

CHICKENS ARE BRINGING RECEIVERS IN A VERY TIGHT POSITION

Unable to Find Buyers They Are Forced to Feed Offerings at Heavy Expense; Decline in Quotation Is Worst Ever Known Here.

Portland Wholesale Market.
Eggs steady.
Hens firm.
Chickens at bottom.
Shad prices opened.
Butter market good.
Dressed meats steady.
First watermelons in.
Car cantaloupes arrive.
Wool trade good.

There continues a further downfall of chicken prices in the front street trade. Efforts to sell at prevailing quotations have failed and practically every dealer along the street has a surplus on hand which he is forced to feed owing to his inability to find a buyer.

While a nominal amount of business was reported this morning with fancy hens at 12 1/2 to 13 1/2 a pair, only a small amount of business was done at this figure. Then it took exceptionally fine quality to find a buyer.

A present, as far as the chicken trade here is far the worse ever known by local handlers. Prices show a sheer drop of about a pound within a few days, although dealers have waited for a week. Several of the larger handlers are still carrying over chickens which they received 12 days ago.

There is practically no demand for ducks at any price and receivers of these do not want to do with the front street handlers make the request that country interests hold back supplies until they are wanted and much better values will again result.

WOOL MARKET IS VERY FIRM

Much strength is shown today in the wool trade throughout the country with buyers nursing any sale at 15 cents. The regular sales are being held at Baker today. A sale of 5,000 pounds is reported at Stirling, Mont., at better than 20 cents a pound.

RED ONIONS ARE LOWER

Another carload of new red onions came forward from California this morning and was quoted at 15 1/2 by the trade. The quality is excellent.

MEAT MARKET IS HOLDING

Prices in the front street trade for country killed meats are generally steady. Arrivals are quite liberal in all lines and the market is holding more than its accustomed supplies for this period of the year.

BUTTER MARKET IS STRONG

Considerable strength is showing in the butter trade. According to a leading city creamery, which has many out of the state, the market is holding easily at 23 1/2 a pound. Some northern demand is shown but it is not considerable.

FORECAST FOR SHIPPERS

Weather bureau sends out the following forecast to shippers: -- far north as Seattle against maximum temperature of about 55 degrees, northeast to Spokane 50 degrees, south to Portland 50 degrees, south to Stirling, 50 degrees. Maximum temperature at Portland to today, about 55 degrees.
