

BEAVERS ON WAY HOME AFTER SLIM SERIES WITH OAKS

Drop Two Games in One Day Because Pitchers Are Not In Form; McCredie Still Has Hopes.

San Francisco, April 15.—Defeated but not discouraged, the Portland Beavers left for home last night after having dropped the five games played to the Oaks and being firmly stationed in the cellar.

Ability to hit and pitch is responsible for the status of affairs and outside of Krueger and Chadbourne, who were way up the list, the champion willow widders looked like a lot of grammar school boys before the Oakland beavers. The morning score was 9 to 2 and the afternoon 6 to 4.

In the afternoon the Beavers were 4 to 1 at one stage of the game, but Harkness, who relieved, and five runs were across. Steiger finished the game.

Manager McCredie hopes to find three experienced players on hand to greet him when he lands there tomorrow morning. While the Beavers have had hard luck in losing, McCredie as well as local critics are certain that once the champions strike their stride they will be up among the leaders.
