

BOURNE DISCOVERS RELIABLE FOUND LIE LOBSTER PARADISE

Emits Sounds of Triumph When He Learns that Yaquina Bay Fisherman Has Dug Up Lobsterette Family.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)
Washington, Feb. 19.—For many years the United States fish commission has been trying to naturalize the lobster-homaris Americanus, if you please—in the waters of the Pacific coast.
Senator Bourne was discovered emitting sounds of triumph a few days ago, because he had word from Yaquina indicating that at least these efforts had succeeded. He hastened to inform the United States fish commission, but was met with polite incredulity. Commissioner Bowers hoped that the senator was right, but he had heard similar tales before. He knew his men had been careful this time, as they always had been; but, again, he. He wanted to be shown.

Story of First Experiment.

There was a time when some lobsters were dumped into Monterey bay, and when surprise was manifested that they did not thrive and multiply, someone remembered that representatives of the state game commission had planted their pincers with bits of wood to keep them from fighting on the monotonous trip across the continent, and had forgotten to remove the plugs, so they were supposed to have starved to death. Commissioner Bowers is sure it was not his men who did this.

Fisherman Catches—Something.

As for the evidence that he is thriving and multiplying there, it is related that a few days ago a fisherman dipped up 20 or 40 young lobsters in the bay and then carefully replaced them in the water. Commissioner Bowers said it might be all right, but he would like to see those alleged lobsters first, as the local fishermen may have discovered something else. Accordingly, Senator Bourne at once wired to Yaquina to catch some more of the infant crustaceans, put them in a bottle of alcohol, and ship them by mail or express to him, so he can confront the commissioner with the evidence. When this is done, Oregon will be duly apprised of the facts.

Chamberlain Is "Complimented."

Thomas N. Baldwin of Prineville, Or., has forwarded to Senator Chamberlain his proxy as delegate to the second annual convention of the George Washington Masonic National Memorial association, to be held at Alexandria, Va., February 21 and 22. In accepting the proxy, the senator, with the fine Chesterfieldian manner characteristic of him, wrote: "I appreciate the compliment implied by this appointment, and assure you that if it is possible for me to be present, I shall be on-hand."

Bourne Hopeful of Parcels Post.

"I am hopeful of getting a bill through congress to enlarge the usefulness of the postoffice department at this season by extending the scope of the fourth class or merchandise rates," said Senator Bourne to the correspondent of The Journal. "I am trying," he added, "to stick to this one subject until something is accomplished. I hope to see this through very soon."
"As far as the work of the committee has gone, we have collected a vast quantity of data of great value from those countries having a parcels post. Much of this data is applicable to our own country if we will take into consideration the difference in population, transportation, distances and other things affecting the service."

No Injury Demonstrated.

"While protests have reached the committee, no opponent of the parcels post has yet been able to demonstrate that there would be any injurious result to the country merchant, the wholesaler or the jobber, to the traveling man or to any other interest except the express companies, by the enlargement of our present parcels post as embodied under the fourth class mailing privilege, by specifically increasing the weight from 4 to 16 pounds, and materially reducing the rate of postage."
"Our hearings have covered a great deal of ground. We have heard from many varying interests, and we have a large amount of testimony to digest. Nothing, however, has come before us thus far to make us feel that an exten-

Medicated Gln Splendid for Kidneys and Bladder

When good pure gln is properly mixed with certain other ingredients and taken in small doses, it makes a splendid remedy for weak, deranged kidneys or bladder. Simply get six ounces Best Compound and one half ounce fluid extract Buchu. Mix well and take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. This quickly stops kidney or bladder misery and prevents the most serious forms of kidney disease, such as Bright's disease, chronic rheumatism or dread diabetes.

Any or all the ingredients for the above prescription can be had at any good drug store. For best results, be sure to get the genuine Best Compound, which comes only in sealed wooden tubes. Use the best gln obtainable. Treatment should be taken at first indication of kidney or bladder disorder.
Children with weak bladder, ten to fifteen drops, diluted in a little water, at bed time, is sufficient.

