"WE MUST LIVE CLOSE TO GOD," SAYS BISHOP SCADDING TO CLERGY

Church Can Live Without Preaching, but Couldn't Do Without Prayer, He Asserts

Bishop Scadding has addressed the following to the clergy of the diocese of Oregon:

"In living close to God we shall be standing shoulder to shoulder for his church, and we shall learn of him how to exercise our ministry. Remember Christ gathered his apostles into companionship with himself before he gave them commission to go forth. He restrained men who were eager to preach an incomplete gospel. No apparent urgency of work may lawfully divert or withhold us from these devotions and studies that deepen our association with our Lord. We must be constantly with him, since we have to go forth from him and witness to him. Activity and zeal have place in the Christian ministry but its main characteristic is 'the Spirit of Christ,' and this can be sure only through prayer and meditation and disciplined and sacramental. Spiritual character is the effective force of Christian witness bearing.

Work of Christ.

"Sometimes I think the diaconate has ceased and that it has passed over into the episcopate for the modern bishop has so much 'serving of tables' to occupy him. Pray for your bishop that he may have a wise and understanding heart, that he may be to the flock of God a shepherd.

"Let us all realize the momentousness of our calling and vocation. The work of Christ is in our hands. He himself has declared this in plain terms, 'All authority is given unto me in heaven and in earth, go ye therefore into all the world.' Every act of authorized ministry has that sanction and support. We must know how much has been put into our hands. It is a strange mystery that so much of divine blessing and eternal happiness for so many people must, humanly speaking, depend upon the view that one man takes of his ministry. The pilot that mistakes his course, the doctor or dispenser that by loss of memory mixes his poisons with his drugs, the officer that misunderstands his commander's order in a crisis of battle, can work no such havoc as a parish priest who misreads his commission or misknows his responsibility.

Counting the Treasure.

"It is wonderful that God should have put the heavenly treasure into earthen vessels; let us not count the treasure earthen because he has condescended so greatly. As the father sent the son, so the son has sent us. Our ministry is his and what we do is his deed.

"Let us remind ourselves constantly that the church might live without preaching, but could not live without prayer for a single day; let us make full proof of our ministry as intercessors. It is our blessed privilege to stand before God in the name of our people, to invoke his blessing on their souls and bodies, their homes and goods, their employments and interests. Job rose up early in the morning and offered burnt offerings for his seven sons, for said Job, 'It may be that my sons have sinned and forsaken God in their hearts,' and this did Job continually (Job 1:5.)

"We in our apostolate must have such thought for our people and pray for them even though they may not pray for us. We in our ministry plead Christ for our people in union with his constant intercession. If we are not surrounded by large congregations or many parishioners, is it not far better that we are identified with the one? If our ministry is unpopular, is it not better that it is effective and acceptable with God? We shall gather from our prayers incentives and inspirations for witness bearing, we shall gain for our people helps and blessings we could secure for them in no other way and we shall keep astir the spiritual influences which bind our flock to the heart of the father."

Anniversary Sermon

In honor of the first anniversary of the opening of his pastorate, Dr. John H. Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, will preach a sermon on the work accomplished during the past year, and the outlook and plans for the future. Dr. Boyd came to this city a year ago from the First Presbyterian church of Detroit, Mich. Since assuming the pastorate the church has shown an excellent growth, 240 being added to the membership roll. Still greater effort will be made in the fall to increase the work of the church when the new parish house is completed and dedicated.

Children's Day

Children's day will be celebrated at the Sunnyside Congregational church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. A service of special interest to parents and friends is anticipated from a program of unusual attraction prepared by the teachers of the various classes of the Sunday school. There will be graduation exercises showing gratifying results in Bible study among the younger scholars as well as recitations and musical selections from the advanced classes. The school in a body will march into the auditorium from the lecture room at 11 o'clock sharp.

Rev. Mr. Wirth Ordained

On next Wednesday Rev. H. C. Wirth, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church, is to unite with the Portland Congregational association. Mr. Wirth was ordained at a meeting of the association in the church last Wednesday afternoon at which he was examined for nearly three hours. Fifty members of the association were present. Following the examination a banquet was held and in the evening the impressive ordination service was held.

Mr. Wirth was called to the pastorate on December 1, 1911, from Grand Rapids, Mich. He was formerly a Methodist minister and was a member of the Michigan conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, being ordained by that body in 1908.

Owing to the fact that the Rose Musical Festival is to be given under the auspices of the Multnomah County Sunday School association and for the benefit of Sunday school work throughout the state, all pastors, Sunday school superintendents and friends of the work are urged by Albert Ehrgott, who is in charge, to give the event as widespread notice as possible. The festival is to be held in the Gipsy Smith auditorium Friday evening, June 7, Saturday afternoon and evening, June 8, and Tuesday afternoon, June 11.

