

GIVES AUTO TO HUMANE SOCIETY

A. Berg Makes Donation; Robert Tucker Reelected President; Plans Outlined.

That the sufferings of sick and injured animals may be lessened and prompt care and attention given to their ailments where treatment is possible, a gift of an automobile, fully equipped with veterinary's instruments and medicines and arranged to be used as an emergency ambulance for small beasts, was made to the Oregon Humane society by A. Berg of Portland, former president of the society, at its annual meeting in the city hall Tuesday night.

The automobile will be kept ready to respond to telephone calls and bring relief to animals that have been hurt. It is especially designed to give emergency treatment to injured horses.

At the annual election of the society, Robert Tucker was reelected president unanimously. The other officers chosen, most of them being reelected, were: Vice president, Mrs. F. W. Berry; secretary, Mrs. Carolyn Shanahan Mayes; treasurer, Raymond G. Jubitz; trustees, E. D. Curtis, E. J. Jaeger, Mrs. A. L. Klingenberg, Otto J. Kraemer, J. L. Shipley, Emma J. Walty, Rev. Dr. J. D. Corby and Mrs. Frank W. Swanton; advisory board, Mrs. Winslow E. Ayer, William C. Bristol, John F. Carroll, Mrs. Abigail Scott Dunaway, Rev. Dr. T. L. Elliot, Mrs. Jessie M. Honeyman, Mrs. E. S. Jackson, William M. Ladd, E. L. Thompson, Gay Lombard, W. P. Olds, Edgar B. Piper, Joseph Simon, Bishop Charles Scadding, J. N. Teal, Rev. Dr. Jonah B. Wise, Judge Charles E. Wolverton and Albert Cowperthwaite.

J. E. Ruedersdorf of Spokane, an experienced humane officer, the new manager, made a few interesting remarks and his work was highly commended.

Several societies from other parts of Oregon were represented, the Salem society having Colonel E. Hofer in attendance.

It was decided to wage a vigorous campaign for branch societies throughout the state, with the aim of securing humane education in the schools. This is now compulsory in 12 states, and it is the intention to add Oregon to the list.

Funds were provided for medals to be awarded school children writing the best essays on humane subjects.

The society is in healthy financial condition. Several bequests were received in the past year, one of $5000 being provided in the will of Mrs. Holmes of this city. Fines for cruelty to animals amounted to $500, and several persons were sent to the reformatory. President Tucker prosecuted these cases himself.

CANDIDATE WORKS FOR BETTERMENT OF CITY

R. W. Montague.

Richard W. Montague, long prominent in legal and civic affairs in Portland, has become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state senator. His petition is being circulated and will be filed in time to place his name on the ticket for the primaries.

Mr. Montague has shown public spirit in numerous movements for civic betterment, has been active in the fight for Democratic principles, and has been a consistent advocate of the laws establishing popular rule in Oregon. He was an active member of the committee chosen to frame a commission form of government, and acted with William F. Lord in compiling and revising the latest code, known as Lord's Oregon laws.

His wide legal experience and activity in public affairs are pointed to by his friends as particularly strong qualifications for a seat in the upper house of the state's lawmakers. His formal declaration is practically identical with that of other Democratic candidates for the senate, declaring his fealty to the Oregon system of laws and pledging himself to work for an economical and efficient administration of the state's affairs.

Mr. Montague's announcement makes a complete list of Democrats on the ticket for the state senate. The others are W. L. Page, J. Woods Smith, John C. Welch and Frank Schlegel.

WOULD RAISE FUND FOR PROTECTION OF ELK

The Elks lodge in the eastern part of Oregon are taking much interest in the herd of elk which was recently placed in the Wallowa forest reserve, according to State Game Warden Finley, who has just returned after spending several days in looking after the transportation of the animals from St. Anthony, Idaho, to Billy Meadows, in the forest reserve. The Elks lodge at La Grande has started a movement to get the other lodges in the state, to contribute towards a fund of $6000, which will be used in paying for permanent protection of elk in Oregon. This fund will also be contributed to by many business men in eastern Oregon.

The different lodges are to be instrumental in assisting the state game officials in gathering evidence against persons who kill elk. The season for killing of elk is closed in this state until 1913.

"Many difficulties were encountered by the men in charge of the herd," said Mr. Finley this morning. "Many times while transporting the animals from Joseph to Billy Meadows, it was necessary to dig our way through the snow. In some places the snow was six to eight feet in depth, making it necessary to use a large block and tackle to assist the horses which were drawing the sleds, carrying the elk."

SEEKING FAVORS OF CO. COMMISSIONERS

Five delegations called upon the county board of commissioners yesterday asking favors. The first delegation this morning was from Pleasant Home. It wanted the board to improve a road from Pleasant Home to Gresham. Crushed rock is what the people want, and the commissioners readily agreed with them.

Next came a delegation from the vicinity of Rockford. A new schoolhouse is being built in that neighborhood, and a road is needed. Gravel is what the people out there want on the new road, and the county board agreed to the proposition.

A delegation from Lents asked the county commissioners to consider a proposition of turning over an abandoned six acre gravel pit, to Lents for a playground. Among those in the delegation were Rev. W. Boyd Moore, Dr. C. E. Moreland, Mrs. O. E. Lent, Leo Katakay, Dr. David Nelson, L. E. Body, Father Beutgen and W. E. Hatchel. The Parents club and Lents Progressive club recently decided to have a "cleanup" day. This event took place last Saturday. On that date all the men, women and children available were organized for the work. Their efforts were exceedingly successful. The delegation was assured this morning by the county board that Lents would be first considered in the gravel pit matter.

A delegation from the vicinity of Troutdale asked that the county improve Sandy Road with crushed rock. Sidney Smith, owner of a rock quarry, headed the delegation. He told the board he could supply rock cheaper than the county could do so at the county quarries. The delegates urged the county to complete a crushed rock road from St. Johns to Troutdale. This matter was taken under advisement.

A number of men in the vicinity of Latourelle Falls favored having the Hood River road changed to run around the hill at Latourelle Falls. There is some opposition to this change, so the court decided to appoint viewers and give a public hearing on the matter.

TO DISCUSS LIBRARY SITE THIS EVENING

W. F. Woodward and other members of the library board will explain to the members of the Greater Portland Plans association meeting tonight in the convention hall of the Commercial club why the new central library was located on the block bounded by Tenth, Eleventh, Yamhill and Taylor streets. Arguments in favor of relocating the library on a site facing one of the park blocks in conformity with the Greater Portland plan will be presented by Joseph Jacobberger, chairman of the public buildings committee, and George M. Hyland, chairman of the Rotary club's Greater Portland committee.

The Greater Portland Plans association has now a larger membership than any other organization in the city, totaling about 4000. The meeting tonight is the regular monthly session of the association, and important committee reports are expected in addition to the formal program.

We rent new pianos at $4 per month and apply the rent on the purchase. Carriage free. Kohler & Chase, 275 Washington street.

Three new Caruso records in three different languages

A charming ballad in English, a lovely operatic aria in French, and an amusing Neapolitan song. All sung as only the great tenor can sing them.

A new Lucia Sextette with Tetrastini, Caruso, Amato, Journet, Jacoby, and Bada

Another "all-star cast" record of this magnificent ensemble. Especially interesting because it marks the first "appearance" of Tetrastini and Caruso in the same record.

Hear these records at any Victor dealer's, and ask him for an April supplement which contains a complete list of new single- and double-faced records, with a detailed description of each.
