

SUFFRAGISTS OUTLINE A CAMPAIGN PLAN

The regular meeting of the College Equal Suffrage league was held yesterday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A., President Mrs. Henry W. Cole, presiding.

Dr. Florence Mannion was elected financial secretary of the league. Mrs. Ehrigout outlined a tentative plan of campaign, including precinct work, automobile tour addresses, parlor meetings and dramatic propaganda. A letter from C. E. S. Wood, urging a campaign among the laboring classes and the socialists, was read.

After a motion to send a committee of three representatives to the forum of the Women's club to be held next Saturday afternoon had been defeated through the efforts of Mrs. Dr. M. D. Equi, Mrs. Equi, Miss Emma Wold and Mrs. C. E. Grelle were selected to attend the meeting merely as investigators.

The next regular meeting of the league will be held March 19, at a place to be decided upon later.

MONKS DIDN'T OPPOSE LIGHTING OF BRIDGES

"Owing to the fact that remarks made by Councilman Ralph C. Clyde at last week's session of the city council were attributed to me in a mistaken report," said Councilman Tom N. Monks last night, "many of my friends believe that I opposed the ordinance appropriating $15,000 for the lighting of the bridges.

"This is certainly not the case. I voted for the ordinance and I was in favor of any legislation that will help to make Portland a 'city beautiful.' The article in which my name appeared stated that I was opposed to the lighting of the bridges as long as there were suburbs clamoring in vain for more street lights. This was the statement made by Councilman Clyde."

LAFFERTY'S BILL GIVES SECRETARY NEW POWER

Washington, D. C., March 6.—Representative Lafferty has introduced a bill authorizing the secretary of the interior to regulate the desert land laws for lands within the national forest limits. Lafferty has also introduced a bill directing that expenditure of the reclamation fund be made, preferably in the states that have contributed more than they have received.

Fooled By The Froth

The Public Has Spent Millions to Look at Some Foam.

At this day and age it seems a queer thing to say, but it is nevertheless a fact that the good old peroxide of hydrogen is a good deal of a fake.

Peroxide had a great vogue because it foams (when it is fresh) and on that slim foundation millions of money has been spent for it. But champagne has it beaten to a frazzle for foaming, yet no one has ever used champagne as a medicine to kill germs.

The fact is that peroxide has a very little antiseptic value even when it is fresh. You should buy it every time you use it. After it has been opened a few times it is just as good as water—no more, for any purpose.

The reason for the great use of peroxide was because it was not as poisonous as carbonic acid, iodine, etc. And people were tired of hearing of thousands of deaths resulting from their being around the house. Thanks now to the discovery of BENETOL, a real, non-poisonous and forever permanent germicide, the people can have a real protection against infection in their homes.

Benetol was discovered in the University of Minnesota, by its professor in charge of the chemistry department, who then resigned that he might devote his time to instructing the world in the new science of protection against disease. He has succeeded so well that it is being taken as a medicine in far off Russia to prevent and eradicate cholera, and in India as an application to heal the sores of leprosy.

Call on Perkins hotel pharmacy and get a bottle, and learn the hundreds of uses of Benetol internally and externally.
