

IS OPPOSED TODAY; FEARS OF ENIGMATIC SLAVERS' NOMINATIONS TO BE MADE THIS AFTERNOON; DIFFICULTY IN FILLING PLACES; OLD PARTIES COME IN FOR SCORING.

Permanent Officers Elected. At this afternoon's session L. T. Pennington, president of Pacific college, Newberg, was elected permanent chairman. O. A. Clutterham, Portland, was made permanent secretary, and Curtis A. Coe, McMinnville, assistant secretary.

With several hundred delegates in attendance, the prohibition state convention organized at the Taylor street M. E. church this morning by the election of Dr. C. C. Pollock as the report of the chairman, and Curtis A. Coe of McMinnville as temporary secretary.

Nominations are in order this afternoon, after reports have been made by the committee on credentials and nominations. Nominations will be made for each of the three districts, and state and district officers that are to be filled at the coming election.

Secures Old Parties. An address by W. P. Elmors of Brownville was a feature of the morning session. He raked the old parties and declared that a remedy for present conditions regarding the liquor traffic can only be found by voting the prohibition ticket.

J. P. Newell, chairman of the Multnomah county committee, called the convention to order, and Rev. Samuel Dunkin of Baker led in prayer. Then the delegates chose the temporary officers and listened to songs by R. G. Miller of Salem. "Make Your Ballot Talk That Way" and "The Walls of Sin Are Coming Down" were the titles of the songs.

Committees were appointed as follows: Credentials—W. E. Critchlow of Portland, A. W. Silsby of Ashland and H. J. Nott of McMinnville.

Case Is Closed. Mr. Elmors, in his speech told of the case of four boys of Brownville, all under age, who became intoxicated on two bottles of whiskey obtained by two of their number in Portland. He came to Portland with the boys and made complaint, he said, in the case. The case went to the circuit court the defendant pleaded guilty. Then the judge took the question of sentence under advisement, he said, and he never heard of it again.

Mrs. Mary Wallace Urush suggested that J. Frank Burke, the anti-saloon league champion, should give attention to conditions at Kenton if he can remedy violations of the law under license and local option. She said complaints came in that two saloons there are selling liquor to a man who is habitually drunk and abuses his family. When the case was reported to the chief of police, she said, the chief said he would do the best he could, but was afraid nothing could be accomplished.

Financial Committee. A committee of four was named to look after the financial details of the campaign. It consists of Professor Harry Sheak of the Philomath theological college, Julius Voget of Salem, Professor Howell Isaac of Ashland and George I. Cleaver of Le Grand.

Forceful Lecturer to Talk on Socialism. Frank Dixon of Chicago will deliver a lecture Friday evening, March 15, at the Central Christian church, Salmon and Twentieth streets, on the subject, "The Man Against the Mass, or the Threat of Socialism." This will be the last lecture of the church's 1911-1912 Lyceum course. Mr. Dixon is a brother of Thomas Dixon, author of "The Leopard's Spots." He comes recommended as a very interesting and forceful lecturer.

Candidate for District Attorney Pleaded That Record Brings Him Enemies.

Walter H. Evans, United States assistant district attorney, who is seeking the Republican nomination for district attorney of Multnomah county, is taking leave of absence from the United States attorney's office, and will devote his entire time to the promotion of his candidacy. His last official act on leaving the office was to take the plea of a white slave.

It has been discovered that there are places in Portland where white slave slavers make their headquarters, so that if arrested under the city ordinance they may call upon the proprietors of such places to testify that they have employment. Another discovery made in the investigation of a similar case is that a majority of these slavers terrify their victims by threats of prosecution and deportation, as most of the slavers and their victims are foreigners.

High Testimonial. Mr. Evans considered this a high testimonial. "I can conceive of no greater good that might be accomplished by a district attorney than that of driving this criminal class from the city," he said.

There are two classes of individuals that I shall take especial pleasure in prosecuting when elected to office: First, the bribe-taking, graft-soliciting official, and second, the man who lives off the earnings of a woman. But no man who is conducting a legitimate business or following a lawful vocation need have any fear of my method of conducting the office. Every vocation or business is entitled to all the protection that the law affords so long as it is conducted in a lawful manner, but no vocation or business is entitled to any protection when it transgresses the law.

ICE PLANT AT GRANTS PASS DESTROYED; FIRE

Grants Pass, Or., March 13.—The Grants Pass Cold Storage and Ice company's plant was practically destroyed by fire last night. Fire was discovered about 11 o'clock, the flames bursting out of the roof of the engine room. The engine and all machinery is a total loss. Part of the cold storage rooms and ten tons of ice were saved. The property was valued at about $15,000, with insurance of $6000. T. P. Burchard, owner, says he will rebuild as soon as possible. The plant was built in 1905 by E. L. Cass. It was sold to Mr. Burchard two years ago.