UNION TRIES POULTRY SHOW AND SUCCEEDS

Union, Or., Feb. 19.—A poultry show that surpassed the expectations of citizens closed Friday evening. Many fancy and high priced birds were shown. Professor Dryden of the O. A. C. judged them and gave entire satisfaction. His presence added in a large degree to make the show a success. J. W. Black is president and W. C. Miller is secretary of the poultry association. It has been determined by the association that hereafter the show will be an annual affair.

DICTAGRAPH MAY HAVE OVERHEARD

Fredericks Will Not Admit Instrument Used in Offices of M'Namara Defense.

Los Angeles, Feb. 19.—District Attorney John D. Fredericks admitted today that he would try the Darrow case. Fredericks returned late yesterday from his trip through the middle west and east in connection with the dynamiting affair. He was loath to talk of the progress made by the Indianapolis investigators. Fredericks declared that the dictagraph used by the federal probe in Indianapolis was invaluable. He also admitted that one of the little instruments was in McManigal's cell in Los Angeles following his arrival here, and that one had since been used by his office. He refused to reply when asked if the second had been operated in the offices of the McManara defense.

$75,000 NECKLACE STOLEN AT DINNER TO HELEN TAFT

Washington, Feb. 19.—More than a little mystery surrounds the alleged disappearance of a diamond necklace valued at $75,000 from the neck of a New York guest at a dinner dance given in honor of Miss Helen Taft by Captain Sowerby, naval attaché of the British embassy, at Raucher's Friday night.
Among the guests at the dinner dance were Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mrs. Edward McLean, Mrs. Edmond Ovey, Miss Mabel Boardman, Miss Helen Taft, Mrs. Richard Townsend, Mrs. Lawrence Townsend, Mrs. E. R. Thomas, Mrs. H. Bumer, Miss Margaret Draper and Miss Harriet Anderson, niece of the president.

son of the parcels post privileges would not be good for the people at large.
At the Chemawa Indian school the pupils have proved to be very apt in the use of tools. They have an iron and wood working shop of a decidedly primitive character, in which they have been making wagons. The famous Indian wagons has spread abroad, and there has sprung up an active demand for all that the young Indian craftsmen can turn out. But the buildings and appliances have been totally inadequate. The boys have had to work under difficult conditions, and yet they have done so much with the means at their command that they have won the praise and sympathy not only of their teachers but of everyone who has had an opportunity to see what they are doing.
In the Indian appropriation bill as it was approved by the house committee this year, there was no appropriation for the Chemawa reservation people to improve their shops at all. The total sum allowed was $11,200. Representative Hawley, who has taken considerable interest in the school because of the aptitude of the pupils, went before the committee and made a special plea for money to put up better shops and to furnish some appliances. He told what the youths had done and the committee, while not giving him the full $4000 asked for, did very nearly that, for they added $3800 to the total appropriation, making it $117,000. The prospect is good for an enlargement of the output of farm wagons from Chemawa.
Sometimes persons who are far from Washington wonder why it takes so long to get anything at all done in the capital. To tell just why would but be to reiterate what has often been said about zlotfulness and circumlocutory methods, but even when a man is right on the ground it is not always easy for him to get action more quickly than the man who is far away. Just as an instance, Congressman Hawley started in right merrily almost two years ago to get a life saving station established, and he hasn't got very far yet. At the time mentioned Hawley had a bill to establish a life saving station at the mouth of the Stuslaw river referred to the department of commerce and labor, which sent it to the office of S. I. Kimball, general superintendent of the life saving service, and then the sub-committee which had the bill in charge sat down and awaited the report of the said life saving service. Finally, on March 1, 1910, a report was filed by Superintendent Kimball, who at that time did not know that there was a project to improve the mouth of the river. When informed of this, he agreed, on April 11, 1911, to withdraw his report and submit another and fuller report. Time dragged and he was reminded of the delay from time to time, and on January 16 last, he wrote that the matter should have his "best attention." Presumably it is getting his "best attention," but the committee has not yet had his report.

