

LAWRENCE OFFICER DOESN'T KNOW WHY STRIKERS JAILED

Wife of President Again Spectator at Washington Hearing; Her Interest Centers in Little Children.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, March 6.—Mrs. William Howard Taft, wife of the president of the United States, was again an interested spectator today when the story of Lawrence was continued before the house committee on rules. Although the Lawrence city officials had their inquiring today, the interest of Mrs. Taft, apparently, was centered in the 13 little children with the mark of toll stamped upon their pallid faces, who had come to Washington as living exhibits of the industrial war in the Lawrence textile mills.

The first witness today was Police Commissioner Lynch of Lawrence. He admitted that women and children had been jailed, adding that he "didn't know why."

He tried to minimize the affair by asserting that the women and children had been merely "detained and not arrested," but he was unable to give a reason even for their detention.

William D. Haywood, who is conducting the strike for the textile workers, arrived here today. He probably will testify concerning alleged police brutality and the causes which led 25,000 men, women and children to walk out in one of the bitterest strikes ever inaugurated in New England.

Admits Strikers Clubbed.
Admission that Lawrence strikers had been clubbed and bayoneted was made by John Sullivan, a captain of the Lawrence police. Sullivan's testimony came when Police Commissioner Lynch told the committee that if the strikers had been clubbed that Captain Sullivan was responsible for the order.

Commissioner Lynch told the committee that city officials tried to arrange a meeting between the strikers and the millowners to settle their differences. The strikers were willing, he said, but the operators refused to deal with the strikers except as individuals, Lynch said.

I saw the crowds storming the jail and asked the mayor to call out the militia. The children were prevented from leaving Lawrence because it was feared they would not be properly cared for," Commissioner Lynch admitted that he did not read the law under which the police were ordered to insist on the strikers giving a written consent to the removal of children. He added that if women and children were clubbed and arrested, Captain John Sullivan was responsible.

Sullivan then testified. He admitted that a 16-year-old boy had been bayoneted but declared that his injury was not serious. The strikers, he said, wrecked trolley cars and threw ice at passengers, adding that he and a companion clubbed some of the strikers to restore order. He insisted that such action was necessary.

Denies Women Clubbed.
Captain Sullivan was emphatic in his denial that women and children had been clubbed, despite the assertions of other witnesses. He also denied there was any violence on the day the children were taken to Philadelphia. Other witnesses had testified that children were forcibly torn from the arms of mothers and that women had been brutally clubbed when they attempted to regain possession of them. Sullivan explained that the boys and girls were prevented from leaving because the adults with them refused to say whether they were the parents of the children. Sullivan added:

"The children were not thrown about, but were picked up gently. The women offered no resistance. They wished to appear as martyrs."

Mrs. Taft appeared to take a great interest in the hearing. She was accompanied by her niece, a Miss Anderson. Throughout the day Mrs. Taft, who sat next to Congressman Victor Berger of Wisconsin, engaged the Socialist in conversation. Many fashionably dressed women attended today's meeting.

Shoots Self Through Head.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, March 6.—Ralph M. Knowlton, 35 years old, assistant manager of a downtown typewriter concern, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. The cause of the suicide is a mystery.

Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition.

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to more serious sickness, such as dreaded Bright's Disease. Local druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample bottle of Swamp-Root free by mail, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 60c and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

The upper picture shows a typical coal docking scene in England. On the left is a map, the dark spots indicating the area affected by the giant coal strike. The picture on the right of the map is that of Sir Reginald McKenna, the British home secretary, whose efforts to bring about an amicable settlement between the miners and their employers met with failure. Nearly a million miners are now out on strike.

DON'T BE AN IMITATOR

By Bert M. Moses, President Association of American Advertisers

Roughly speaking, I should say that more than half those who fail, do so because they try to imitate somebody who has succeeded, and this is particularly true in advertising.

Just the minute the word goes along the line that a man has succeeded in some advertising plan, that minute a dozen or a hundred imitators spring up. They try to copy his plans and imitate his packages, his advertisements, and his procedure generally.

They do not seem to understand that success is not so much a matter of plan or of copy or of medium, as it is a matter of personality, and sometimes even a matter of chance.

