

DESIRE TO BECOME HERO MAKES GOOD BOY INCORRIGIBLE

Lad Not Always Mean, Says Wm. R. George; Give Him Responsibility, Is Idea of Reformer Visiting City.

William R. George.

"Desire to do the heroic in the eyes of his fellow companions, and not mere mischief is usually the cause of incorrigibility in boys," said William R. George, founder of the George Junior Republic, who arrived in Portland this morning. "Giving them some real responsibility is the logical way of reforming them and directing them into the ranks of good and useful citizenship," he added.

Mr. George, who has devoted more than a quarter of a century to the successful reformation of boys and girls, arrived in Portland this morning from Spokane, and will give several addresses before leaving Saturday for California, where he will inspect the Junior Republic at Chico.

"Daddy" George, as the citizens of the Junior Republic know him, is a big fatherly looking man. His soft, pleasantly modulated voice, sympathetic blue eyes and tanned grayish hair, characterize him as a man to whom a boy in need of help and advice would naturally appeal.

Boys Same Today.
"Boys are the same today as they have always been," said Mr. George, "and what is more, they are the same in all walks of life, the rich and poor alike. We know that when we were boys we liked to do the things that would make us heroes; in the opinions of our boy friends. This hero worship accounts for a very great deal of the trouble that boys get into. It is not just meanness or mischief, though I am sorry to say that too many well-meaning persons who attempt the reformation of the wayward work on the belief that youngsters are just naturally devilish, and of course they find it difficult to get results while working along wrong lines."

"Boys from 15 to 21 years of age are usually mentally and physically fit to do men's work and assume some of their responsibilities. But they have no responsibility, so their energies and talents are often spent in getting themselves into trouble."

Reforming the Youth.
"Responsibility properly placed will do wonders in the reformation of youth. It is a simple truth. For example, take the tough leader of a tough gang. Give him the powers of a police officer and see how quickly he will break up the gang of which he was the leader."

"The primary idea of the Junior Republic is this condition of responsibility. The citizens in the Republic are responsible for their own condition, whatever it may be, and they naturally try to improve it as much as possible."

Asked his opinion of the Boy Scout movement, Mr. George said: "I am heartily in favor of the idea. The Scouts are in a position to do a great deal of good and they have a broader field to work in than we have because they can reach the youngsters in their homes."

New Organizations Planned.
"General Baden-Powell, founder of the Scout movement, visited the Freeville Republic recently, and he told me that he would incorporate some of our ideas of responsibility in his own organization. We plan to establish a republic in England next year. It will not be a republic as we understand the term of course, but it will be a colony of boys and girls governing themselves according to the ideas of primary English government."

Mr. George said that committees have already been appointed in the state of Washington for the purpose of organizing a republic and that though no effort is made to promote them they are organized wherever need of one is felt. Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Watson and Miss Della Watson are entertaining Mr. George at their Cornsall Road home.

Guest of Boys.
At noon he was the guest of the boys' committee and the directors of the Y. M. C. A. at luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. This afternoon he will be entertained by Theodore B. Wilcox and tonight he will address the Social Service council at the Y. W. C. A. Tomorrow morning Mr. George will talk to the students of the Washington and the Lincoln high schools and Portland Academy. Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 he will deliver an address to the Council of Jewish Women at the Selling-Hirsch building and tomorrow night he will speak at a public meeting at the Y. M. C. A. under the auspices of the Big Brothers. Saturday morning at 9:30 he will address the public school teachers at the Washington high school, and at noon he will go to Salem to be entertained by Governor West and various Salem societies before continuing on his way to California.

H. T. HUDSON DEAD; FUNERAL TOMORROW

The funeral of H. T. Hudson, a pioneer business man of this city, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Rod E. Smith, 456 Planders street, yesterday, after an illness of about a year, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Scottish Rite cathedral, Lowndale and Morrison streets. Rev. T. L. Elliot will have charge of the services at the cathedral and the Harmony lodge, No. 12, Masons, will have charge of the services at the Riverview cemetery, where the burial will take place.