WOMEN'S FIRE SOCIETY WILL MEET HERE ON SAT., MARCH 2

Plans for Coming Summer Will Be Made; Slash Menace Will Be Taken Up; Annual Report.

The annual meeting of the Oregon Forest Fire association will be held at the Multnomah hotel at 10 o'clock Saturday, March 2, when plans for the summer will be formulated. The reports of President A. F. Sprague, Secretary C. S. Chapman and Treasurer John Pearson, for the past year, have been prepared and are now being sent to the eighty members of the association.

Slash Menace.

In his report President Sprague recommends particularly that the season for hunting should begin well toward the end of the dry months when there would be less danger of fire starting in the timber from this source, a source to which, according to reports, many of the fires have been attributed.

"Another matter for serious study here in Oregon," says President Sprague in his report, "is the elimination of the slash menace. Each year the area of old slash increases. It is the source of the worst fires. The law requires burning slashings each year, and the most progressive loggers are in hearty sympathy with the provision. The plan should be to burn these areas when the fire will not spread to green timber. Whether fall or spring burning is most advisable is a mooted question. Fall burning is apt to be more difficult, while spring burning may result in summer fires. However, if burning is done every year there will be no large amount of slash to burn at one time and each man can choose his own season in which to burn."
Assessors Controlled.
Secretary and Manager Chapman states in his report that members of the Oregon Forest Fire association this past summer patrolled fully two and one-fourth million acres of timber. The actual acreage controlled by members is 1,702,778 acres, and in looking after this a considerable larger territory had to be covered. Some owners of considerable acreage and many small owners make no effort to protect their timber, leaving this to their more careful neighbors. The number who fail to pay their share for protection are, however, constantly on the decrease.
"As a result of the appropriation for forest work made by the last legislature," the report states, "twenty-three state wardens, three wardens employed by counties and thirty-two paid by the government, making a total of fifty-eight wardens, were engaged in patrolling Oregon's timber under the direction of the state forester."

GREATER CITY PLAN MEETING TOMORROW

The captains of the districts into which Portland has been divided for Greater Portland day, February 29, will meet in the Multnomah hotel at luncheon tomorrow to learn from the membership committee, of which V. Vincent Jones is chairman, the organization of the campaign which is expected to increase the membership of the Greater Portland Plans association to 10,000 in a day.
Postmaster C. B. Merrick, president of the Greater Portland Plans association, addressed an audience in the auditorium of the Art association yesterday afternoon, showing the plans illustrating the Greater Portland plan, and inviting all who are interested in making Portland a more attractive place for residence and business to cooperate with the association.

SISTER'S FUNERAL TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Funeral services for Sister Mary Albina, nee Annie Hanrahan, who died yesterday at the convent of the Holy Names, Villa Maria, Oswego, Or., will be held at the convent tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock.
Sister Mary Albina was 58 years old and at the time of her death was in the thirty-second year of her religious profession. She was born at Grafton, Mass., and came to Portland in the early twenties. Her life in the sisterhood of the Holy Names had been devoted to the work of education.
Relatives and friends are invited to attend mass. The villa can be reached by the Taylor street boat leaving in the morning at 8:45, 7:30 and 5:30, or by the Oswego train, which will be met by the Glenmorrie autobus.

Favor Irrigation Project.

(Special to The Journal.)
Nyssa, Or., Feb. 19.—The landholders under the Black Canyon project near Nyssa are forming a district to further a pumping plant. The Oregon-Idaho Power company offers water at a fair price. A committee composed of H. F. Francis, T. Adams and I. Veal will go to Boise and start proceedings of withdrawal from the Black Canyon project. About 10,000 acres can be watered by a lift of 150 feet, say engineers.

Court Martial for Officer.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 19.—As the result of an alleged fisticuff with a non-commissioned officer, Lieutenant Bloom of the Fourth field artillery is to be tried by court martial at Fort Russell on a charge of "conduct unbecoming an officer."

