, best and only available corner in the best and most progressive town in Eastern Oregon. This property is ripe for improvement, and tenants can be secured at once for a high-class office building. If you want to make a safe, profitable, high-class investment, investigate at once, as this is a rare opportunity. Owner in city for a few days.

Phone MAIN 2106 or call 911 CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

GEO. RIDOUT

PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT AND AUDITOR
413 Merchants Trust Building
Main 3584
CORPORATION TAX RETURNS PREPARED

Foster & Kleiser

High Grade Commercial and Kleetris
SIGNALS
East 7th and East Everett Sts.
Phone East 1111; M-2224.

COAL

East 629 B-6148
LIBERTY COAL & ICE CO.

AMUSEMENTS

HEILIG

HEALTHY FUN & SATISFACTION
PHONES: Main 1 and A-1112
Tonight 8:15 Tomorrow Night Special Price 25c
THE BOHEMIAN GIRL
In a Spectacular Production Ballerina Light Opera Success
5c THE BOHEMIAN GIRL
Excellent Cast; Augmented Orchestra
Evenings—Lower floor, 12, 13, 30, 50, 75, 100, 150, 200, 250, 300, 350, 400, 450, 500, 550, 600, 650, 700, 750, 800, 850, 900, 950, 1000.
SEATS NOW SELLING.

HEILIG THEATRE

7th and Taylor
PHONES: Main 1 and A-1112
One of the finest musical comedies
Thursday Evening, February 15
Seats now selling.
O. A. C. HARRISON AND GLEE CLUB
Forty accomplished musicians and vocalists in a repertoire of vocal and instrumental solos, classical selections, college pieces, etc. Extra feature, Harry Leader's only rival. Prices 12, 25, 50c, 75c, 1.00.

McCormack

TRISK TRON
Heilig Theatre
FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 16
Prices $2, $2.50, $3, $1.50. Gallery reserved, $1.50. Gallery, admission, 5c. Box seats 5c.

BAKER

THEATRE
Main 3 and A-2222
Geo. L. Baker, Mgr.
FRIDAY ALL THIS WEEK
ALL THE BEST OF CHILDREN 15c
Extraordinary Engagement

The Wonderful Kleinschmidt

Motion Pictures, Alaska, Siberia, The Arctic
Nothing like them ever shown before. Thrilling, exciting, amusing and instructive. Performances continuous all afternoon and evening, starting at 1:30 P. M. Note—Parents and teachers should insist on the children seeing these pictures. A rare and valuable treat.
Next week—"Paid in Full."

Opheum

WEEK FEB. 12-13-14-15-16-17-18-19-20
WEEK FEB. 19-20-21-22-23-24-25-26-27-28-29-30
Louise Dresser, La Somnambule, Harry Secombe & Joe Farrow, Follies, Eddie Van Koven, "An All-Star Bill," Ernie and Mildred Potts, Fiddler and Shelton.

PANTAGES

WEEK FEB. 12-13-14-15-16-17-18-19-20
WEEK FEB. 19-20-21-22-23-24-25-26-27-28-29-30
Louise Dresser, La Somnambule, Harry Secombe & Joe Farrow, Follies, Eddie Van Koven, "An All-Star Bill," Ernie and Mildred Potts, Fiddler and Shelton.

Empress

WEEK FEB. 12-13-14-15-16-17-18-19-20
WEEK FEB. 19-20-21-22-23-24-25-26-27-28-29-30
Louise Dresser, La Somnambule, Harry Secombe & Joe Farrow, Follies