Mr. Hudson, who was president of the Hudson Arm company, at 118 Third, was known as one of the most expert anglers and hunters in the west. The sporting goods concern which bears his name was established by Mr. Hudson nearly 40 years ago. He took an active interest in the business until three years ago, when he retired and took a trip to Mexico. After a trip to California a year ago he suffered a nervous breakdown, but due to his strong will power and rugged constitution, serious illness was averted. His health seemed to be good until last Thursday, when he suffered a relapse.

He was born March 12, 1835, at Middletown, Del. In 1853 he moved to California, and a short time later to the mining fields in southern Oregon. In 1860 he moved to Portland and from here to the mining district in Idaho, where he stayed but a short time before returning to this city.

Mr. Hudson was married to Allie Goshall of Portland shortly after he was established in business. His wife died 11 years ago. Besides his daughter, Mrs. Rod E. Smith, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Martha Coleman, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Mary Auld, of Marshalltown, Iowa.

He was a member of the Hassalo lodge of Odd Fellows, Ivanhoe lodge of Knights of Pythias, Al Kedar temple of the Elshiners, Oregon commandery No. 1, Knights Templars, Oregon consistory No. 1, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rites, Harmony lodge No. 12, Masons, and Portland chapter No. 2, Royal Arch Masons.

GRANGE REFUSES TO ACCEPT COMPROMISE

The relation between the grange and the good roads association is not in any way different from what it was before Governor West appointed the harmony committee," said C. T. Prall, president of the Oregon Association for Highway Improvement.

Mr. Prall thus briefly summed up

Eat and Get Thin.

This is turning an old phrase face about, but modern methods of reducing fat have made this revision possible.

If you are overfat and also averse to physical exertion and likewise fond of the table and still want to reduce your excess flesh several pounds, do this: Go to your druggist (or write to Marmola Co., 666 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.) and give him (or send them) 75 cents. For this modest amount of money the druggist will put you in the way of satisfying your ambition for a nice, trim, slim figure. He will hand you a large case of Marmola Prescription Tablets (compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription), one of which you must take after each meal and at bedtime until you begin to lose your fat at the rate of 12 to 16 ounces a day. That is all. Just go on eating what you like, leave exercising to the athletes, but take your little tablet faithfully and without a doubt that flabby flesh will quickly take unto itself wings, leaving behind it your natural self, neatly clothed in firm flesh and trim muscles.

what he deems the present status of the highway campaign. C. E. Spence, master of the grange, and member of the committee, informed other committee members yesterday that the grange would not accept state aid or accept compromise.

W. B. Ayer, chairman of the harmony committee, C. T. Prall and General C. R. Wood are today engaged in getting out a statement for the information of the general public that will clearly define the position of four members of the committee—W. B. Ayer, C. T. Prall, W. K. Newell, Judge Bernard Daly—as to what constitutes the real difficulty in securing a program of highway legislation that will be supported alike by the good roads association, the grange and the business organizations.

The majority of the committee decided yesterday that it could not accept the county bonding act of the grange under any sort of compromise. It was stated that this measure was drafted without reference, and in hostility, to the bill proposing state bonds for aid of counties in road building. Hence, that it would be impossible to make such measures articulate in a general plan for state wide good roads legislation. Following the meeting of the committee yesterday Mr. Spence sent a letter to Governor West, in which he attempts to set forth his position and that of the grange. Governor West said this morning that he had not received the letter and would make no comments on the situation until he did.

Box Factory at Klamath.
(Special to The Journal.)
Klamath Falls, Or., Feb. 28.—There is positive assurance that the Johnson-Clarke box factory will be built this summer. Five acres of land has been offered as a site. In addition to turning out box material a wash and scrub plant will be operated. The plant will be located just south of the city on the edge of Lake Ewanna and close to the Southern Pacific railway yards.
