Spring Activity Unusual for the Past 30 Days-City Dwellers Among Those Who Are Securing Tracts.

One of the prominent features in this spring's development in country lands is the large number of newcomers who are securing small tracts of 2, 5 and 10 acres in preference to the old style idea of 20 and 20 acre farms.

Just as marked is also the idea of many city people of accoring small places of land adjacent to Portland and conveniently located as to transports-

The reason seems to be that discriminating buyers are convinced that the small piece of land with good soil, near a large city and intensively cultivated will produce more actual reso close to the city and farmed accord, ing to the old rotation method.

J. Fred Larson of Combdenstock & Larson, reports a healthy demand for ing from tuberculosis, cancer, paralysmall acreage conveniently located with als, theumatism and locomotor staxia reference to transportation to this city, Smith was born and reared a farmer. While discussing this feature of the lo- He is at years old. He followed the
