LAND FRAUD SUSPECT PUT UNDER ARREST

For advertising in the local papers that he had a large area of land located on which he would settle homesteaders at $16 each, the land had 40 acres in hand and each tract had a house already built; that he would file on the land and pay all fees for homesteaders on condition that they would agree to deed half of the land to him on receiving title, and offering to purchase the other half for $200, G. H. Marshall was arrested yesterday by the United States authorities. He will be given a hearing before United States Commissioner A. M. Cannon on a charge of using the mails to defraud. He was captured by the use of a decoy homesteader. He had received about a dozen answers to his advertisement, but had collected no money.

URGES T. R. TO TAKE PERSONAL CHARGE

New York, June 13.—The Evening Mail, the leading New York newspaper supporting Theodore Roosevelt's candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination, in today's edition, on its first page, says: "The Evening Mail has not believed it possible that a situation could arise in Chicago which would justify Colonel Roosevelt's presence there. But we now demand, in the name of the majority of Republicans in the Republican states of the north, that the individual cases of the north be taken into consideration. We will refuse to make it a trading stock for place, power or platform."

POLICE MAKE CLEANUP OF BIG GANG OF CROOKS

Probably the biggest cleanup of bunco men, pickpockets and petty thieves that the Portland police department has ever made in one night occurred last night, when the members of the detective and uniformed forces arrested 24 men, against most of whom vagrancy charges have been made, although some are charged with being out after hours and others with larceny. Most of these men have been attracted here by the Roosevelt festival, and are persistent visitors at such festivities.

Perhaps the most notorious of the men arrested last night are Jack Casey and James Miller, both well known characters, whose photographs adorn many rogues galleries. First of these is Joe Edwards and Albert Smith, arrested by Detectives Swensen and Maloney, are also known to be bad men, and have criminal records in the west. C. A. Crook, also a well known character, was arrested by the same detectives.

Washington, June 13.—A preliminary statement of the male population 21 years of age and over, distributed according to color, nativity and percentage for each state as a total and for each of its cities of over 25,000 inhabitants, as shown by the returns of the thirteenth census, has been issued by the bureau of census...

The potential voting strength of each state and city is expressed by the number of males 21 years of age and over, excluding the foreign born who have not become naturalized, or by the percentage of the total number of males of voting age. It represents, rather, the number of males who from the standpoint of age alone are eligible to vote, aside for any qualifications based upon education, length of residence or other considerations of the like nature imposed by the national or state governments.

GOVERNOR KILLS PRIZE FIGHT BILL

Phoenix, Ariz., June 13.—Governor Hunt today vetoed a bill passed by both houses of the state legislature, permitting prizefights of 25 rounds or less. No attempt will be made to pass the bill over his veto. The governor has sent a special message to the legislature, in which he quoted the present prohibitory law regarding prizefights, and said: "I could not, as governor of this new state, in the hour of its fame as a modern and progressive sovereign member of the union, approve so obvious a retrogression. To approve this bill would excite the vigorous and merited criticism of the nation. Arizona cannot afford it."

POSTMASTERS CLOSE CONVENTION TODAY

The meeting of the Oregon postmasters of the fourth class which ended at noon yesterday at the convention which opened yesterday, in a joint meeting with the Washington association, about 25 members of the Oregon association were present at Alley hall this morning.

R. Schaefer, of Linnton, was elected president of the Oregon association for the coming year; Rose Chisholm, of Monroe, vice president; William A. Morand, of Horing, secretary and treasurer; A. Adams, of Cascade Locks, and A. Mather, of Clackamas, members of the executive committee. Mr. Morand was also elected a delegate to the national convention of fourth class postmasters which will be held in Richmond, Va., next fall. Every effort will be made to bring the convention in 1915 to Portland or Seattle.

The three day meetings opened Tuesday with the Washington league in session. Yesterday the two leagues met together and listened to some interesting addresses. In the afternoon the Oregon postmasters were hosts of the Washington delegates on a "seeing Portland" car ride. In the evening a banquet was held at the Portland hotel. This morning's session was taken up largely with reports and business. Votes of thanks were extended to the local Y. M. C. for the courtesy of the officers of the Washington league, and to Postmaster Merrick, of the local office, for his courtesy toward the visitors. It was decided to hold the convention next year in conjunction with the Washington meeting at a place in Washington. Do be selected by the Washington league at a later date.

