

SUFFRAGISTS ALL WORK IN HARMONY

Equal Suffrage Advisory Committee Organized—"Get Together" Is Slogan.

To promote harmonious effort in their campaign for the rights of the franchise, 15 or 12 Portland suffragists met yesterday afternoon at the headquarters of the Woman's Club Campaign committee, 507 Rothchild building, and the Equal Suffrage Advisory committee whose slogan shall be "get together for the cause."

W. M. Davis was chosen chairman of the committee and the membership is to be comprised of three representatives from each of the various equal suffrage associations. The choice of these memberships will be left open, so that the several organizations may be represented by different persons at different times. It is planned to hold an open forum every other Saturday at the auditorium in the Olds, Wortman & King building, and at these sessions the committee members will get together and discuss ways and means for attaining the best results in the campaign. The first forum will be held next Saturday and will be open to the general public as well as the suffragists.

Each organization will continue to work to the desired ends independent of the others, but at the same time they will stand together on a common ground through the joint committee. Representatives at yesterday's meeting were the College Equal Suffrage League, the Woman's Club Campaign committee, the Man's Equal Suffrage club and the R. I. Equal Suffrage association. Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway was too ill to appear in person, but she was represented by Mrs. A. C. Newell.

STARVATION LEERS AS ENGLAND FACES A GREAT CIVIL WAR

The welter of anarchy and starvation into which the country may be plunged, have taken steps which, as Mr. Asquith said, are in defiance of convention and tradition and custom, in order to compel the mine owners to concede what, in the impartial and unanimous judgment of the cabinet, the men might fairly demand.

Question Most Puzzling. They are now up against the question whether, if the miners persist in demands which in the ministerial judgment were unjust and unreasonable, they will endeavor to compel the mine owners to yield for the sake of the community.

They naturally shrink from taking so extreme a step, for once let it be admitted that the miners have only to ask in order to have and to be supported by the government in enforcing their demands, no matter how unjust they may be, and the whole nation lies enslaved before the Miners' union.

There is a cry in some quarters for the nationalization of the mines, but as the experience of New Zealand shows, strikes can take place in nationalized mines and the cost of production goes up when the mine is removed from the stimulation of stimulating private hands.

Demand for Coercion. On the other hand there is a demand in some quarters for vigorous means of coercion and it is noted with grim satisfaction that orders have been issued for every available man in the British army on Salisbury Plain to be armed and equipped ready for immediate action, cavalry infantry, artillery and engineers; but these measures of precaution cannot break the strike and even maintain a semblance of order when famine stricken mobs are looting London and the Chinese soldiers have been looting Tientsin.

It is idle to talk of importing coal. The Transport Workers' union have pledged themselves to treat coal as contraband of war as long as the strike lasts. The railroads will keep running a limited service to keep the stock of coal last. There are ominous rumors that the railway men will strike against the conveyance of soldiers to repress disorders.

What Might Be Expected. If the worst comes to worst, we may expect to witness scenes upon which the sun had not looked down since the commune of Paris. A starving nation knows no laws, respects no person. If there was food enough in the country the government might seize it and order might be preserved, but the supply of food depends upon the regular workings of the steamship and railway service and the continuous operation of public credit.

If it really comes to starvation, the famished people will hail as savior of society any strong handed man who will not hesitate to shoot, nor should it be surprised if at the end of a month every man known to be responsible for

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It

In the spring of 1909 I was attacked by muscular and inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to number of my friends afflicted and even bedridden with rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case. For many every sufferer from this form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. If after you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long looked for means of curing your rheumatism, you may send the price of $1.00, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

ASQUITH SAYS STRIKE MUST BE SETTLED IN WEEK AT ALL COSTS

London, March 2.—"The miners' strike must be settled within the next week at all costs." This was the announcement tonight of Premier Asquith, who prepared for a last desperate effort to bring the operators and employees together at a new conference on Monday. If negotiations fail it was said the government would take over and operate the mines until legislation was forced through parliament providing for a minimum wage scale for all underground workers.

Leaders of the miners laughed, however, at the threat to break the strike by the use of government employees.

They were believed to have received assurances from the railroad men that a sympathetic strike would be called if an attempt was made to transport government mined coal.

