

LEGISLATURE JOBS ARE BEING SOUGHT BY 22 CANDIDATES

One Half of Them Are Lawyers; C. N. McArthur and A. L. Sauvie Are Latest Aspirants; List Is Given.

Two names were added yesterday to the list of aspirants for the legislature from Multnomah county. Particular interest attaches to the announcement of C. N. McArthur, a former speaker, who will ask for another term as representative after being one term out of office. The other new candidate is A. L. Sauvie, a clerk in the tax collection department of the sheriff's office. McArthur is suspected of having designs on the speakership again.

There are now 22 candidates in the field for members of the lower branch of the legislature. Eleven, or just half, are lawyers. There are 12 seats to be filled. There are two candidates for joint representative from Clackamas and Multnomah counties and 11 for the state senate. W. O. Powell, who had filed his declaration as a candidate for the senate, has withdrawn. Five state senators are to be chosen.

Following are the candidates, all Republicans, for legislative positions from Multnomah county:

For the State Senate.

- Dan Kellaher, incumbent, grocer, 672 Clackamas.
- Robert F. Farrell, ex-representative, commission business, 705 Lovejoy.
- T. L. Perkins, dentist, 105 East Fifteenth.
- George W. Caldwell, lawyer, 504 East Twenty-second, north.
- Gus C. Moser, lawyer, 353 Thirtieth.
- E. E. Covert, lawyer, 825 Johnson.
- George M. Hyland, real estate, 625 Halsey.
- William A. Storey, ex-sheriff, real estate, 427 Twenty-first, north.
- Michael J. Clohesy, real estate, Hotel Seward.
- Charles W. Hodson, former state senator, real estate, 1999 Thurman.
- Boon Cason, lawyer, 695 Umatilla.

For Representative.

- John H. Nolte, real estate, 1165 Haight avenue.
- Conrad P. Olson, lawyer, 25 East Fifty-second, north.
- A. L. Dundas, lawyer, 245 Glenn.
- Edwin G. Amme, incumbent, consulting engineer, 467 East Fifty-second, north.
- A. M. Brunswick, collector, 554 Main.
- Arthur I. Moulton, lawyer, 930 East Caruthers.
- C. N. McArthur, lawyer, speaker at the session of 1909.
- A. L. Sauvie, clerk in tax collection department, 420 Wasco.
- Jay H. Upton, lawyer, 246 E. Thirty-second.
- R. C. Rector, member city executive board, carpenter, 975 Gladstone.
- Michael J. Murnane, member city executive board, steam engineer, 324 Mississippi.
- Arthur W. Lawrence, secretary Central Labor council, printer, 1391 Burroughs.
- George Rossman, lawyer, 546 East Sixteenth, north.
- Joseph J. Fitzsimmons, special policeman, 471 Morrison.
- Louis G. Carpenter, former city detective, 972 East Stark.
- R. B. Lucas, real estate, 172 Monroe.
- Harold A. Wilkins, lawyer, 527 East Forty-fifth, north.
- C. A. Applegren, lawyer, 266 Broadway.
- W. Irving Spencer, secretary of tool manufacturing company, 375 Larrabee.
- Claude E. Hicks, lawyer, 405 Tacoma.
- Henry McConnell, lawyer, 4916 Sixty-fifth, southeast.
- John R. Latourette, lawyer, 444 Almsworth avenue.
- W. H. Chatten, incumbent, printing business, Rock Spur.
- David E. Lofgren, lawyer, 259 Broadway.

"FIGHTING CAT" IS MISSING FROM HIS HOME IN POSTOFFICE

Jack Johnson, the fighting cat of the Portland postoffice, who drew a monthly pay check from the United States government and regularly "drank up" the proceeds like the swaggarer he was at heart, is missing, and his absence has left an aching void in the breasts of his friends on the janitor force that cannot be filled. Sometime last Thursday night Jack left the only home he has ever known, in the basement of the postoffice building, for the first time in his life, and he has not returned.

It will be two years ago in July that Tom Blackwell, head janitor, picked up Jack, a well-fed, hungry kitten, off the street and made him at home. Since then Jack has never willingly seen the light of day, for he resisted bitterly with claws and teeth every effort to take him from his quarters. His fighting proclivities and his color, black as the heart of the fiercest villain of the melodrama, save for a white spot on his nose, won him his name.

He carried a perpetual chip on his shoulder, and could box like a ring expert.

Jack's activity as a mouser won him official recognition from the postoffice department at Washington. Every month he drew $1.25, which was duly invested in bills. His friends of the janitor force offer a reward for his return.

Gold Ring Keeps Man in Jail.

(United Press Local Wire.)
Los Angeles, March 16.—Because he refused to surrender a plain gold ring his wife had given him the day of their marriage, Guy A. Sellers, a tailor, is confined in the county jail here to await a change in heart. Justice Young ordered Sellers to give the ring in part payment for a small judgment returned against him.—He refused.

An officer was led away to jail he cried cheerily to his wife: "Take good care of the babies, Stella."
"I surely will, keep the ring, Gus; I'll get along fine," Mrs. Sellers smiled and kissed her husband good-bye.
