

REMEMBERED OLD TIMES.

TO OBLIGE A FRIEND.

UNFORTUNATE AFFAIR.

HE KNEW.

DEAR GIRL!

IT IS HARD.

Mrs. Pinkley—"You said my voice attracted you first." Pinkley—"Yes, dear, and I thought if I married you I'd have more influence to persuade you to stop that awful singing."

Mr. Needmore—"I've had awful hard luck, I tell you, and I thought that, since we used to be such great pals, you might help me out." Mr. Gotmore—"Sure, I will. Porter, help this person to the door."

Water—"I beg your pardon for spilling the soup down your neck, sir. I thought you was the gentleman that didn't tip me yesterday. I have such a poor memory for faces, sir."

Jinks—"Mark's in hard luck." Binks—"Borrow some money of you?" Jinks—"No. Lant me some."

Miss Campus Girl—"Can we have some space in your paper?" Society Editor—"What do you want space for?" Miss Campus—"To publish the doings of our secret society!"

Little Archibald—"Papa, what does 'laissez faire' mean?" Papa—"I don't know, sonny; I can't keep up with all the new auto accessories that come out."

WHAT SHE THOUGHT.

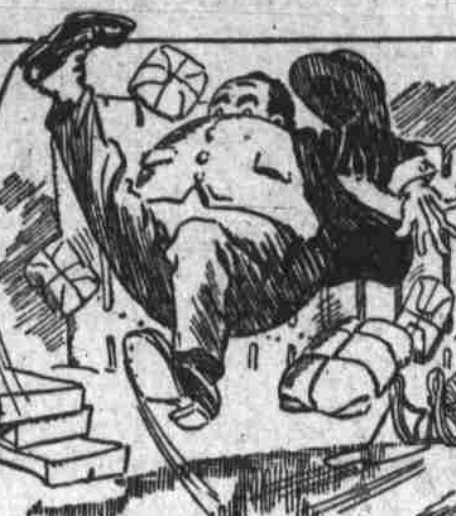

Inquisitive Lady—"Mister, what caused the wreck?" Brakeman—"A switch, lady." Inquisitive Lady—"Why do they allow women on trains who wear such dangerous switches?"

NOT NOW.

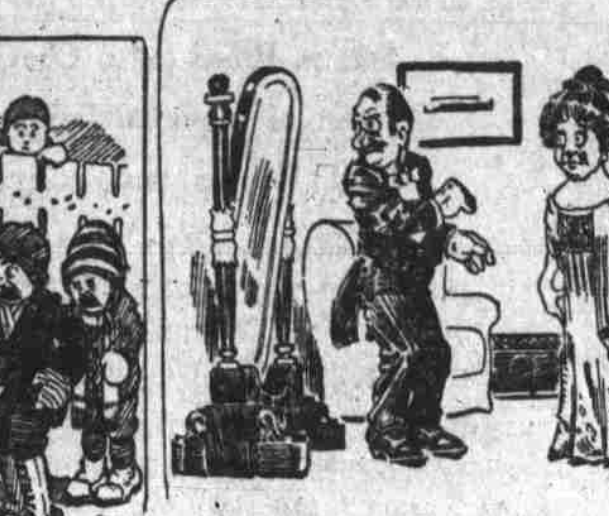

Grace—"Now, George, don't you think Fred is a beautiful and friendly dog?" George—"Oh, yes, but he might have bitten me six or eight times instead of twice as I came up here."

PENDING RUIN.

Jimmy—"Oh, fellows! There goes all our dandy ice."

HE DREAMS IT.

Mr. Dinks—"Oh, I wish I didn't have to attend that reception to-night." Mrs. Dinks—"Why not, Charles?" Mr. Dinks—"The Bikes have a full length mirror in their reception room and I have to look at myself in this dress suit."

WILLING.

Judge—"Didn't you pick this man's pocket?" Deendant—"Yes. I just wanted to show people I wasn't afraid to work with my hands."

NARROW ESCAPE.

"Yes, Maude thought she was marrying a foreign nobleman, but he turned out to be a bartender." "Isn't Maude the lucky girl!"

Yesterday's News Briefly Chronicled

World Happenings Occurring Sunday and Sunday Night Told in Short Paragraphs. Congressional. Secretary Fisher has followed his recent pronouncement before the public lands committee in discouragement of legislation that will in any wise lighten the regulations concerning the acquisition of land by homestead entry with a report to that committee which virtually serves notice that the Borah-Jones bill reducing the homestead periods to three years and granting certain leaves of absence to settlers will be met by the full opposition of the interior department. Political. Fourteen instructed Taft delegates to the Chicago convention were elected during the past week, bringing the president's total score to 31. If there is any real opposition to President Taft's renomination it has not yet been made manifest through the selection of anti-Taft delegates. Gifford Pinchot, formerly a strong supporter of La Follette, has deserted the cause of the Wisconsin senator and calls on Roosevelt to lead the "progressives."

Take Cel-so for a bad stomach. The first glass will give immediate relief for any stomach trouble. Removes gas, heartburn, indigestion and headache. (Celery is Good for the Nerves) Cel-so Mildly laxative, absolutely harmless. A pleasant, foamy drink. Try a glass—it acts like magic. That first gray hair! Oh how disappointed you are to see it.—Gray hairs take away that youthful appearance that you are so anxious to, and should keep,—for beauty and good looks depend so much upon natural colored, thick, glossy and healthy hair. Every one is attracted to the woman with beautiful hair. Why not have it—get rid of the gray hairs—keep them out altogether by using HAY'S HAIR HEALTH. You'll be surprised how quickly it will restore those gray hairs to their natural color and how well it will keep them so. It is not a dye but the most satisfactory and reliable restorer. $1.00 and 50c at Drug Stores or direct upon receipt of price and dealer's name. Send 10c for trial bottle.—Felix Hay Spec. Co., Newark, N. J.

