stirly in pink roses, carnations of the same shade and palms. Mr. and Mrs. E. Harding, who are the bride and groom, were the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. James I. McKinnon, parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. McCallum joined the wedding party in receiving. The hospitality of the dining room was dispensed by Mrs. Percy Wilson, bridesmaid (Miss Hannah Connell), Mrs. Millard Holbrook, Mrs. Allan Milworte of Oregon City and Mrs. J. A. McKinnon. They were assisted by Miss Evelyn Harding and Miss Ruby McKinnon. Lunch was served on the landing of the stairs by Miss Josephine Miller and Miss Edith Brederlove. The bride's bouquet fell to her sister, Miss Margaret McKinnon. Mr. and Mrs. Harding left for a wedding journey of indefinite length in Washington and Idaho.

A simple wedding marked the nuptials of Miss Clara Howell and George C. Luders, which were solemnized Wednesday at 2 o'clock in the Hawthorne Park Presbyterian church by Rev. E. Nelson Allen. The bride wore a smart tailored suit of blue, with white collar and cuffs. Her flowers were a corsage of lilacs of the valley. Mr. and Mrs. Luders left at once for their wedding journey in British Columbia. After May 15 they will be at home at 418 East Madison street.

One of the very pretty weddings of the week was solemnized Wednesday evening at 8:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Otten, when Rev. Benjamin Young read the service which made their daughter, Mary, the bride of Mr. and Mrs. Harding. The dining room and sitting room were beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and bridal white developed with roses, carnations and bouquets of cherry blossoms, with tiny white flowers that sparkled through the flowers. Flowering currant, pink hydrangeas and pink azaleas were used in the reception hall with the small pink lights used among the decorations. The punch room was all in yellow daffodils and Scotch broom. The bride was charming in her wedding gown of white chamois satin, with a train of white chamois satin, and with a small corsage of orange blossoms and her long veil was crowned with myrtle and lilacs of the valley. She carried a shower of lilacs of the valley and wore the bridegroom's gift, a necklace of diamonds and pearls. Miss Jean Dunbar attended the bride as maid of honor. She was gowned in a French combination of pink satin with touches of blue and carried forget-me-nots. Miss Dorothy Eichenlaub of Vancouver, Wash., the bridesmaid, wore an imported Swiss embroidered in pink and carried pink roses. Little Miss Maxine Schott was the attractive flower girl. She wore a pretty frock of white and carried a basket of "cecil Brunner" roses. Robert Gordon acted as best man. Carl Denton played the wedding march, and before the ceremony Miss Maxine Dunbar sang "Because."
