Cross-Examination of Receiver M. B. Kies by-Defense Takes Most of Forenoon; "Value" Witnesses to Follow.

(Special to The Journal.) Kalama, Wash, March 11.—Cross-examination of Receiver M. B. Kles by the defense occupied most of this fore-noon in the trial of H. C. Phillips, president of the closed Commercial bank of Vancouver. Judge A. S. Bennett, for the defense, endeavored to bring out in detail the methods of Kies in handling the assets, which showed on paper just after closing of the bank. December 18, 1910, to be worth $40,000 more than the liabilities. The object was to establish their real value, Kies having testified to the alleged worthlessness of most of them, such as the Moore & Hardin, Rector & Daly, Aldrich and other large but badly secured notes.

Re-direct examination by the state began shortly before noon, and ended early this afternoon. Witnesses on values of the assets are to follow, practically all the remainder of the state's testimony to consist of this class of evidence. amination of Receiver M. B. Kies by Ex-Mayor Harry Lane to Advocate the Adoption of Benbow Short Charter: Meetings to Be Held; Addresses.

Ex-Mayor Harry Lane and W. C. Benoow have inaugurated a campaign for outting the merits of pure commission government before the people. Lane will deliver the first of a series of addresses on commission plan government in the fire hall at Albina avenue and Kil-lingsworth avenues this evening. He annouces his intention to advocate the adoption of the Benbow short charter. Ten thousand copies of the Benbow charter have been printed. They will be distributed at the meetings which are to be held in various parts of the city. The announced purpose of the distribution is to give the people opportunity to learn for themselves the provision of the proposed charter.

The Benbow short charter, it is pointed out, is organic and constitutional, while the charters of the people's and Simon committees are legislative. Broad General Grant. The Benbow charter proposes a broad general grant of power to a commission of five members in the administration of the affairs of the city, giving them quite full authority with a few limitations and making them personally sub-ject to recall and their acts to the referendum, if not popularly approved. The Benbow charter provides for the use of the preferential system of selecting of-ficials, which many authorities believe is so difficult of popular understanding that it will not be approved. The Benbow charter is short. The charters produced by the two committees are long and they specify, each, the powers and limitations of the commission in its administration of city business. All commission charters proposed for Portland so far provide full publicity for the acts tained in a letter of transmissal to the The judges of the contest were Promayor and city council signed by the fessors Brainard and Matthews of Payfollowing members of the people's committee, dissenting from the majority report: Harry Lane, William C. With What Official Shall Nominating Petitions Be Filed Is the Question.

With what official must the congress onal candidates from the Third Oregon district, which comprises Multno mab county only, file their nominating petitions?

The foregoing question is one that sust be determined within the next few days by the four candidates now in the race for a sent in congress. According to one interpretation of the primary law, the petition should be filed with the secretary of state. According to the other opinion, the petition should be filed with the county clerk of Multnomah county.

A. W. Lafferty, now representing this district, and Raiph Clyde, Republican candidate for nomination, have filed their petitions with Secretary of State Judge C. U. Gantenbein and George S. Shepherd, also candidates for nomina-tion, filed their petitions with County Clerk Fields. Judge Gantenbein, however, filed a petition with the state of-ficial in order to be sure his name goes on the ballot. The law on this point is found in tion 3360 and reads as follows:

"All nominating petitions and notices pertaining to state or district offices to be voted for in more than one county and for judges of the circuit court and district attorney, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state; for county offices and district offices to be voted for in one county only, shall be filed with the county clerk."

Since the Third congressional district consists of Multnomah county only, it is contended by Judge Gantenbein and Attorney Shepherd that the petition should be filed with County Clerk Fleids. Congressman Lafferty and Raiph Clyde have not expressed their ty, and 600 people from different parts views on the matter, but filed with the understanding that their petitions should go to the state official. Petitions of each of the four candi-dates were filed no later than last Saturday evening in order to allow them space in the state election pamphlet. The opinion has been advanced that Clyde and Congressman Lafferty have to circulate new petitions to be filed with County Clerk Fields. The ing on the primary ballot is April 3.

Dr. C. E. Cline read a paper on the "Decline of Present Day Religious Sentiment." Dr. Cline took rather a pessimistic view of modern religions. He declared that the intellectual standar of religion is higher today than it has ever been; that the devotional standaries also on a better plane but the first plane but the is also on a higher plane, but that from the viewpoint of feeling and emotion religion has lost greatly in the past half a century. He said:

SMOGRAPHS SHOW

"We recognize a widespread decline of religious sentiment or readiness of response in the minds of men to a call to the religious life. This is the result largely of the intervening time between the theophany of the Old Testsment and partly because of a wider knowledge of the laws of creation and the government of the universe for the government of the universe, for-merly attributed directly to God himself. It is also caused in part by the general prosperity and security brought to men of our day through Christianity and the freedom of disaster."