City Attorney Kauke was fatally injured, Miss Mattie Lowden, his fiancée, was killed, and Mrs. Isabelle Lowden and Mrs. Wylie Tinnin were seriously injured in an automobile accident at Fresno, Cal., when Kauke attempted to avert running into another machine. He steered his machine into the curb, tipping it to one side. Moderate weather is expected to prevail this week, although it is probable that colder weather may be felt in the northwest, according to the weather bureau's bulletin. The next general storm to cross the country will prevail in the north Pacific states on Tuesday and Wednesday, the middle west about Thursday, and the eastern states on Friday. The nightly demonstration of those who are defying the free speech ordinance of San Diego was held Sunday night. Two thousand persons looked on while the police detailed to preserve order made 10 arrests.

Foreign. Eight hundred thousand British miners have handed in their notice to quit work on March 1, and the newspapers and the public are calling insistently for the government to interfere. Sir Edward Grey has appealed to those involved in the dispute to come to terms instead of plunging into a situation bound to prove ruinous to the country. Emilio Vasquez Gomez, frank public declaration that he will accept the provisional presidency of Mexico in case the rebels succeed in forcing Madero from the national palace, has gone far toward convincing unofficial residents of the capital that a general rebellion is in progress. Believing that all the insurrections against the government are largely a result of the publication of sensational news, President Madero and his cabinet have appealed to the permanent committee in congress to suspend that article of the constitution providing for a free press, and have been given a negative reply.

Miscellaneous. After weeks of anxiety work has reached Prince Rupert, B. C., which dispels all fear regarding the safety of J. Slater, an expert of Portland, who it was feared was drowned off Queen Charlotte island last month with six Indians and two white men. After a severe gale the party landed safely at Train Point. To develop more thoroughly the fertilizer and potash resources of the Pacific Coast. V. E. Ballou, a switchman on the Oregon Short Line, was instantly killed in the railway yards at Nampa Sunday morning. Ballou was riding on a box car which was being switched to a siding, when he fell from the ladder on the side of the car, slighting either on the rail, ties or a plank platform. The new churches were admitted to membership, officers were elected for the ensuing year, credentials were issued to ministers and licentiate, several resolutions were passed affecting the outlay of thousands of dollars, and quite a number of reports were read at the annual meeting of the Upper Columbia conference of Seventh Day Adventists in session at Walla Walla Sunday. During the coming year $500,000 will be raised for missions. John H. O'Keith, a wealthy saloonkeeper at Menlo Park, Cal., shot and probably fatally wounded Albert Freeman, aged 21, in front of the saloon early Sunday morning. The youth says he attacked him unwarranted, but the saloonkeeper charges that he was assaulted.

AT THE END OF THE RAINBOW

Poorley's Legacy. By Charles Jones. POORLEY received notice of his good fortune one evening when he arrived home from working on the job. It came in a common, ordinary envelope, but up in the right hand corner of the envelope was the return card of a firm of prominent and expensive lawyers. Poorley did not look long at the outside of the letter and speculated as to its probable contents; he went straight to the root of the matter. That is to say, he slid his little finger under the flap of the envelope and tore it quickly across. Inside he found a legal appearing notice to the effect that his amiable Aunt Sapphira had at last managed to die happily, as she had always said she would, and had left Poorley joint heir to her fortune, along with the Home for Orphan and Unregenerate Cats. Poorley didn't like it too well that the cats got half the fortune, but in the light of his own good luck he was disposed to be generous. "Let them enjoy what they have," was his thought. "I have enough for myself, anyway." And it was quite a neat sum of money that he had. Money! Money! What a magic sound the word had to Poorley! And what magic dreams it gave rise to in Poorley's mind! He did not go to supper that evening—no supper for Poorley! He sat around in his room and thought of what he would do with all that cash. He thought also of what he would do to the gang with whom he had been traveling. The gang had never been very respectful to Mill May Be Removed. (Special to the Journal.) Falls City, Or., Feb. 13.—A report comes from Independence to the effect that the Falls City Lumber company is contemplating the removal of the planer mill now located in this city, to Independence. It has been learned that C. O. Johnson, foreman of the planer, has been investigating an offer made by the Independence Commercial club. The club offered the lumber company 10 acres for a mill site.

Symptoms Mean What? Physician Advises Men.

(From Health Record.) A general failure of the vital organs, such as the stomach, liver, lungs, etc., is often the result of the full extent their normal duties is responsible for many systems, often classified as "dis-eases" by the unlearned. However, such symptoms are not to be regarded lightly, for they are forerunners of serious and premature decline. These symptoms are in the nature of warnings of the approach of "low vitality," and if not promptly taken, and all the more so less dreaded ailments to which mankind is heir. The faithful use of the prescription given below will so establish the normal natural functions of the various organs of the body as to cause to disappear all of the following symptoms: Depression, fatigue, dull, sunken eyes, cold extremities, pains in small of back, pains in back of head, spots before the eyes, weakness in spine, twitching and trembling, impaired memory, loss of appetite, wasting to thinness, loss of flesh, premature wrinkles, dull headache, constipation, kidney irregularities, irritability and a general breakdown of ambitious spirit and manliness. First get compound fluid balm—two ounces, syrup sarsaparilla compound; take home mix and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence cardiol and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom). Mix all in a six or eight ounce bottle, shake well and take one teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring, followed by a drink of water. By mixing it at home no man need be the wiser as to another's shortcomings, and expensive fees are avoided. Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment, even when the public least suspect it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full bounding health and all the happiness accompanying it, the above home treatment is given.
