Seattle advices, and when they sail here. from the Columbia river this spring for Bristol bay, they will be able to com-municate with any of the coast sta-tions or with the equatwise and ori-ental vessels of the north Pacific.

R. H. Armstrong, general manager of the United Wireless Telegraph company, who has just returned to Seattle from Astoria, closed the deal for the installing of the apparatus on the two ships with officials of the Columbia River Packers' association. It is said that the cost of the equipment on each of the vessels will be approximately necessarily and the said to be backed by the Charles R. McCormick Lumber company, and that a new steamest, will be built there.

Although the Reuce and the St. Nicholas will not be the only sailing vessels on the coast to be equipped vessels on the coast to be equipped with wireless, their instruments will be the most powerful, and with the exception of the outfit on the British barkentine Everett G. Griggs, they will be the only square riggers in the world thus equipped. The Port of Portland's pilot schooner, Joseph Pulitzer, is equipped with wireless but it has auxillary engines, as have also several salling vessels of the German merchant.

The two windjammers are operated in the Alaska service in connection with the salmon cannories at Nushagak and Chignik and are owned by the Colum-bia River Packers' association. The Nicholas was built at Bath, Maine, 1869 and the Reuce at Kennebunk,

The steamer shaats will be towed down through the bridges from the Inman-Poulean mills at a colock this arternoon by the Ockshama. She has $15,000 feet of lumber for San Pedro. The lightfouse tender Heather left down for Astopia this morning after undergoing an overhauling and being cleaned and painted.

On her first trip to this port in two years, the steamer Raymond, Captain E. A. Kuudsen, arrived last night at History and the summer, bringing freight from San Francisco. She will run here during the summer, bringing freight on the Olson & Mahony line and will go to Raymond to load lumber for California.

At a meeting of the Port of Portland commission yesterday afternoon, bids for food supplies for the steamers and dredgers of the port were opened. They were left to General Manager Talbot to award to the lowest bidders. The commission authorised a contract for a 100-volt current for the drydock at the same rate as the Portland Railway, Light & Power company gives the city here.

GOVERNOR WANTS LEASE MONEY TURNED TO STATE

Salem, Or., Feb. 20.—An effort is being made by Governor West to obtain for the state fish hatchery fund the revenues from leases of fishing ground on Sand island at the mouth of the Columbia river, which now go to the national government. This revenue amounts to $12,805 a year. In his letters to Senators Chamberlain and Bourne, Governor West said

"Since 1905 the war department has leased these grounds to a number of local fishing companies for seining grounds. The revenue collected by the department now amounts to $12,806 per annum and the total amount received to date is, I understand, $48,640.

"The state of Oregon has been and is now expending large sums of money each year for the propagation and pro-tection of salmon in the Columbia river and as the department receiving the revenue from these grounds is making no expenditure whatever toward perpet-uating the salmon industry in this state it seems that this money should be turned over to the state for account of the hatchery fund. At least the money to be collected in the future should be turned over and that which has already been collected used by the government for the protection of fish in this state. At any rate it should be adjusted so as to give the state the benefit of this