FARMER DIES IN WELL FROM POWDER FUMES

Newberg, Or., June 13.—Frederick C. Randall, a farmer living near Newberg, was killed by powder fumes Tuesday. Randall was working in a well, using dynamite. He descended into the well to check after a charge was exploded and he could not be removed in time to save his life. Randall came from Kansas some time ago and his family lives here.

FIGHT MADE AGAINST FLOOD

New Orleans, June 13.—A desperate fight is being made today to keep the flood waters of the Mississippi from inundating several valuable sugar plantations in the Fourche Parish. Hundreds of cattle, isolated, are almost certain to die of starvation.

ASSERTS MORGAN RESCHEDULED STOCK EXCHANGE IN '07

Washington, June 13.—A preliminary statement of the male population 21 years of age and over, distributed according to color, nativity and percentage for each state as a total and for each of its cities of over 25,000 inhabitants, as shown by the returns of the thirteenth census, has been issued by the bureau of census...

The potential voting strength of each state and city is expressed by the number of males 21 years of age and over, excluding the foreign born who have not become naturalized, or by the percentage of the total number of males of voting age. It represents, rather, the number of males who from the standpoint of age alone are eligible to vote, aside for any qualifications based upon education, length of residence or other considerations of the like nature imposed by the national or state governments.

CITIES HAVE LARGE VOTING POPULATION

There are in all 229 cities which had in 1910 more than 25,000 inhabitants, with an aggregate population of 13,843,816. These cities together contained in 1910 a total of 8,842,422 males of voting age, or 25.3 per cent of their combined population. For continental United States as a whole, males of voting age number 24,999,151 and constituted 24.4 per cent of the entire population, 81,973,169 in 1910.

Of the whole number of males of voting age in the 229 cities taken together, native whites of native parentage number 2,900,314, or 25.3 per cent; native white of foreign or mixed parentage, 5,942,907, or 23.3 per cent; foreign born whites, naturalized, 1,517,795, or 13.3 per cent; foreign born whites, not naturalized, 1,330,816, or 11.4 per cent; negroes, 519,444, or 5.4 per cent. The equivalent numbers and percentages for continental United States as a whole are: Native whites of native parentage, 12,211,731, or 49.3 per cent; native whites of foreign or mixed parentage, 4,498,966, or 16.7 per cent; foreign born whites, naturalized, 2,032,353, or 17.7 per cent; foreign born whites, not naturalized, 2,411,273, or 13.4 per cent; negroes, 2,469,827, or 8.1 per cent.

FOREIGNERS IMPORTANT FACTOR

The 8,004,422 males of voting age in the cities of 25,000 or more inhabitants constitute almost exactly one-third (33.3 per cent) of the total number of males of voting age in the United States. In the case, however, of native whites of native parentage the males of voting age in these cities constitute only 22 per cent of the total for native whites of native parentage. The proportion of foreign or mixed parentage the proportion is 65.4 per cent, for naturalized foreign born whites 61.3 per cent, and for foreign born whites not naturalized 82.5 per cent. For negroes the percentage is 21.1.

The total voting population of each state follows: Alabama, 1,217,111; Arkansas, 995,874; California, 920,387; Colorado, 271,448; Connecticut, 347,922; Delaware, 410,587; District of Columbia, 108,761; Florida, 214,195; Georgia, 670,615; Illinois, 1,745,182; Indiana, 822,434; Iowa, 603,672; Kansas, 508,529; Kentucky, 602,454; Louisiana, 414,919; Maine, 235,727; Maryland, 287,960; Massachusetts, 1,021,629; Michigan, 970,572; Minnesota, 642,669; Missouri, 973,062; Montana, 158,977; Nebraska, 353,676; New Hampshire, 136,685; New Jersey, 774,702; New York, 2,236,772; North Carolina, 1,038,434; Ohio, 1,484,185; Oklahoma, 447,266; Oregon, 267,188; Pennsylvania, 2,509,026; Rhode Island, 184,834; South Carolina, 335,046; Tennessee, 552,668; Texas, 1,003,367; Utah, 104,116; Virginia, 623,532; Washington, 441,294; West Virginia, 338,349; Wisconsin, 680,745.