WITNESS COULD TALK "BETTER STANDING UP"

"I can talk better standing than sitting," said Mrs. C. A. Hanna this morning to Judge Morrow of the circuit court where the woman is suing Davenport Bros., produce merchants, for $1,000 damages. Mrs. Hanna was called to tell her side of the case. She was asked several questions by Attorney Westbrook, and in answering arose to her feet.

AUTOMATIC "IMMUNITY BATH" IS LATEST PLEA

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, March 13.—The early hours of today's session of the sugar trust trial were devoted to identifying documents to be used in the prosecution of the trust heads. Arguing that most of these letters and documents were voluntarily furnished by the trust's lawyers will declare that thus the heads of the concern have been automatically granted an "immunity bath." They will attack the validity of the indictments on this ground.

ALLEGED OPIUM VENDORS ARRESTED

Jane Doe Wow, a Chinese woman, who was to have been tried this afternoon on a charge of disposing of contraband opium, pleaded guilty to the charge this morning through her attorney, in the office of United States District Attorney McCourt, and was fined $50. The woman was arrested several months ago in a local joint, and a quantity of opium and smoking apparatus was found in her possession. At the time of her arrest she was in the company of a woman who left there by her husband, who had recently died, and that she knew nothing about it.

(Special to The Journal.) Huntington, Or., March 13.—The 17 elk from Jackson Hole, Wyo., which are being transported under supervision of State Game Warden Finley to the Walla Walla national forest, reached Huntington shortly before noon and proceeded westward. In the morning they will be in La Grande. They are in reasonably good condition. All along the line the novel importation has been the object of keen interest, several hundred people gathering at the larger stations.

CITY REFUNDS 73 CENTS TO JUDGE GANTENBEIN

Judge C. U. Gantenbein is 73 cents richer today by reason of the city council having passed an ordinance refunding him that amount, an over payment on a street assessment. This is one of the smallest warrants ever authorized by the city council.

CANDIDATES SPEAK

Dr. Harry Lane, candidate for the Democratic nomination of United States senator, and Assistant City Attorney Benbow, who is a candidate for a place on the circuit court bench, were the principal speakers yesterday evening at the Piedmont Presbyterian church, where the Benbow short charter for commission form of government was the chief issue. Dr. Lane told the people of the needs of a commission form of government, speaking largely from his experience as mayor. Attorney Benbow worked out the charter under discussion. He explained its operation, and especially of the limitations on the commissioners. Attorney George Shepherd and Thomas Greens were other speakers, both emphasizing the need of a commission form of government.

EQUITABLE LANDS NOT LOST TO BUYER

Supreme Court Requires Trustee to Give Wright His Share in Deal.

(Special to The Journal.) Salem, Or., March 13.—In a decision written by Judge McBride of the supreme court, and handed down yesterday afternoon, the decision of the circuit court for Yamhill county is sustained in the case of C. T. Wright against Richard Chilcott and J. S. Anderson, appellants. The suit involved the plaintiff's equity in certain lands on which he had taken options and made a payment of $1000. Wright entered into an agreement with Chilcott for the latter to furnish the money to complete the purchase of the lands, which were to be sold to a holding corporation and placed on the market. After the land was purchased Chilcott refused to turn it over to a corporation and refused to recognize Wright's interest in the land.

Why Bread Should Be Wrapped

Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, the wife of the famous Pure Food Expert, is the author of an article of vital interest on this subject in The Sunday Journal of March 10th.

Mrs. Wiley is President of the Housekeepers' Alliance of Washington, D. C., an organization that is making an exhaustive study of sanitation and domestic economics.

The result of her researches shows that the wrapped loaf is the only sanitary package—also that wrapped loaves keep fresh more than twice as long as the unwrapped loaves. The average consumption of bread is shown to be 300 loaves a year per capita.

Can you risk the health of your families—can you afford to miss the dainty cleanliness to be had in the wrapped loaf when it is to be had at no greater cost?

Blue Ribbon Bread

—Meets the demand for purer food—for greater cleanliness—for a better and more sanitary package.

The waxed wrapper gives the loaf absolute protection from all contaminating influences while in transit from the oven to your table—and keeps it fresh and moist until the last crumb is used.

If the question of sanitation and cleanliness in bread is worthy of such an exhaustive investigation by this huge organization—surely it's worth while for you to look into it to the extent of trying the first loaf.

We'll be glad to make our bread prove every statement—to show you the advantage of cleanliness—to prove that it's better than you can bake yourself, and that it costs no more—for the big wrapped loaves are DOUBLE SIZE.
