Resume of the Events of Friday Afternoon and Night, Paraphrased for Quick Digestion by Journal Readers.

Congressional

Senator Chamberlain's bill asking that an additional $10,000 be added to the appropriation of $45,000 heretofore granted for the construction of a federal building at Albany, has passed the senate.

Foreign

The bombardment by Italian warships of the Dardanelles forts a week ago was much more serious than officially admitted.

Pacific Coast

While playing with his little sister on the bank of the Willamette river near his home in Albany Friday, Gibson, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Gorham, lost his balance and fell into the water, where he drowned before help could reach him.

Eastern

Dan Tiberken, a rich farmer of Wellford, Kan., shot Charles Hurt, a hired hand, twice in the back Friday, when he found him at his home.

Two Women Testify

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Their Health—Their own Statements Follow.

New Moorefield, Ohio.—"I take great pleasure in thanking you for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had bearing down pains, was dizzy and weak, had pains in lower back and could not be upon my feet long enough to get a meal. As long as I laid on my back I would feel better, but when I would get up those bearing down pains would come back, and the doctor said I had female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was the only medicine that helped me and I have been growing stronger ever since I commenced to take it. I hope it will help other suffering women as it has me. You can use this letter."—Mrs. CASSIE LLOYD, New Moorefield, Clark Co., Ohio.

Read What This Woman Says: South Williamstown, Mass.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound certainly has done a great deal for me. Before taking it I suffered with backache and pains in my side. I was very irregular and I had a bad female weakness, especially after periods. I was always tired, so I thought I would try your medicine. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt so much better that I got another and now I am a well woman. I wish more women would take your medicine. I have told my friends about it."—Mrs. ROBERT COLT, Box 45, South Williamstown, Mass.

Present conditions at Magdalena bay, Mexico, are reported as follows in a special dispatch to a San Francisco paper from an expedition of three staff correspondents: "An extensive concession of timber and agricultural lands, accompanied by a grant of fishing rights for 100 miles from Manzanilla to Salinas Cruz, was obtained through the Japanese ambassador to Mexico last year. Thirty Japanese scientists are now on the ground making elaborate surveys, among them Katsuyo Tago, official representative of the Japanese government. The concession was made to a private company backed by Sohichiro Amano, president of the Oriental Steamship company, and a wealthy banker."

That the war in China has not entirely demoralized business in the celestial kingdom is shown by the fact that a large party of Chinese business men, representing the Consolidated Chambers of Commerce of China, has accepted the invitation of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific coast to make a tour of the United States.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Curtis has come to the aid of pipe smokers by amending the customs regulations so as to authorize adult travelers in bringing into the United States free of duty three pounds of prepared smoking tobacco, in lieu of the permitted 50 cigars or 300 cigarettes.

The bombardment by Italian warships of the Dardanelles forts a week ago was much more serious than officially admitted.

Dr. W. Yen Wei Chang, who was educated at the University of Virginia and was second secretary of the Chinese legation at Washington under Dr. Wu Ting Fang, has been appointed vice president of the Chinese foreign board.

It is understood in Paris that the powers are considering the matter of advising Italy to force the Dardanelles or definitely abandon the plan, as her present indecision greatly embarrasses international shipping.

Reports are received from Tungan, on the east coast of Kwangtung province, that serious disturbances have resulted from an attempt to collect the linen, or transit taxes. All traffic has been suspended.

Whereas, The bill in congress known as "The Lever Extension Bill" or H. R. 22,871, is now under consideration.

This bill provides for an annual appropriation from the United States government of $10,000, to be increased by the amount of about $200 per year for the state of Oregon, for a period of ten years, on condition that the state make an equal appropriation to the Oregon Agricultural college, said sum to be used for the support of college extension work in agriculture and home economics, to convey practical information to the farmer and home by field demonstration, publication, and otherwise.

Therefore, be it resolved by this body, the Oregon-Portland Business Men's excursion, that said appropriation would be of great value to the state of Oregon, and we would, therefore, urge our members of congress to use their best efforts for the passage of this bill.

Yesterday afternoon William Hanley, Dr. A. C. Smith, Judge C. H. Carey, President Carl R. Gray, of the Hill lines in Oregon, and President P. L. Campbell of the University of Oregon spoke to the student body of the college. Mr. Hanley invited each and every one to come and stay a week or two this summer on his immense Harney county ranch.

I was conveyed to Holloway prison, we sang the Marseillaise on our way to the jail. We were hurried to our separate cells.

We communicated with our fellow suffragettes by means of brown paper megaphones, through the window gratings, in accordance with the pre-arranged plans, during the first week we refused to attend chapel or to work. No real effort was made to force us to do so. Later I and a number of others did light work, such as sewing and knitting thereby earning a one-third remission of sentence.

Makes American Flag. I made an American flag from my handkerchief, getting the red striping by using a book cover, and the blue field by using a piece of my clothing. I placed six stars in the corner, instead of 48—one for each of the suffrage states of Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, Washington and California.

This flag was confiscated by the matron in charge of our ward. The officials considered such prison discipline reasonable. They winked at hard labor clauses in some of the sentences.

We declared a "hunger strike" for the purpose of protesting against the government's refusal to recognize us as political prisoners. The prison doctor marked me out upon whom forcible feeding would be put into effect. Fortunately the government made us concessions; the strike was declared off, and I was spared this experience.

April 19 I received all the letters for me which had accumulated during my six weeks' imprisonment, including a request from the United Press association for a statement.

Many Women Faint. Last Sunday's chapel service was so long that many women fainted.

In the meantime my mother had hastened to England, and sought my release through the United States embassy. She was told that she would be allowed to visit me if I promised not to participate in any further suffrage demonstrations. I refused.

The next day my mother applied personally at the British home office and on condition that I would agree not to commit any willful damage in the future. I refused, maintaining that I had not committed any damage.

Way is Clear for Hood River Road. Hood River, Or., April 27.—The last obstacle to the building of the Portland-Hood River road around Shell Rock was removed this week when the O. W. R. & N. company accepted the right-of-way surveyed by County Surveyor Murray Kay. Only one change was asked by Chief Engineer Boschke of the railroad and the county court is prepared to acquiesce in this.

County Judge Culbertson, Mr. Kay and W. L. Clark returned yesterday from Portland, where they attended a conference with the railroad officials. The only point at which the route of the road must be changed is at the siding rock just east of Shell Rock. Here the railroad insists that the county's road must be constructed above its retaining walls, which were constructed at large expense to hold back the masses of loose rock. This change will entail an additional expense on the county of about $2000.

The matter has been referred to Superintendent O'Brien of the O. W. R. & N. for final approval. It is expected this will be resolved next week, when a body of convict will at once be brought to Shell Rock and work started.

Hectored Principal to Give Up Teaching. (Special to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., April 27.—Principal F. C. Heck of the Walla Walla high school, whose effigy was burned by members of the high school student body last fall, after the expulsion of several members of the football team who came to their classes in dress suits, last night tendered his resignation, to take effect at the end of the present school year. Dan R. Millikan, instructor in history also resigned.

Principal Heck, who is a graduate of Yale, stated in resigning that his action was taken for what he considered the good of the school. Since the effigy burning last fall there has been constant friction between some of the student body and the faculty. This friction has extended to the parents of the students and realizing that the school cannot continue in the best advantage under the existing conditions, Principal Heck resigned.

He says he will give up teaching.
