THE FRIEND WIFE

What is a friend? A friend is the one to whom you can go with every joy and sorrow.

It is one of the heart-breaking facts of matrimony that one of the first things that the average husband finds out is that he can't even go to the bank with his wife without being bothered.

When a woman wants to discuss a problem, she goes to her husband. She tells him all about it and he tells her all about it.

Women are not more fortunate in this respect. It doesn't take long for a clever woman to discover that if she wants her husband to discover that she is not so much as she looks.

When a woman wants to discuss a problem, she goes to her husband. She tells him all about it and he tells her all about it.

The romance of courtship is a tissue of chaff that wears to rags and tatters with a year or two of married life.

It is because there is so little friendship between husbands and wives that there is so little marital happiness.

"Lot in a Name," Says Woman Voter—"A Lot of Handicap."

Chicago, June 17.—No real friend will refer to us as a suffragette or a suffragist. There is a lot in a name—a lot of handicap.

Mrs. Charles D. Blaney, national convention delegate from California, emphasized her point with a white-gloved finger.

"I am a Republican," she explained. "Why should a woman who votes or who wants to vote, assume a peculiar title? Women want to be known as women with their husbands and brothers, exactly as they go with them to church.

They put the same men with whom they deal in the every day walks of life. Since women began to vote they have found there is nothing extraordinary in politics. It is just an opportunity for women to do a little more good.

Women—home women, I mean—and this sort are in the majority—are interested in all that is best in our national life. They are opposed to child labor. They are for a better education. They are for a better government.
