

Government Officials Lax in Enforcing Grazing Rules, Says Writer.

Paulins, Or May 25 .- To the Editor of The Journal-I recently altempted to sail a meeting of my neighbor farmare and atorizmen to discuss the nonsufpreement of our national grasing regulations in a public friendly way that we might decide on some plan action that would cause a more just administration of regulations so that small owners and homeateaders would really receive some encouragement to grew stock. Through bad weather and the knocking by enemies of good goy erament and progressive ideas the meeting was a failure. The few who came did nothing. I at once sent your paper a letter for publication and wrote to the secretary of agriculture, giving him some very plain facts expressed in a plain straightforward manner. I have also sent a petition, signed by a number of farmers and small stockmen, showing that the facts as presented by me were substantially true, and similar petitions written by me are being aigned in another neighborhood which show that they also need protection from large stock owners.

Will Make Affidavits.

I have in my possession a very lengthy report from Acting District Forester P. E. Amos, in which he seeks to show to Secretary Wilson that I have ne grounds on which to base these com-plaints and that I have misrepresented the conditions of affairs. I expect to substantiate what I have said with affidavil, and I feel sure that it can be proved that conditions are even worse than I have represented them to be. I shall ask that an investigation be made that the whole people of Oregon may learn of the true condition of affairs. I wish to say right here that Mr. Ames' report is unfair, incomplete, incorrect, and misleading and that he is either not a fit person to fill the position that he occupies or the under officials (supervisors and rangers) have failed to perform the duties they are paid handsome salaries to perform

I desire that the state demand a thorough investigation. If I have misrepresented as government officials are trying to show that I have, I deserve punishment and it has been promised ma. On the other hand I demand that goy. ernnment officials get what is rightly due them