Owing to extensive repairs, which are being made at the Church of the Strangers, United Presbyterian, no services will be held tomorrow. The repairs will take several weeks for completion and the church will be closed for some time. Over $2000 is to be spent in renovating the church, both inside and outside.

Strawberries and cream are to be served at a social next Tuesday evening at Grace M. E. church. The social will be taken as an occasion for the gathering together of all members of the church for the discussion of church matters.

The choir of Centenary M. E. church will sing the oratorio, "The Holy City," tomorrow night in place of the regular service.

TO LECTURE ON "WHY MAN WAS CREATED"

W. E. Van Amburg.

A lecture of exceptional interest is scheduled for 3 p. m. Sunday at the Odd Fellows' hall, East Sixth and East Alder streets, when W. E. Van Amburg of Brooklyn, vice president of the Brooklyn Bible society and national lecturer for the International Bible Students' association, will speak on "Why Man Was Created."

No lecturer is more widely and favorably known among Bible students. Possessing a powerful but pleasing personality, of remarkable executive ability, his years of active Christian service have eminently qualified him for the important position he now occupies. In addition to the meeting announced above Mr. Van Amburg will speak tonight and tomorrow night at 7:45 in the same hall. These services are entirely free and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Children's day will be observed a week from tomorrow morning at Grace M. E. church.

"Reopening Day"

"Reopening Day" is to be observed tomorrow at the Centenary M. E. church, East Ninth and Pine streets. The occasion will be a celebration of the completion of the extensive improvements which have just been completed.

The entire church has been renovated both inside and out, making the appearance very handsome. During the week a beautiful new carpet has been laid on the lower floor, the gallery and approaches have been recarpeted and other changes made.

A jubilee service will take place at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at which Rev. Delmar H. Trimble, pastor, will preach on the subject, "God With Us." Members of the official board and prominent lay members of the church will assist in the services. The day will also be in the nature of a homecoming day.

Centenary has developed remarkably in the past 20 months, since Mr. Trimble assumed the pastorate. The membership has more than doubled and the attendance has increased largely.

General Conference

Rev. C. O. McCulloch, pastor of the Clinton Kelly M. E. church, who has just returned from the general conference at Minneapolis which he attended as a visitor, will preach tomorrow evening at his church on the general conference. Mr. McCulloch has attended six general conferences, many of them as a delegate. Twice he was the leader of his delegation while a member of the Central Illinois conference and once as a first reserve delegate.

"The conference just closed was the greatest ever held," said Mr. McCulloch. "The attendance was immense and the treatment accorded the visitors by the people of Minneapolis was all that could be asked.

"The new resident bishop of Oregon, Dr. R. J. Cooke, is a very warm friend of Dr. Benjamin Young, of Taylor Street M. E. church. At one time he was one of Dr. Young's teachers. He has been book editor of the church for the past eight years and is one of the ablest ministers of the day."

PRIZES ARE AWARDED PRETTY BABIES; SHOW PROVES BIG SUCCESS

Exhibition in Church So Great That Promoters Are Taxed to Find Room for Tots.

When confronted by 85 pretty babies at the baby show given in the Anabel Presbyterian church last Wednesday afternoon the judges had their hands full. Three women, Mrs. G. A. Brodie, Mrs. J. D. Lee and Mrs. R. D. Radford, were selected as judges, as the men were all too bashful to volunteer. The show was attended by over 250 residents of the Anabel district.

The feature of the show was the entry of Richard Hoberg Moranda, six months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moranda of Ivanhoe, by his great grandfather, J. S. Day, 77 years old. Mr. Day resides with his daughter, Mrs. Dora Gerardy, 780 East Twenty-ninth street, grandmother of the little fellow. Mr. Day is a retired farmer but works each day and declares he will some day become a great-great-grandfather. He has four other great-grandchildren, Glenna and Verna Moranda, 8 and 3 years, and Ralph and Ruth Schad. When he told his grandchildren of the honor he received tears of joy dimmed his eyes.

The number of entries was so great that the show had to be moved from the basement of the church to the auditorium upstairs. A musical program and light refreshments added to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

The babies as they were entered were divided into various classes and the judging was done by class. There were four regular classes and two special prizes were awarded. Souvenirs were presented to each entry, but owing to the large number entered it was necessary for some to wait until more souvenirs could be secured.

The winners in the contest with the classes were:

Prettiest baby, 6 months to 1 year, Mildred Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Adams, 5424 Fortieth avenue southeast, age 7 months, weight 24 pounds.

One to 2 years, Guida Miriam Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith, 5040 Forty-first avenue southeast, age 17 months, weight 30 pounds.