It is not given to the human family to look into the future far enough to see what the public is going to do, because the public is the most fickle thing on this earth.

A man who comes along and promotes something that the public "takes to" is heralded as a "wise guy," or a man with wonderful intuitive proclivities.

If he promotes something that the public rejects, he is set down as a fool, sometimes preceded by an adjective. I am willing to admit that one man can do a whole lot more than another, but I will not admit that any living human being can say in advance what any certain line of advertising or any certain article is going to surely do. We must simply take our chances.

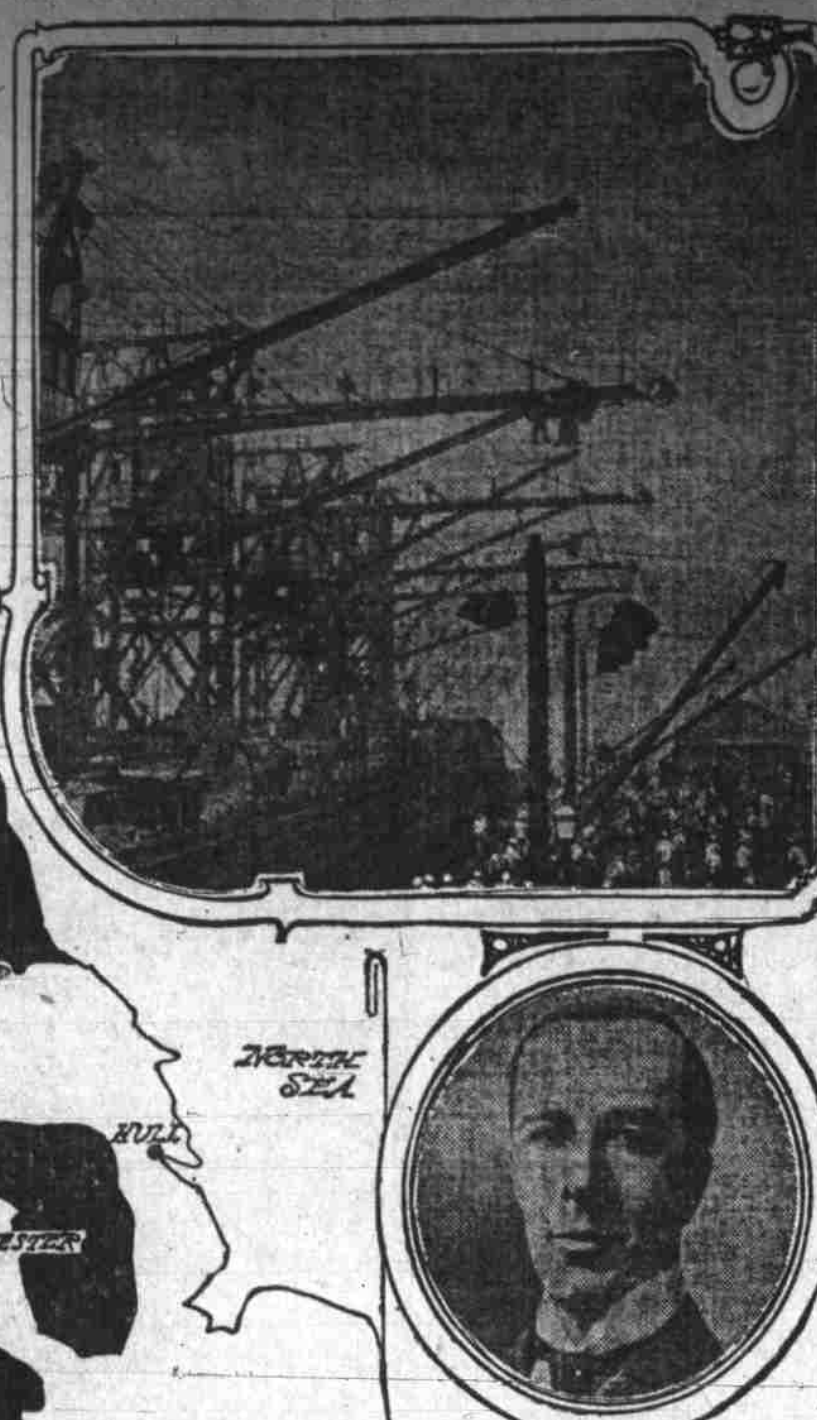

COUNTRY CLUB PLANNED ON CLACKAMAS RIVER

(Special to The Journal.)
Oregon City, March 6.—An option on two tracts on the Clackamas river has been obtained by Portland people who propose to establish a country club there. The property consists of a tract of 7½ acres owned by August Erickson and another of 37 acres controlled by W. W. Raymond of Walla Walla, located just across the road from the Erickson place. The Raymond place is large enough for a nine hole golf links.

