

PROHIBITION PARTY NAMES ITS TICKET; RAPTS. ROOSEVELT

Drys Select Their Men to Head Ticket in Oregon; Platform Adopted; Money for the Campaign.

The Prohibition party landed both feet in the ring yesterday afternoon, when the state convention of cold water men at the Taylor street M. E. church nominated a full state ticket, adopted a platform and listened to speeches that breathed defiance to all other political parties.

At a meeting last night Eugene W. Chaffin, the nominee for president four years ago, declared that if Roosevelt keeps going as he has started he will "die a drunkard." He said Roosevelt's only brother died a drunkard, but that was not enough for him, and "Teddy" would rather hold office than help destroy what destroyed his brother. He defined Roosevelt as a "goose" and an "ass," and said he drinks too much red wine.

$15,400 Raised.
It was announced that $15,400 has been raised for the present Prohibition campaign in Oregon. E. E. Taylor, the state secretary, said $15,000 is needed to fight the liquor evil. The ticket nominated is as follows:

C. J. Bright, C. Cochran and T. L. Childers were named as a committee to see that conventions are held and candidates nominated for district offices in the Second congressional district.
Death Penalty.
Controversy arose over a plank in the platform favoring the abolition of the death penalty for crime. An amendment was proposed merely favoring submission of the question to the voters. This was voted down, 81 to 61. Then on motion of R. Lee Paget, the troublesome plank was stricken from the platform altogether.

The platform, after declaring allegiance to the national Prohibition party, and declaring for a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture, sale or transportation of alcoholic liquor for any except mechanical purposes, reads as follows:
Election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.
The support of the general government by a system of direct taxation.
Establishment of universal peace by arbitration, instead of an armed neutrality.

The establishment of nonpartisan boards of arbitration for the settlement of disputes between labor and capital, whose members shall serve without pay other than for necessary expenses, their decisions to be final.

HOON DAWG SONG AS APPLIED TO T. R.

Oyster Bay's Poet Bursts Forth into Song and Re- joices Exceeding Much.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 14.—Billows of undidled joy rock Oyster Bay now that Theodore Roosevelt, the town's first citizen, is back in the limelight. Citizens have paraphrased the "Hoon" dawg" song until it reads now:
"Billy Taft, you gotta quit kickin' our Teddy's hat aroun."
The town poet is "kicked" with recent political developments that he has burst into song and the editor of the Oyster Bay Pilot thought so well of the verse that he published it in full. It follows:
"There's joy today in Oyster Bay,
The town is gay, with pride it is extended.
The long suspense, the strain intense,
By Teddy has been ended.
Old Beverly is bound to be Back number, see, should Teddy rule the nation.
Along Main street there's joy complete,
Each one you meet is shouting—well,
it's Teddy!"

RAIL, WATER MEN SHOULD HARMONIZE

Addressing the Transportation club at its weekly luncheon at the Imperial hotel today, W. S. Smallwood, manager of the Open River Transportation company, spoke of the big problems that will face the railroad companies upon the opening of the Panama canal, and predicted the necessity of sweeping rearrangements of traffic matters in general.
He expressed his opinion that the greatest general good will come from harmony between the rail and water interests, since both are here to stay. He explained that there are shipments that can be handled to better advantage by water, others again by rail, and he said he regards it poor business to attempt to describe themselves or the public in such instances.
Mr. Smallwood also touched on the establishment of a steamship line between Portland and Alaska, saying that it is to the interests of the railroads centering in Portland to give such a line every support possible.

Mr. Smallwood was the principal speaker, brief remarks in support of the ideas he expressed being voiced by F. W. Graham, industrial agent of the Great Northern; William K. Martin, of the anchor line, Detroit, Mich.; Captain A. B. Graham, manager of the Oregon City Transportation company, and Thomas K. Knight, a visiting engineer of the Rock Island road, from Fort Worth, Texas. Other speakers were F. D. Hunt, general manager of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, and R. Ernberger, manager of the railroad department of the Mount Hood Railway & Power company. Mr. Ernberger extended an invitation to the club to take a ride on the company's line under the management of the company. The invitation was accepted with thanks and the party will leave Montavilla at 9 a. m. on the above mentioned day, accompanied by their families.
E. L. Cardie of the Rock Island road was chairman at today's meeting. Dorsey B. Smith will have charge of the program at next week's meeting. A large number of new members were enrolled today. The charter will close March 21.

COGNAC SHIPPER ATROPHY DIES IN LEGISLATIVE RACE

Three Others Fatally Wounded by Mutineers, Who Blow Locks With Dynamite; Mil- lita Hastens to Penitentiary

Lincoln, Neb., March 14.—Besides killing Warden Delahanty and Guards Hellman, Wagner and Dooey, the convict mutineers at the Nebraska state penitentiary this afternoon, fatally wounded Guard Beebe and two other penitentiary officers.
Two companies of militia this afternoon are hastening from here to the penitentiary through the worst blizzard of years. At the penitentiary mutineers are being held in cell rooms by wall guards armed with Winchester, and no one dares to enter the yard until the troops arrive.
When the mutiny occurred three convicts in some way had secured dynamite. They blew the locks of their cells and attacked Guard Hellman, whom they knocked down, and taking his revolver, shot him to death. Another guard was then attacked and his revolver secured. As the warden and the other guards rushed into the cell room from the office the convicts opened fire, and nearly every one of the guards in the rush went down. It is not believed possible that the convicts can escape before the arrival of the troops, but it is believed a desperate battle will follow the attempt by the militia to enter the convicts' stronghold.
When the convicts were seen to be determined to hold their positions, wall guards armed with rifles and shot guns drove them back into a cell room.
Lincoln was notified by telephone of the mutiny and a squad of police in high powered automobiles started for the penitentiary. Two companies of militia also were assembled and are proceeding to the scene, under the command of the adjutant general of Nebraska.

BOY SAVES OWN LIFE BY A HEROIC LEAP

J. Richter, 22 years old, living on Portland Heights, made a real and spectacular leap for life this morning, a feat he would probably not care to perform again, no matter what inducement might be offered him.
Workmen were employed in felling a tree on a vacant lot on Elm street, between Nineteenth and Chapman streets, when the rope tied to the top of the tree, with which the tree was to be pulled over, became detached. In a quandary as to what to do to get it in place again, the tree being so nearly ready to fall that no one of the workmen cared to risk himself in its top, it was suggested that Richter do the "heroic" leap, which he was fortunate in accomplishing, and climbed quickly to the tree top.
As he was preparing to tie the rope again, a slight breeze came up, and this, together with the added weight in the tree, caused it to sway and topple. Richter, realizing his precarious position, acted quickly and jumped for an adjoining tree, which he was fortunate in landing in. After a series of acrobatic evolutions he straightened himself out, and made his way to the ground again unharmed.
The felled tree was about 120 feet high, and two feet or more thick at the base. As it crashed to the ground it broke through telephone wires, broke branches from adjoining trees and created havoc in general.
Young Richter was unable to realize what a hero he was until the workmen congratulated him on his narrow escape.
