

TILLAMOOK PORT REVERSAL GREAT DISAPPOINTMENT

No Harbor Improvement Likely to Be Begun This Year, Federal Grant Being Contingent on Local Money.

(Special to The Journal.) Tillamook, Or., June 19.—News of the Port of Tillamook decision received here today was a great disappointment to the citizens of this city. An adverse opinion was entirely unexpected, and therefore all the more discouraging. "The greatest blow ever given this district," was the opinion expressed by one business man, and this is the general belief.

It is now conceded that no harbor improvement work will be commenced this year. The federal appropriation if passed, will be contingent upon the raising of $100,000 this year by communities on Tillamook bay. Without the aid of the Port of Tillamook this is improbable. The Port of Bayocan has been dragged into court, leaving the Port of Bay City the only one prepared to go ahead with improvement work.

It is not known at this time what steps will be taken toward forming a new port or reorganizing to conform with the decision. The content of the opinion has not been received, and until its arrival no plans can be formulated.

CAMAS MAN BOOSTS FOR HIS HOME CITY

Fred B. Barnes, secretary of the Camas Commercial club, Camas, Wash., came to Portland this morning and secured acceptance from C. C. Chapman, manager of the promotion department of the Portland Commercial club, to deliver a talk at a banquet to be given by the Camas Commercial club next Monday night.

Secretary Barnes made the announcement that Camas is rapidly becoming one of the biggest paper manufacturing communities in the world, the daily output being 200 tons of newspaper and 1,000,000 paper bags. An immense machine is now being installed that will add 60 tons daily to the newspaper manufacturing capacity. It is said that this is the largest machine of its kind installed anywhere in the world.

"Camas has a monthly pay roll of $25,000," Secretary Barnes continued, "and that means a great deal, especially since the town lies in the heart of a very productive agricultural section. We have an active organization, but propose to increase the membership, and that is the purpose of the banquet next Monday evening."

The Camas Commercial club is affiliated with the Southwest Washington Development association.

MAN ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF A SEWING MACHINE AND COUCH

The suspect who broke in the front door of the home of Mrs. Owens J. McNamara, 1187 East Twenty-fifth street north, last Monday, stole a sewing machine which he carried on his shoulders five blocks to the home of Mrs. Harry Hamerstreet, 1233 East Twenty-fifth street north, and then stole a couch which he carried four blocks in the opposite direction to the home of Mrs. William Robertson, 801 Alsworth street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Litherland and Vaughn. The suspect gives the name of William M. Titus of Third and Jefferson streets.

The arrest was accomplished yesterday afternoon when the thief called at the Hamerstreet home to collect $5 which he had agreed to take for the machine. The robbery was discovered when Robertson identified the couch which his wife had purchased, as one belonging to Mrs. McNamara.

The McNamara home had been deserted for several days, while the small child of the woman was in the hospital and her husband was out of the city, and the woman was living with her mother, Mrs. Jones, of 148 Knott street. The front door of the home was completely shattered when entrance was gained.

Letter Sent in Fit of Anger.
United States Deputy Marshal Frank Beatty will leave tomorrow night for San Francisco with Charles M. Colgett, wanted in that city for sending an improper letter through the mails. The order for his removal was signed this morning by Federal Judge Bean. The letter in question is claimed by Colgett was sent in a fit of anger. He has made an excellent impression among the local authorities.

BARRELS OF FUN AT OAKS TONIGHT

Festival Chorus Benefit to Be Thriller; Monster Concert a Feature.

There will be a noisy lot of spicery at the Oaks this evening. One of the features to draw attention to the various shows will be C. C. Chapman's copyrighted "Ha ha," and it will be heard intermittently in different places on the grounds of the big amusement park this evening. When Chapman laughs his merry "ha-ha" everybody within a radius of 200 feet knows it.

Colonel C. E. R. Wood has consented to deliver one of his classic orations from a soap box in front of one of the concessions.

W. T. Buchanan, popularly known as "Buck," has volunteered to spool for the Cave of the Winds, and he is said that the winds in the cave will have to blow some if they are not to be outdone by "Buck's" hot air oratory.

J. Fred Larson will explain in ancient Norse the pleasures of the "Joy wheel" and George M. Hyland promises to rise to highest flights of eloquence in drawing business for the "chutes." Postmaster Charles B. Merrick will tell you how pleasant is the sensation of patronizing the "tickler."

Albert Ehrigott, Tom Richardson, Clark Williams, A. A. Schell, C. F. Berg, H. Lee Egert, W. C. Caswell and others who have requested that their names be withheld from publication as they wish to surprise their friends, will aid in arousing interest in the various entertainment features.

The reason for employment of all this misplaced talent is that this afternoon and evening half of the proceeds from all sources will be donated to the fund being raised to cover the deficit of the Rose Musical Festival concerts held in the Gipsy Smith auditorium during the Rose Festival week.

This afternoon the children's chorus will sing and tonight the mixed chorus of the festival will render several numbers under the direction of Frederick Elmer Chapman.

The concert given in the Gipsy Smith auditorium netted $116.81 in voluntary contributions. One man gave $16. He did not divulge his name but simply said he was from Canada.

Admission was free and about 1000 attended the concert, which was a musical success, indeed. The mixed chorus under direction of Director Chapman sang several numbers in fine style and the symphony orchestra, under direction of Carl Denton, pleased with several standard works. Signer Leonard, tenor, and Mrs. Millard Crockett Rodgers, soprano, sang a duet and solo very pleasingly, and Miss Carrie L. Atton, of Boston, proved herself an artistic violinist. W. L. Patton was piano accompanist. All those who took part Monday night generously donated their services.

Wireless in Africa.
From the Consular Reports. The railway and the telegraph are playing an important part in the economic conquest of Africa. Within the last few months two wireless telegraph stations have been established at Muansa and Buluba, German East Africa, by the government. Each of these has a radius of 600 kilo-meters (375 miles). Muansa is now the terminus of the land line of the German colony. According to newspaper statements a powerful additional wireless station will soon be opened at Tabora, equipped with apparatus for transmission to a distance of nearly 1000 miles. With this station in operation the merchants and authorities in German East Africa can communicate with the Cameroons, and thence by the German West Africa cable to Europe, and be in an independent position instead of having, as at present, to avail themselves of the English cable company's line via Zanzibar, Bombay and Aden or Suez and Cape Town.
