Tanglefoot By Miles

When is money tight? When the purse is full! That's a punkish wheeze for a guy to But had I told it in 'slxty-four,

I'd have grabbed a grin if nothing more, Why is money worn? 'Cause it's always spent! That joke won't bring me a single cent. I should have told it in eighteen-ten, But I wasn't working for The Journal

One of the saddest things we ever saw was a fat man trying to look cute.

The man who begins at the bottom of the ladder won't have so far to fall. When you nail your flag to the top of the pole don't forget to clinch the nails. If a woman is color blind she is apt to get more on one cheek than on the other.

The one thing a woman can't understand is how a man can open a telegram without getting nervous. If a man is unable to beat a woman in What Was Coming to Him. From the Youth's Companion. A farmer driving along a country oad was thus rudely accosted by a young man he met: "Hello, Reuben! Give me a lift to lightstown, will you? I might as well ide with you as walk." So the young man climbed up, and eguiled the way with lively chatter. After a few miles had been traveled, he

"It's quite a distance to Hightstown, isn't it? It's a good thing for me that I met you." "It is quite a distance," answered the farmer.

After a few more miles, the young man asked, "Say, farmer, how far is it to Hightstown, anyway?" "Well, replied the farmer, "keepin" right on the way we're goin' now, I sh'd say 'twould be about : 4,000 miles or so; but if you wanted to git out and walk

In Wonderland

(Contributed to The Journal by Walt Mason, the famous Kansas poet. His proce-poems are a regular feature of this column in The Dsily Journal.)

"Come hither, son," the father said, "and on your way don't tarry; your conduct bows my old gray head, adds to the griefs I carry. My cup of sorrow is today quite full and overbrimming; this morn you heard me plainly say that you should go a-swimming. Then I Began my daily task supposing you would mind me and in the river duly baskyour wayward actions grind me! spent the morning pulling weeds and hoeing in the garden; for such disgraceful, lawless deeds you cannot hope a pardon! You're growing worse, year after year; your course-you can't defend it; last summer when the show was here I said you must attend it. But did you seek the circus tents to hear the clowns a-joshing? You stayed at home to paint the fence and help your mother washing! You pay no heed to what I say, you care not what I'm wishing; I ordered you but yesterday to spend the whole day fishing; again my wishes you withstood, my admonitions spurning; you sawed a pile of kindling wood and did the weekly churning! How sharper than a serpent's tooth is wayward son or daughter! So I must chasten you, rash youth, with this old wet elm awatter!"
