

U. S. S. OREGON TO REACH PORTLAND SUNDAY, JULY 7

War Vessel Detailed to Be in Local Harbor Elks' Week; Miniature of Ship to be in Parade.

The battleship Oregon, under the command of Admiral Reynolds, commander-in-chief of the Pacific reserve fleet, will be in Portland's harbor during the Elks' grand lodge reunion, July 8 to 12.

Through the efforts of Captain Speier and Ralph Moody, representatives of the Elks who visited Admiral Reynolds at Bremerton, and Oregon's representatives in congress, the navy department was persuaded to detail the historic war dog to this city.

"The detailing of the Oregon to Portland will demonstrate to the entire world that the Columbia river channel to the sea is deep enough for any ship," said Secretary Harry McAllister of the convention commission today. "When the big vessel is moored in the Willamette the evidence should be sufficient to kill for all time the libel concerning shallow water between Portland and the sea."

To Arrive Sunday, July 7.

According to the present plans, the Oregon will arrive at Portland from Bremerton, Sunday, July 7. A committee representing the Elks will go to Astoria and there board the ship and accompany it to Portland.

Admiral Reynolds told Captain Speier that he could not make the trip aboard the Oregon, but that he would arrive overland probably Tuesday, July 9, and transfer his flag from the Pennsylvania to the Oregon. He will be unable to make the journey, as the Montomara Festival at Tacoma will detain him.

The Oregon will be manned by officers and sailors from the Pennsylvania for the most part, and subordinate officers will be put in charge of the Pennsylvania.

At present the famous battleship is in drydock, being repainted and put in shape for the journey.

While in Bremerton, Captain Speier learned that the Bremerton Elks have reproduced the Oregon on a smaller scale and will enter the product of their skill in the parade in an effort to capture the first prize in the float division.

The miniature ship is 37 feet long and is made entirely of metal. Only Elks had any part in the construction of the "Baby Oregon," as it is called. Several months was consumed in making the tiny craft.

Legal Holiday Asked.

That every Elk in Oregon may be enabled to participate in the big parade or attend it Thursday, July 11, Secretary McAllister today addressed a letter to Mayor Rushlight and Governor West, requesting that July 11 be declared a legal holiday. Secretary McAllister has written to the Retail Merchants' association asking that the association join in a movement to close business establishments on that day.

George Baker, parade commissioner, said today that a list has been prepared and an Elk law and order committee of 100 will be appointed within a few days to cooperate with the police in keeping order and handling the crowds. As soon as the committee is appointed a meeting of the police commission will be held and the selected individuals will be appointed special police. This, in addition to 125 regular patrolmen that will be directed by Captain Moore, will be sufficient to handle the convention crowds, in the opinion of the Elks' officials.

The parade committee has its arrangements practically completed now. The $1000 float symbolical of Elksdom is nearly completed. It will appear on the night of Tuesday, July 9, when the Rose Festival electrical parade will be reproduced.

BIDS FOR FURNISHING FIRE WAGONS RECEIVED

More than a dozen bids were opened yesterday by the fire committee of the city executive board for the furnishing of fire fighting apparatus. The bids were for the most part very close and the awards to be made will in all probability be based on the durability, efficiency and economy of the apparatus.

This is the first time the city has advertised on a large scale for engines, wagons and trucks driven by gasoline power and marks the beginning of a modern epoch in the history of the fire department.

A gratifying feature of the opening of the bids was the great number received, showing that bidders have at last mustered up courage enough to break in on the almost exclusive business the representative of the American La France company has enjoyed in Portland for years. This is all the more pleasing to Mayor Rushlight and the fire committee because of the fact that an unusually large order for fire fighting machinery is to be filled at this time.

In the neighborhood of $70,000 is to be spent for eight auto combination hose wagons, two auto fire engines and a large aerial auto truck.

The bids for the combination hose wagons ranged from $5000 to $12000 each; for the engines from $1500 to $10,000; and for the truck from $11,000 to $12,000.

H. W. Mize of Seattle, who bid on two engines manufactured by the Waterous Engine Works, believes he has a decided advantage over other bidders for the reason that the engines offered by him generate 101 and 128 horsepower respectively, as opposed to types that generate only from 48 to 72 horsepower. He says his engines are operated on a basis of 600 revolutions a minute as opposed to from 100 to 1200 revolutions in all other makes. The reduced wear and tear by reason of the fewer number of revolutions is one of the strong features of his machine. All bids will be tabulated and submitted to the committee at its next meeting.

A lock that can be carried in the pocket, and which can be used on any door, has been designed for travelers who desire to guard themselves against intrusion when in a hotel room.

"PORTLAND NIGHT" TO BE CARNIVAL FEATURE

Tonight will be "Portland evening" at the carnival given by M. E. Thompson's Sunday school class on the grounds adjoining Pieterse Congregational church, corner of Shaver street and Missouri avenue.

The band of the First regiment Oregon reserves will give a grand concert at 4:15.

There will be an automobile parade along the principal streets of Alder, starting from Shaver street and Mississippi avenue at 7:30. The king of the carnival (Clarence Sigsbee) and the queen (Hortense Fishbein) will lead the procession in their royal robes, and the band will furnish music for the occasion, the public being cordially invited to participate in this parade, and can enter by telephoning W. K. Ogden, Woodlawn 102, who is grand marshal of the parade.

On account of the rain, the entertainments for Wednesday and Thursday evenings were postponed to next Monday and Tuesday evenings.

An ice automobile in Germany that is driven by an air propeller has carried six passengers at a rate of 40 miles an hour and with a single person has attained a 90-mile speed.

Some Time You'll Want a Home

Young man, are you spending all you make now?

—And as the only reward for it you're called a "good fellow" by those with whom you spend your money.

Remember this: Some day you'll want to make a different sort of impression—you'll want "some one" to think of you as able to do more than care for yourself with your salary.

Start saving now—and when the time comes to start a home you'll have the money—and save yourself the humiliation and worry of starting in debt.

The habit of saving will continue to help after that, too.