There is also grave danger that the railroads will refuse to man the trains to transport troops to the coal districts should rioting occur.

Although no violence was reported except in a few isolated districts, the entire regular army was held in readiness for action tonight.

It was announced that the soldiers could be entrained within two hours. The territorial guards can be mobilized in 12 hours and army engineers would run the trains if necessary.

The price of food stuffs continued to soar today. In anticipation of a further rise in prices, thousands of persons purchased enough supplies to last several days. Many stores were almost depleted and will be forced to suspend unless the railroads stopped curtailing freight shipments.

vote. Yet this system has produced three dark horses—Hayes, Garfield and Harrison—and four times has defeated the candidate who led on the first ballot with a plurality.

In '60 Seward had a plurality and was defeated by Lincoln. In '76 Blaine had a plurality, and was defeated by Hayes. In '80 Grant had a plurality, and was defeated by Garfield, while in '88 Sherman had the lead and was beaten by Harrison.

Contest for Bailey's Seat.

(Special to The Journal.)

Temple, Texas, March 2.—J. F. Wolters of Houston came to Temple today to formally open his campaign as a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Joseph W. Bailey. The recent withdrawal of Congressman Sheppard leaves the senatorial contest a three-cornered race between Wolters, Congressman Choate B. Randell of Sherman and Come-Johnson of Taylor. Notwithstanding the fact that state wide Prohibition has no direct bearing upon the senatorship, this question will be one of the chief issues of the campaign. It is the general opinion that the anti-Prohibition vote will be divided between Wolters and Randell. This may prove of benefit to Johnson, as he is the only Prohibitionist in the race.

London, March 2.—Queen Alexandra, who is suffering from influenza, today is reported to have suffered a relapse and is in a serious condition. King George was informed of his mother's illness and hurried to her bedside. Two physicians are in attendance.

Near Cottage Grove Barley Was Heading Late in January.

(Special to The Journal.)
Cottage Grove, Or., March 2.—This particular section of the famous, fertile, fruitful Willamette is making a new record this year. Volunteer grain is heading out. It is reported that some barley was headed out the last of January. Daffodils, crocuses, violets and several other varieties of garden flowers have been in bloom for 10 days. The fruit crop will probably be the earliest in the history of the valley if there are no frosts.

IMPORTANT ADDRESSES END W. C. T. U. SESSIONS

An address Friday night in Grace M. E. church by Mrs. Bessie Lathé Scoville, St. Paul, Minn., national organizer of the college department of the young people's branch of the W. C. T. Fight Over Moore Estate.

(United Press Special Wire.)

Redwood City, Cal., March 2.—With mother and stepson arrayed against each other, the fight for the $170,000 estate of John J. Moore, well known clubman, who was shot and killed in San Mateo, January 27, by S. R. Timothy, was begun here today. Moore cut off his widow with $1, leaving the bulk of his estate to his only son, Jefferson. There was much marital trouble between the Moores, each charging the other with cruelty and each seeking a divorce. The divorce was denied. Moore claimed that Mrs. Moore was in the automobile with Timothy the night the two men engaged in a pistol duel.

Mrs. Moore will seek a family allowance, pending the final distribution of the estate. She will fight the will on the ground that Moore was insane.

Texas' Independence Day.
(Special to The Journal.)
Austin, Texas, March 2.—The seventy-sixth anniversary of the declaration of Texas independence was observed as a public holiday throughout the state today. In 1821, Mexico achieved her independence from Spain and established a republican government. Bustamante, the usurping governor of Texas, prohibited further immigration from the United States, fearing that the white settlers would not be dominated as were the Mexicans. Santa Ana, with whom the colonists sided, overturned the constitution of 1824, and declared himself a dictator. The Texans continued their efforts for the observance of the Mexican constitution, but, goaded by tyrannical oppression, held a convention at Washington on the Brazos. On March 2, 1836, this convention declared the independence of Texas and began the drafting of her constitution. General Sam Houston was re-elected commander-in-chief of the Texas army and David G.

Burnet was made president of the new republic.

Bountiful, beautiful, apparel'd gay,
Whose mantle, every shade of glancing green,
Flies back in fragrant breezes to display
A tunic white as May!"
