All Portland Is Talking of the "Made-in-Oregon" Exposition

See "Kiser" Photos of Oregon

shown by stereopticon in a special auditorium on fifth floor tomorrow, 11 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Over a hundred beautiful new hand-colored subjects depicting Oregon's superb mountain scenery, rivers, lakes and seashore.
Plenty of seats—free, of course!

HOW many of you have ever seen an actual, full-size Woolen Loom in operation? Who of you ever visited a shirt or overall factory where busy hands guided the swiftly-driven machines to the completion of every detail? You'll see these and many more interesting manufacturing exhibits in the great "Made-in-Oregon" Exposition which has kept the Meier & Frank Store thronged since Monday morning.

Scattered from fifth floor to basement are the exhibits where tents, awnings, men's waterproof clothing, pennants, a mohair loom, mattresses, bed springs, trunks, women's hat frames, gas mantles, pottery, etc., are being made.

Come tomorrow—learn more about home industry—more about the goods made in Oregon for Oregonians.

An Added Note of Newness in Lace Trimmed Suits

SECOND FLOOR—MAIN BLDG.

CHIC—different! And there are scores of just such smart new models as the one sketched here—each distinctive and exclusive in its own particular style. The very last letter we received from our Paris office assured us authentically of the popularity of lace-finished, semi-tailored and afternoon suits.

Then, too, the clever little cutaways, short—and caught with 2 and 3 buttons. Skirts cut straight and narrow.

And the materials, as well as styles, were never more varied—never so smart—never more becoming than now. Whipcords—one of the favored of Spring materials, both plain and two-toned. Fine pressed and twilled serges, rich worsteds, hairline stripes, tweeds and imported weaves.

Models to suit every fancy and need. Severe mannish tailored styles, semi-tailored and dressy Suits for afternoon and visiting uses.

Come up to the second floor tomorrow and view the Suits that are fast filling the great ready-to-wear salons. Priced at from $15 to $85.

Investigate the "Willamette" Tomorrow!

IN THE midst of Spring sewing, a "Willamette" should be in every home! Think of the advantage of having a high-grade, easy running, efficient machine to turn to.

No better time to join the Willamette Sewing Machine Club than tomorrow—Pay only $2 at purchase and $1 a week.

The model 104 Willamette, illustrated, is equipped with latest improved style "C" automatic drophead. Beautiful serpentine design of fine quarter-sawed oak. With each machine we furnish a complete set of improved attachments.

Behind every Willamette Machine stands our iron-clad ten-year guarantee, during which time we agree to replace all defective parts excepting the wear and breakage of needles and shuttles—free of charge. Come in tomorrow and try for yourself this splendid Willamette Machine at $26.50. Remember our easy club plan of payment.