WAY TO GAIN FLESH

There is only one way for thin, weak persons to gain flesh and strength, and that is to eat and digest more food. "That's just the trouble," says one. "I don't want to eat at all, and the doctors say it does more harm than good to eat what I don't want."
That is true. The thing to do is to get an appetite and good digestion. Miss Henrietta Huber of the Bronx, N. Y., says on this subject: "I was very weak and had been for several months so I thought I ought to take Vinol to gain strength. Since taking Vinol I have gained over 15 pounds in weight, and my appetite is good. Now I am as strong as ever."
This is a remarkable case, but there are thousands of others, proving that our delicious and liver and iron remedy, Vinol, is a certain body builder and strength-creator. If you are weak and thin, you should by all means give yourself the benefit of Vinol, for it will build you up and make you strong. We guarantee it to do this. SALE OF FAMOUS YERKES COLLECTION BEGINS

(Special to The Journal.)
New York, Feb. 19.—Art lovers and connoisseurs thronged the ball room of the Plaza hotel today at the opening of the exhibition and sale of the paintings, art works of gold, silver, and other metals, enamel, ceramics, textiles, embroideries, lacers, carriages, etc., belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. Mary Adelaide Yerkes. The sale will last three days and is attracting unusual interest among collectors. Particularly interesting is the list of paintings, which includes works by some of Arguments in $2,000,000 Suit.

(Special to The Journal.)
Boston, Mass., Feb. 19.—Before Judge Colt in the federal court today arguments were heard on the motion of dismissal and plea in abatement filed by the United Shoe Machinery company to the $2,000,000 suit filed against it by the most famous masters of all periods. The collection was formed by Mr. Yerkes, the noted promoter and street railway magnate of Chicago, London and other cities, who died a few years ago. The sale, which was ordered by the executors of the estate of Mrs. Yerkes will be conducted by the American Art association of this city.

Charles A. Sirtuf, trustee for the Godds Shoe Metal Fastening company, for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust act. The Godds company, it is alleged, was driven out of business by the shoe machinery company, whose officers also are under federal indictment for alleged violations of the anti-trust law.

Becomes Bride of Army Officer.

(Special to The Journal.)
Philadelphia, Feb. 19.—The Bellevue-Stratford in this city was the scene of a brilliant wedding of interest to military and social circles today, when Miss Judith Reynolds, daughter of Lieutenant Governor John M. Reynolds of Pennsylvania, became the bride of Captain George H. Goodwin, Jr., U. S. Army, of the 37th Infantry, now stationed at the Presidio. After a wedding trip of several weeks the young married couple will make their home at the Traylors.

YOU'LL find the Spirit of Spring

here in our Ladies' Shop, where the fresh, pure air is at a Spring temperature, and where the light o' day comes in from overhead and from all sides. You'll be welcome here.

WHEN we lift from its covering of soft tissue one of these new Spring Suits, we think that surely the acme of beauty and refinement has been reached, but next day come more and more of them, until we are fairly bewildered ourselves. We want you to see them—we want them to pass before you in review while you sit in judgment; try on any that please you, and then choose leisurely. Never before have we shown so worthy an array of man-tailored garments—we're sure you will say so, too, when you see them; they that designed and fashioned them surely caught the spirit of the beauty that is woven into the fabric.

SATURDAY two stunning Spring Coats caught our eye; one was of soft navy serge, seemingly heavy, but in reality wonderfully light; it was completely lined with a brilliant plaid silk, including the turn-back cuffs; another was a soft, wide-wale tan serge, lined with a finely woven serge of ivory white, the deep cuffs showing the lining. We think a great deal of our collection of Spring Coats; we're sure you will like them.

ONE of the good things in this great showing of garments for women and misses is our ability to withstand temptation in pricing them. Moderation is our motto; we gladly court comparisons, asking you to bear in mind the high quality of our fabrics and the skill shown in their fashioning. Suits are $25, $30, $35, $40 and up to $65; Coats are $15 to $40. After seeing them, you would expect the price to be more.