Seek Clemency for Murderer.
Jefferson City, Mo., March 6.—A movement is under way to obtain a commutation of sentence in the case of Rex Rasco, the murderer of the Hubbell family, who is to be executed this month. Rasco's crime was one of the most atrocious in the criminal records of Missouri. His victims were Odell Hubbell and his wife and two children, who were found murdered in their home in Nodaway county on November 20, 1910. Suspicion pointed toward Rasco, who had served a prison term for one murder. Bloodhounds followed the trail to his home, where he was found in hiding. A bloody shotgun was found on the Rasco premises and the shoes of the suspected man fitted the tracks around the Hubbell home. He was tried at Maryville a year ago and found guilty. According to the evidence at the trial, a poker game in which Rasco lost heavily and Hubbell won furnished the motive for the quadruple killing.

RELIEF FOR BRITISH MILLIONS IN SIGHT; GOVERNMENT ACTS that the coal miners' leaders were seriously considering acceptance of the government's assurances of enacting a minimum wage law and returning to work.

The anxiety of the government to end the great strike is evidenced today by the feverish haste with which it is endeavoring to rush through the minimum wage bill. It is believed such a measure will be introduced in the house of commons tonight.

The suffering of the poor of London, already intense, was increased today. Food supplies have dwindled rapidly and many are suffering the pangs of hunger. If the strike continues but a few hours longer many will face starvation. In the poorer districts of London and other large cities, families, in desperation from the cold, are burning what little furniture they have in an effort to keep warm.

Great pressure is being brought to bear on the leaders of the miners by boards of other unions whose funds are drained, and who are urging the miners to accept the government's promises. Premier Asquith today is "trying" to persuade both sides to submit the questions at issue to Sir George Asquith for settlement.

Thousands of anti-riot insurance policies are being issued today by Lloyds. At a conference held this afternoon between Premier Asquith and the executive council of the miners, Asquith guaranteed that if the miners would return to work, parliament would pass a minimum wage bill, and that the men would gain all they demand.

Sale of Firearms Prohibited.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Berlin, March 6.—Fearing that the threatened strike of coal miners in Germany, which appears more than ever imminent, will be accompanied by violence, the government today prohibited the sale of firearms. The question of a general strike will be settled at a meeting tomorrow.

Formal demand was made by the coal miners today upon their employers for shorter hours and increased wages, as well as recognition of their union.

Scotland Hard Hit by Strike.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Glasgow, Scotland, March 6.—As a result of the great coal strike, business throughout Scotland is paralyzed today. Prices of bread soared today, and the poor faced starvation. Coastwise shipping has entirely ceased, and there are few passenger trains running.

ed with the hearings of the 200 suffragettes arrested. All those convicted were given sentences at hard labor, and detectives are seeking other leaders, against whom informations have been filed.

A United Press correspondent today tried to see Miss Alice Morgan Wright, an Albany, New York, heiress, who was sentenced to two months in Holloway prison, but the authorities held her incommunicado.

Miss Wright graduated from Smith college in 1904 and is now a famous sculptor. She will be compelled to scrub floors, clean windows, wash and iron clothing and make socks. She came to London Monday to take part in the window smashing and later told the proprietor of her hotel that she expected to be arrested.

MOURNING FOR FIFE ENDS; FETES TO BE RESUMED

(United Press Leased Wire.)
London, March 6.—The five weeks of court mourning for the Duke of Fife end today and the usual round of royal functions will be resumed.

Only two state functions were affected by the mourning period—the Thanksgiving service in St. Paul's, which was held on a less elaborate scale than originally proposed, and the opening of parliament, which was not accompanied by the usual spectacular features.
